QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, two years ago I had a dream, I visualized Pennsylvania participating in the New York World's Fair in a fashion commensurate with the importance of the Commonwealth. I could see an appropriate setting which would give us something in order to show to the world Pennsylvania's contribution to America's rich and colorful civilization.

On April 30th I saw that dream brought to a realization when Pennsylvania's building was thrown open to the general public. The exhibits, show that Pennsylvania has everything, from the Cradle of American Democracy in Philadelphia to the bustling industrial life in Pittsburgh, Scranton and other centers of the Commonwealth. The building is, first of all, a reverential treatise of Pennsylvania's glorious past and a living document of Pennsylvania today.

On Friday of this week the Governor of the Commonwealth will formally dedicate that building, and I want the members of the Senate, the members of the General Assembly who voted for the appropriation bill enabling us to put on this splendid display, to be there when the Governor formally dedicates the building. The Pennsylvania Commission has arranged to have a special train leaving the Pennsylvania Station at 7:30 a. m. Friday morning, arriving at the World's Fair grounds at 11:50. There is an elaborate program, in which the Governor of the Commonwealth, the President pro tem of the Senate, the Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker of the House, and possibly the United States Senators Guffey and Davis will participate.

We want to have a real Pennsylvania Day on Friday. We would like to know by noon tomorrow how many members of the Senate will make the trip, and we have arranged to have an agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad stationed in the chief-clerk office, the office of the clerk of the House, selling tickets, which will cost $9.55. The price will include a round-trip ticket from Harrisburg, a luncheon and a dinner in the World's Fair grounds. Myself and the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, who is a member of the Commission with me, are going to go around to the members of the Senate in order to determine how many members will make the journey.

The train is limited to the Governor and his official party, the newspaper men and their wives, the members of the Senate and of the House and their wives. We would like to have a real Pennsylvania Day on Friday, so when we go around we would like to have you tell us very definitely, so that we can make some definite arrangements with the railroad people. The train leaves Harrisburg at 7:30 daylight saving time on Friday, and arrives at the Fair grounds at 11:50, and will leave that night at midnight, daylight saving time.

Again I want to emphasize the importance of having a real Pennsylvania Day, and I want the members of the General Assembly to know that Grover Whalen has stated that Pennsylvania has unquestionably the outstanidng exhibit in the Court of States, and one of the best in the New York World's Fair.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I wish to take a few minutes to call the attention of the Senate to a situation that exists among the employees in the government of the State of Pennsylvania. Due to some condition or situation, of which I am not in a position to speak, the budget has been held up over in the Public Utility Commission. I am not interested in the higher salaried employees but I am interested in the situation in which some of the employees in the lower salaried grades find themselves. Today, at noon, I find that many of these young men and women, who are at best receiving a meagre salary, have borrowed funds to try to keep them here at work in Harrisburg, and others have not sufficient money to buy the necessary food to keep them at work; and I would suggest to the Senate that something be done so that these people may be able to receive some money to carry on; and if we cannot, at least we might ask Mr. Russell, over in Public Assistance, to loan sufficient funds to these people until the budget is approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. CROWE read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 1060, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections two hundred eleven and six hundred one of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 789), entitled, as amended, "An act relating to insurance; establishing an insurance department; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating to the licensing, qualification, regulation, examination, suspension, and dissolution of insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and certain societies and orders, the examination and regulation of fire insurance rating bureaus, and the licensing and regulation of insurance agents and brokers; the service of legal process upon foreign insurance companies, associations or exchanges; providing penalties, and repealing existing laws," by classifying agents; and fixing the license fees to be paid by soliciting agents.

Which was committed to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. STEVENSON read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 1061, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act, approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 91), entitled "An act relating to municipal indebtedness; imposing certain powers and duties upon the Department of Internal Affairs, and the officers of counties, cities of the third class boroughs, towns, townships, school districts of the second, third, and fourth classes and poor districts, in connection with proceedings to incur and increase indebtedness; and the establishing and maintaining of sinking funds; fixing the maximum maturity of refunding bonds; and providing penalties," increasing the power of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and adding a penalty for violating the provisions thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. EROE read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 1062, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act, approved the twenty-third day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight (P. L. 90), entitled, "An act authorizing the compromise of delinquent taxes on real property and the penalties, interest and costs due thereon before a tax sale of such real property, and providing the procedure in such case."

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to supplement the statement made by the gentleman from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, by calling attention to the budget which has been filed by the Governor with these Senators, for the 1939-41 biennium. In this budget there is included "estimated receipts from the Public Utility Commission, $3,184,000;" and in the same budget there is appropriated to the Public Utility Commission, $1,800,000.

Obviously most of the money the commission gets it receives from the utilities it investigates, and the utilities bear the burden according to the expenses.

Now, if the Public Utility Commission only receives $1,800,000 from this Assembly it will never be able to charge the utilities $3,100,000, and this budget is out $1,300,000, because they will never receive it.

I would like to further supplement the statements of the gentleman from Luzerne by calling attention to the fact that their compensation comes not from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but from the utilities which are examined by the Public Utilities Commission. They have been now, for several months, without money. The money comes not from the Commonwealth; and, obviously, the only reason there can be to continue to tolerate that condition is political—either to hamstring the commission or getting rid of some of the people so that the jobs can be given to somebody else.

REQUESTING PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION TO FURNISH LIST OF PERSONS ON PAY-ROLL NOT RESIDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. CAVALCANTE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 16, 1939.

Whereas, The most serious problem in Pennsylvania today is unemployment and,

Whereas, The Public Utility Commission of this Commonwealth in the discharge of its authority expends huge sums of moneys for wages and salaries to employees, and,

Whereas, It is desirable that such wages and salaries, where possible, be paid to competent citizens of this Commonwealth,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate of Pennsylvania that the Public Utility Commission be requested to promptly furnish to each member of the Senate the names and addresses of all persons on their pay-roll who were not residents of Pennsylvania at the time such persons were engaged.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I introduced a resolution yesterday, on behalf of the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, and myself, concerning the bond situation in this State. I received today about thirty resolutions from various organizations in my county complaining because of liens placed against 175 relief recipients.

I also received, for the first time, a copy of the bond they are required to sign. In order that the Senate of Pennsylvania may know exactly what is happening in the State of Pennsylvania I believe it will be proper at this time to read a part of this bond:

> "Know all men by these presents—that I, John Doe, of Westmoreland County, State of Pennsylvania, am held and firmly bound unto the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the sum of five thousand dollars lawful money of the United States of America to be paid to the said obligee, its certain attorney, successors or assigns; to which payment well and truly to be made, I do bind myself, my heirs, executors, and administrators, and each of them, firmly by these presents."

This is signed, of course, by the relief recipient, who must sign the bond to receive relief and then I read further:

And Provided Further, However, and it is hereby expressly agreed, that judgment may be entered immediately upon this obligation, and I/we do hereby authorize the Prothonotary of, or any Attorney of, any Court of Record of Pennsylvania, or elsewhere, to appear and to enter judgment against me/us for the said sum, with or without declaration, with costs of suit, release of errors, without stay of execution. I/we also waive the right of inquisition on any real estate that may be levied upon to collect this sum, and hereby voluntarily condemn the same and authorize the prothonotary to enter upon the fi. fa. my/our said voluntary condemnation, and do further agree that the said real estate may be sold on writ of fieri facias. I/we hereby waive and release all relief from any or all appraisement, stay or exemption laws of any state, now in force or hereafter to be passed.

I am only going to offer one resolution out of the lot, and that comes from the Loyal Order of Moose. I thought perhaps it would be more effective, coming from the foster organization of Senator James Davis, than coming from the United Mine Workers.

It has been called to my attention, too, that the waiver of exemption also takes away from them that which is given to everybody else in Pennsylvania, the exemption of $300 under the law.

I claim this is the most disgraceful piece of propaganda ever put forth in the State of Pennsylvania and that we are properly attacking the relief chiseler, but in so doing we are attacking decent American citizens who through no fault of their own are destined to become relief recipients because they cannot get employment.

The resolution I read yesterday should be called up and should be passed by this Senate, and get away from the thought there is political significance in everything we do.

I purposely kept the whereas clauses out of that resolution in order to get impartial and unbiased and non partisan consideration from the Senate.

I do not want to take up the time of the Senate, but I do ask that the resolution coming from the Moose organization be made a part of the record.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, together with the communication from the Loyal Order of Moose, will be entered in the Journal.

COMMUNICATION MEMORIALIZING GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO REMOVE BOND REQUIRED FROM RELIEF RECIPIENTS

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

Wyano, Pennsylvania

Mr. John H. Dent,
State Senator,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Whereas, The Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requires each and every relief client to sign a $5,000.00 (five thousand) dollar bond, and

Whereas, Ostensibly designed to crack down on chiselers, the relief bond will in reality wipe out thousands of small home owners and eventually pauperize large masses of Pennsylvania's citizens, and

Whereas, Not only does the relief recipients waive the right of inquisition that may be levied on and real estate to collect sums granted for relief, but other personal property can be attached for back payments on the grants and

Whereas, All recipients of state aid are required to reduce their insurance lodge policies to $500.00 which must be assigned to the estate. This means that the policy of a client automatically becomes the property of the Commonwealth when he dies, and

Whereas, Signing the bond not only obligates the recipient today, and for years to come, but it also shackles his heirs to this obligation purporting that a debt incurred during these depressed economic times can hang onto a family for generations, therefore be it

Resolved, That Yukon Lodge No. 442 Loyal Order of Moose at its regular assemblage on this 7th day of May, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine wish to express our remonstrance to the signing of the relief bond as required by the Department of Public Assistance, and be it further

Resolved, We take this occasion to memorialize our elected representatives and public officials in Harrisburg to use their power and influence to have this measure erased from Public Assistance law of this Commonwealth, and be it

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the State Assemblymen of this district, State Senator, Governor Arthur James and to the Department of Public Assistance.

ALFRED CICCI, Dec.
PETE RITZO, Secy.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I understand that it is the plan of the Assembly to adjourn next week. I believe it would be a matter of good policy to shove aside as many of these bills that are coming out of committee that do not mean a lot to the people of Pennsylvania and concentrate our efforts on the very important subject of relief, the also important subject of workmen's compensation, and the important subject of the regulation of liquor and malt beverages.

I believe, if we are going to adjourn the latter part of next week, and we hope to get good legislation for the people of Pennsylvania on those three very important subjects, we have got to give them a lot of time now—because they are important and as I look at the calendar day after day, I see a lot of trashy stuff on the calendar that this Assembly should not take its time to bother with. I know what will happen; we will come down toward the end of the session and these three very important subjects will be rushed through hurriedly, and, as a result, we will get some bad legislation; and I hope there is some way whereby we can sit down together and work out these important problems before we reach the last days of the session.

CONSIDERATION OF CALENDAR

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the Calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 433, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and five (P. L. 442) entitled "An act for the appointment and maintenance of a board to be known as the Armory Board of the State of Pennsylvania and for the payment of its expenses and for providing managing and caring for armories for the use of the National Guard of Pennsylvania throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making an appropriation for the same authorizing the State Armory Board to receive from counties cities municipalities and other sources donations or contributions for the purpose of this act" authorizing the Armory Board to accept donations and contributions from boroughs and townships and authorizing boroughs and townships to make such donations and contributions

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreebaly to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 311, on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by further regulating the incurring funding and refunding of indebtedness temporary and permanent the issuing of bonds by school districts the retirement of indebtedness and the borrowing in anticipation of current revenue go over in its order, as it is not up from the printer.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objectoin? The Chair hears none.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 474, on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend a part of section one of the act approved the fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 170), entitled "An act to regulate and establish the fees to be charged by justices of the peace and aldermen in this Commonwealth, and imposing liability for costs upon the county in certain cases", providing for the payment of costs in dismissed summary conviction proceedings go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, there is some doubt in my mind as to whether you can legally, in a summary conviction case discharge the defendant and put the costs on him. I have a couple of citations I want to look at, and I will try and do so between now and tomorrow.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 611, (House Bill No. 1063), as follows:

An Act to add section six hundred twenty-one and one-tenth to and to further amend section six hundred twenty-nine of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" defining and regulating group accident and health insurance and extending the exclusion of certain standard policy provisions to ticket policies sold to passengers by common carriers

NAYS—1

Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. You will be so recorded.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I observed with much pleasure the vote of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, on this bill. Some time ago he interrogated me as to whether or not I believed in union labor, and whether I believed in the check-off especially. I am mighty glad that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, has now joined with me, and does believe in the check-off. The bill he just voted for permits that very thing, in group insurance policies it permits the employer to check-off the premiums charged to the employee.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 611, (HOUSE BILL No. 1063)

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 611, (House Bill No. 1063), entitled:

An Act to add section six hundred twenty-one and one-tenth to and to further amend section six hundred twenty-nine of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insuarnce companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" defining and regulating group accident and health insurance and extending the exclusion of certain standard policy provisions to ticket policies sold to passengers by common carriers was passed finally, May 16, 1939.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye" "nay".

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "aye" "nay".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 621.1), page 8, line 11, by striking out the words: S "medical or surgical benefits"; amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 621.1), page 8, line 17, by striking out the words: S "service care or attention" and inserting in lieu thereof: "hospitalization"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, does the amendment take the check-off off.

Mr. OWLETT. It does not, Mr. President.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 929, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections one thousand two hundred one one thousand two hundred five of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by defining professional employes substitutes and temporary employes and further regulating the employment dismissal suspension demotion and retirement of such employes

(3) Consolidation of schools whether within a single district through a merger of districts or as a result of joint board agreements when such consolidation makes it unnecessary to retain the full staff of professional employes

Whenever a Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) decreases the size of the staff of professional employes under the provisions of this act the suspensions to be made shall be determined by the county superintendent of schools or the district superintendent as the case may be on the basis of efficiency rank determined by ratings in accordance with standards and regulations determined by standard rating cards prepared by the Department of Public Instruction It shall hereafter be the duty of Boards of School Directors to cause to be established a permanent record system containing at least two ratings per year at least three months apart for each teacher employed within the district and at least once each year copies of all ratings for the year shall be transmitted to the teacher No teacher shall be dismissed under this act unless such rating records have been kept on file by the Board of School Directors

In cases in which suspensions are to be made professional employes shall be retained on the basis of seniority rights where no differences in rating are found Seniority rights shall also prevail where there is no substantial difference in rating In cases where there are substantial differences in rating of those under consideration for suspension seniority shall be given consideration in accordance with principles and standards of weighing incorporated in the rating cards hereinbefore referred to

When a teacher under tenure contract is certified in a field or fields in which his service are no longer needed because of reduction in size of staff for any of the foregoing reasons such teacher may be granted a temporary certificate for the field in which his services may be used for such reasonable period as may enable such teacher to qualify for the new field of service

No employe suspended as aforesaid shall be prevented from engaging in other occupation during the period of such suspension Such professional employes shall be reinstated in the inverse order of their suspension No new appointment shall be made while there are suspended professional employes available who are properly certified to fill such vacancies

(c) All hearings under the provisions of this section or any other section of the school laws pertaining to the dismissal or the termination of contracts of professional employes shall be public unless otherwise requested by the party against whom the complaint is made

(d) Before any professional employe having attained a status of permanent tenure is dismissed or refused reelection by the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) the secretary of the school district shall furnish such professional employe with a detailed written statement of the charges upon which his or her dismissal or refusal of reelection is based together with a written notice signed by the president and attested by the secretary of the board of school directors of a time and place when and where such professional employe will be given an opportunity to be heard either in person or by counsel or both before the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) Such hearing shall not be sooner than ten (10) days nor later than fifteen (15) days after such written notice At such hearing all testimony offered including that of complainants and their witnesses as well as that of the accused professional employe and his or her witnesses shall be recorded by a competent disinterested public stenographer whose services shall be furnished by the school district at its expense Any such hearing may be postponed continued or adjourned by agreement by the persons charged and the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education)

(e) The board shall have power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses at any hearing and shall do so at the request of the party against whom a complaint is made If any person shall refuse to appear and testify in answer to any subpoena issued by the board any party interested may petition the court of common pleas of the county setting forth the facts which court shall thereupon issue its subpoena commanding such person to appear before it there to testify as to the matters being inquired into Any person refusing to testify before the court shall be held for contempt All testimony at any hearing shall be taken under oath and any member of the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) shall have power to administer oaths to such witnesses

(f) After fully hearing the charges or complaints and hearing all witnesses produced by the board and the person against whom the charges are pending and after full impartial and unbiased consideration thereof the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) shall by two-thirds vote of all the members thereof to be recorded by roll call determine whether or not such charges or complaints have been sustained and whether the evidence substantiates such charges and complaints and in accordance with such determination shall discharge demote or refuse to reelect or retain such professional employe or shall dismiss the complaint

(g) No member of any Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) shall vote on any roll call if he is related as father mother brother sister husband wife son daughter stepson stepdaughter grandchild nephew niece first cousin sister-in-law brother-in-law uncle or aunt to the professional employe involved or to any of the parties instituting the complaint

(h) A written notice of any decision of the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) discharging or refusing to reelect a professional employe shall be sent by registered mail to such professional employe at his or her last known address within ten (10) days after such hearing is actually concluded

(i) In all cases where the final decision is in favor of the professional employe the charges made shall be physically expunged from the records of the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) and in all such cases there shall be no abatement of salary or compensation but a complete official transcript of the records of the hearing shall be delivered to the one against whom the charges were made

(j) In case the professional employe concerned considers him or herself aggrieved by the action of the Board of School Directors (or Board of Public Education) an appeal by petition setting forth the grounds for such appeal may be taken to the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Harrisburg Such appeal shall be filed within thirty (30) days of receipt by registered mail or the written notice of the decision of the board and a copy of such appeal shall be served by registered mail on the secretary of the school board (or Board of Public Education)

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall fix a day and time for hearing which shall be not sooner than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after presentation of such petition and shall give written notice to all parties interested

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall review the official transcript of the record of the hearing before the Board and may hear and consider such additional testimony as he may deem advisable to enable him to make a proper order At said hearing the litigants shall have the right to be heard in person or by counsel or both

After hearing and argument and reviewing all the testimony filed or taken before him the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall enter such order either affirming or reversing the action of the board of school directors as to him appears just and proper

The ruling or decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be final unless within thirty (30) days after receipt by registered mail of written notice of the decision or order of the Superintendent of Public Instruction an appeal which may be taken by either party is taken therefrom to the Court of Common Pleas of a county in which the district is located A copy of such appeal shall be filed in writing in the office of the prothonotary in the county and a copy shall be served on the Superintendent of Public Instruction either by filing the said notice of appeal in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction or by delivering the same to the deputy whether general or special before whom the hearing in the case was held

When appeal is taken from the decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the county court the judge of the court of common pleas to whom such petition is presented shall fix a date for a hearing by the court which shall not be sooner than ten (10) days nor more than twenty (20) days after the presentation of such petition If the professional employe aggrieved shall so request in his petition such hearing shall be de novo Upon the hearing of said petition the court shall make whatever order it considers just either affirming or reversing the action of of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and stating plainly whether the professional employe is to be discharged refused re-election or is to be retained

Section 3 No provision of this act shall be construed

as requiring any professional employe now under contract to serve any period of probation or to require or authorize any school district to deprive any present professional employe of any of the rights benefits or privileges herein accorded regular full time professional employes

Section 4 The provisions of this Act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court as to those provisions shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this Act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted by the General Assembly had such unconstitutional provision or provisions not been included herein

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, with reference to Senate Bill 929, which is one of the acts relating to teachers' tenure, in commending this bill to my colleagues I would like to say a word or two about it.

In the first place, the bill itself was framed as a result of a series of conferences between the four gentlemen who served as its sponsors.

I want to express my thanks and appreciation to those who took part in those conferences which were not only the four Senators but many others that were interested in the public school system. I never attended conferences which were conducted with a finer view of public service than those. As a result, this bill has developed.

The bill itself provides for certain changes in the contract status of the teacher, which I want to briefly summarize as follows:

First—and this does not apply to any teacher under contract at the present time—those who come into the system in the future come in under the label of temporary employees, and are required to give two years of satisfactory service before they receive a contract.

Second, in determining their satisfactory service the county superintendent is to report and give them a rating; and that principle of rating is applied to all the teachers in the system. I want to read this sentence from page 8 of the bill, which, to my mind, is the gist of the whole thing.

"In determining whether a professional employe shall be dismissed for incompetency the professional employe shall be rated by an approved rating system, which shall give due consideration to personality, preparation, technique and pupil reaction in accordance with standards and regulations for such scoring as defined by rating cards to be prepared, and to be revised from time to time by the Department of Public Instruction with the co-operation and advice of a committee appointed by the superintendent of public instruction, including representation from county and district superintendants of schools, class room teachers, school directors, school supervisors and such other groups or interests as the superintendant of public instruction may deem appropriate."

In that way we are providing for the gradual improvement of the teaching system, and it is done by a standard method, or a method which shall be eventually worked out by the superintendent and these others in consultation.

Third, with reference to the problem of the aged teachers it is, perhaps, known to every member of the Senate that the teachers retirement fund was established in 1919, and set up most carefully on an actuarial basis on the expectation that the retirement age would be sixty-two. It has been on that basis ever since, but a few years after there was an amendment passed whereby the teacher was given the option of continuing until seventy years of age. The school boards have asked for the option to determine whether a teacher shall continue between the ages of sixty and seventy; and in a compromise which was worked out only last week this proposition has developed as expressed in the bill—with the passage of the bill, sixty eight becomes the retirement age, and then in two years sixty six; and in two years more sixty four; and in two more years sixty two, staggering it into brackets, the idea being that eventually the retirement age will be sixty two, although at all times the board may extend that if for any reason a teacher is especially meritorious, when a teacher may continue in the service until seventy.

My feeling is that that inasmuch as retirement has been prepared on the basis of taking care of all of the teachers at sixty-two, this becomes an exceedingly fair feature.

Fourth, there is a change with reference to the procedure in the event a teacher is dismissed by the school board and takes an appeal. The first appeal is with the state superintendent of public instruction, or, rather from the school board to the state superintendent of public instruction. This is the plan which has prevailed in the State of New York, I think, for thirty-five or forty years—ever since they have had tenure—and it has worked out with unusual satisfaction, because it brings the appeal to a professional body, or to a professional expert. As a matter of fact, if the teacher feels there is prejudice on the school board against her, nevertheless the appeal to the state superintendent removes that element; and then there is a second appeal to the county board, where there may be a hearing de novo in the event anyone decides to take an appeal.

In the fifth place, the act contains elaborations of the principles that are to govern the retirement of teachers when there is a decrease in the number of teachers needed on account of a decline in the school attendance. That has become a serious problem, and the state department asked us in this act to make it clear as to the number of attendants, concerning which there has been controversy and the basis of that, I think, is worked out there is this kind of a provision; take a case where there is a school with seven teachers and it combines with another school with five teachers, and by reason of the consolidation two teachers must be dropped. There is a principle of economy involved.

Under this particular bill rating is the basis for determining which two shall be dropped. I think you will all agree that would be right; it would be a mistake to make seniority the only test, that might result in dropping two of the best teachers; and, from the point of view of the children, it is essential that the best instructor should be kept in the school. But the act itself is tempered in this way: if the two teachers who are to be dropped are of equal ability, seniority shall be considered and also the other elements shall be considered in determining the rating.

I want to say, Mr. President, that in submitting this bill on behalf of those who sat with me in the framing of it,

I want to ask all of the members of the Senate to regard this problem solely from this point of view: what is best for the public schools of the Commonwealth? My own love for the public schools has been referred to myself, perhaps, too often, but I regard the public schools as the most hopeful agency we have, of all the governmental agencies we have it is the one that builds toward the future; it is the one that provides for advancement; it is the one that gives a chance for a career; and in the service of the public schools we have a fine body of men and women in Pennsylvania.

While there has been a good deal of controversy on this subject, my own feeling is profound that the subjects of criticism are a very small percentage of school directors, and a very small percentage of the teachers. I believe that the vast majority of both of them are sincerely anxious to do a good job, and if by this act we can help them to do better work so that we are insuring a better education for the children, then, I think, Mr. President, we have a right to be proud of ourselves.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I find myself in the position in connection with these bills, of one who has proceeded in a cause with a definite purpose in view and then found that the results desired could not be obtained. Senator Mundy and myself—and I think in what I say I speak for him—were interested in one of the major problems in this whole situation, the one to which Senator Edmonds has referred, namely, while we are trying to build up on the one side the teacher situation, there is, too, another situation, where the school districts are continually coming to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for additional funds. Unless the consolidation of some of the schools, and a lessening of the classes can be brought about in a fair way, this continued appeal for supplemental funds will continue ad infinitum; and it was because of that State-wide phase of the picture that I proceeded to see if some solution could be reached.

Senator Mundy felt the same way about it. We had no desire or intent to disturb tenure, and I do not believe we did do it, and I do not believe that this bill does it. The teachers, however, seem to have come to only one conclusion, and that is that any bill passed which relates to tenure, disturbs it to their disadvantage.

They may know more about it than I do, and it is because I am not going to get into a quarrel with that picture, that I say—said last night, rather, I am going to let the teachers fight this battle themselves, and I am going to take myself out of the battle. They may be right in their position, I think they are wrong in one position, and that is, this: at the last discussion, the last conference we had to which the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, has referred, this bill, Senate Bill No. 929, was considered and every phase of it discussed, and as we took each subject up, the teachers who were represented—and I think I am correct in saying almost every group of teachers was represented—those teachers discussed and fought hard for their points. Most of them were granted, with one exception, I think, which dealt with the question of whether a teacher who is on a trial period of two years should get the same right to appeal, if she were dismissed before the two years were over; and I think there was a discussion with regards to that—that she has the same right of appeal because the act provides that this temporary teacher, except for tenure, shall have the same right as any other teacher who holds a contract, except for the right to demand a permanent contract, she would have the right of appeal and all the other rights of a teacher who has tenure. So I felt in my own mind there was no objection to that.

There was a discussion about seniority, and as the bill was originally drawn it provided that rating should be the test and not seniority, and the teachers raised some question about that, and we battled that out in the committee to find a way to satisfy the teachers and at the same time solve the problem, which was to avoid having more teachers than were necessary for the pupils, and at the same time retain the best teachers; and everybody had some suggestion to make, and the result of the suggestions are in the bill today.

While I cannot say that everybody got up and said, "I agree with that, it is fine and we will be bound by it," I can say nobody objected. When we left the room around nine o'clock everybody seemed to be satisfied that was the way to reach a conclusion, and that was the conclusion to reach. Now the teachers since then, some of them, think this is worse than Senate Bill No. 45, and think that this bill affects tenure, and they say they do not want me to take any part in these proceedings; and so, since they know more about it than I do, I am going to vote "present" on this bill and allow the matter to take its course.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on page 8 of the bill beginning at line three it says:

"In determining whether a professional employe shall be dismissed for incompetency the professional employe shall be rated by an approved rating system which shall give due consideration to personality, preparation, technique, and pupil reaction in accordance with standards and regulations for such scoring as defined by rating cards to be prepared and to be revised from time to time by the Department of Public Instruction."

I have before me a rating card designed by the Department of Public Instruction. I want to read to this Senate the qualifications that a teacher must have in order to be rated according to this card. I will start off first with "Definitions."

"I PERSONALTY"

"1. Appearance-Attractiveness; cleanliness; neatness; appropriateness of attire; posture.

"2. Voice—Rate of speech; distinctness of enunciation; flexibility; pitch; tone.

"3. Power—Health; vigor; initiative; command.

"4. Character—Tact; kindness; optimism; sense of humor; justice; integrity; morality.

"5. Co-operation—Sympathy; open mindedness; cheerfulness; loyalty; cordial working relations with pupils, colleagues and superiors."

If that is not enough I will go over to the second schedule:

"II PREPARATION"

"1. Command of English—Clearness; accuracy and fluency of diction; absence of grammatical errors and colloquialisms; unity and coherence of ideas; appropriateness and force in choice of words.

"2. Specific knowledge—Accuracy, quantity and organization of the lesson's subject matter.

"3. General Scholarship—Breadth of information; sense of relative values; power of logical thinking.

"4. Professional equipment—Knowledge of current educational theories and practice; knowledge and use of educational psychology; improvement with experience.

"5. Citizenship—Sense of civic responsibility; participation in community activity; evidence of right civic thinking and teaching in class room."

"III TECHNIQUE"

"1 Room conditions—Hygienic conditions; attractiveness; order; adaptations of furniture and equipment to specific needs.

"2. Selection and organization of subject matter—Definiteness of aim; adaptation to pupils' interests, needs and capacities; skill in questioning.

"3. Resourcefulness—Sense of proportion; treatment of answers; use of illustrative material.

"4. Motivation—Recognition of pupils' apperceptive bases; relation of lesson to pupils' interests; use of problem method.

"5. Conclusiveness—Each lesson a unit; pupils' sense of something done; results secured."

"IV PUPIL REACTION"

"1. Efficient functioning of habits and skills—Promptness, regularity and good form; respect for self and for the school authorities; skill in the arts.

"2. Command of subject matter—Good lesson preparation; accuracy and availability of information."

"3. Thinking ability—Recall and selection of significant facts; coherence of ideas; ability to draw sound conclusions.

"4. Expression—Clearness, grammatical correctness, precision and conciseness in use of English; good vocalization and bodily attitudes.

"5. Tastes, appreciations and ideals—In literature, art and science; evidence of thoroughness, integrity and fairness."

Then, if that is not enough, it says to see the reverse side.

I do not see how anybody that is a normal human person could qualify under this rating scale if someone did not want her; if there is not one little point in this qualifying scale to throw the teacher out, they would have some other schedule made up.

I think it is only asinine; to compel a teacher to be rated according to these qualifying requirements is asinine.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, is it effective now?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is effective right now.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say that this rating card form which the Senator is reading has been used for about fifteen or twenty years

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. EDMONDS. And Mr. President, it is being used in a great many school districts at the present time. It was thought, by the sponsors of the bill, that it would be better to have a Pennsylvania system of rating developed here, and that is the reason in the bill we provided that the state superintendent should call in the representatives of all the teaching bodies and thereby make a standard rating for Pennsylvania. I do not think it would be the same as the one from which the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, has read.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, what is that?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I do not think it would be the same as the one from which the Senator from Westmoreland read.

Mr. DENT. But, Mr. President, the law does not specifically state they cannot use this rating.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it does not specifically say they cannot use it, but it does say the committee shall work out an adequate system of rating.

Mr. DENT. Well, Mr. President, if they have used it for fifteen years in the State of Pennsylvania, then the Department of Public Instruction evidently thinks it is adequate.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it has been used in the State of Pennsylvania in some districts it has not been universally used.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, think that a teacher, under these particular qualifications, could dodge the wrath of someone who did not want her in the school?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I think it is important that the ratings of the teachers should be made; I think it is important that the teacher should continue to improve in her work; I think it is important that the teacher should be notified by the superintendent if she is sliding down.

The first thing that aroused me in this matter was when, a county superintendent whom I have known for twenty years and who has been a most efficient man, told me he had always gotten up self-improvement classes, with about fifty or sixty teachers subscribing, and that in the last year he had not been able to get even one. That I regard as a rather unfortunate for education.

There are new sciences, new arts, new ideas developing all the time, and they must be communicated to the children through the teacher. Therefore, it seems to me that some rating is essential in order to keep the teacher in touch with the improvement in her line of work, but I do not think it will be the kind of rating which the Senator from Westmoreland has read, which seems to me to be a little bit too psychological for the exigencies of the situation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, of course I only have this rating schedule before me, and I am going to vote "no" until I see something that will give the teacher a better break in the situation.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I know that the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, has a knowledge of the source of the teacher's rating history which took in algebra, trigonometry and calculus so I want to ask him if he knows of any similar rating card that could be used in an effort to secure a little higher type of school directors in Pennsylvania.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would say, beyond all question that is needed, too; but let us make this start and after you have made a start and it has worked successfully then let us try our hand at the other.

I would say, personally, I have been a school director and I have sympathy for their job, as well as for the school teacher; but it was not until the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, gave me one day a series of personal experiences that he had known in his county, it was not until then that that side of the proposition came to me with full force.

I, personally, do not want to destroy tenure in the slightest degree; I do not want to have the teachers themselves exposed to exigencies of either favoritism or politics, but I do want Pennsylvania teachers to be a continually improving group, and I think something like this is necessary if we are going to have the best kind of teachership.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I agree generally with the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds that our efforts should be toward improving the school system continuously. We may differ very radically as to how the improvement ought to be brought about and what improvements are needed. This whole structure of schools in this Commonwealth is very intricate.

I say that we cannot take all the foundation that was established a hundred years ago and upon it build a modern-day I mean Empire State Building I think that the conditions we are familiar with as existing in the school structure of this state satisfies a reasonable mind that there can be many improvements; but I am not ready to say that by jumping on to the teachers we are going to cure the conditions that need to be cured. If we are going to do a good job with our school systems it does appear that we should start to take this thing apart from the bottom and start to build a foundation that can hold the type of school system that the gentleman from Montgomery has in his mind.

I agree fully with the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, that the foundation part of our school system probably depends upon what the school directors have made it in years past. We cannot have a stream-lined school system with an ox-cart foundation below it.

There is no question that we have, over the State of Pennsylvania, many school districts that ought not to be in existence. I cater very strongly to the county unit of school systems, and the sooner we come to it the sooner we will be on our way toward achieving the school system that the gentleman from Montgomery has in mind.

This bill is not a movement in that direction yet; we will have to come to the point where we will have to abolish all school districts within the county and have but one school district within a county; and if we wish to preserve home rule in that system we can provide for the election of three school commissioners in a county. But I cannot see that we are on the right course by meddling with the tenure of the school teachers.

Sooner or later we will have to face this problem of the school teachers as we have faced it in other matters pertaining to the State. Last night, or early this morning, after the session, I lay in bed and read the policy of the Governor on this Van-Allsburg bill, and that his policy is that since the State furnishes the money for relief the State should have the control of this administration down in the counties; and I say that sooner or later, if we are sincere and honest in our opinions, that the school teachers must be brought under this strict supervision, as contained in this bill, we must also recognize the policy that the State contributes a large portion of the teachers' salaries—and I hope that the day will come when the state will pay all of the teachers salaries, and that the checks will come from the State Treasury Department, and that the teacher will become an employee of the State rather than an employee of the Board of School Directors in the county.

This bill that is before us, I say, is not a step in the right direction to achieve the school system that the gentleman from Montgomery has in mind. I listened very attentively to his discussion, and he stated that this bill will not effect the tenure of any present school teacher; but I say there must be some mistake in the legal construction on the or legal discussions of this bill, because there is not an act of the assembly that if passed that does not cover the entire subject.

If this bill is passed the provisions of it must apply to all school teachers even though they have their contracts now, because their contracts, if they have them, is because they were given to them by the Legislature, and their contracts are not such contracts as are protected by the Constitution, such that we cannot constitutionally take them away from them again. As we gave them the contracts, so can we take that contract away from them again, and when this bill is passed, which affects the contracts of the teachers, all these provisions pertaining to their eligibility and the manner of their removal must apply to these teachers that now have their contracts. So I say it is idle to say if this bill is passed it will have no effect upon the teachers who now have contracts with the school districts.

This bill is not a bill in the right direction. We are here passing a bill and requiring school teachers to be angels more perfect than those we would find in Heaven; and, gentlemen, those of us who do practice law have over and over again read the opinions of judges, and I say judges are human and fallible, the same as any other mortal. Teachers are no different, doctors are no different, attorneys are no different—we are all alike, and if we take seriously the requirements of this bill, the qualifications required of teachers, we want to make those teachers super-human beings.

Now, gentlemen, we cannot do that. We must be prudent and we must be reasonable. I cannot conceive the fairness and the justice in telling a teacher, "Now, you cannot smoke in public, you cannot play cards, you cannot go to the beach and wear abbreviated beach bathing costumes, such as you see there, you must go down the street on Sunday with a Bible in your hands, and your hands crossed before you." We cannot do that and we ought not to do it. It is asking them to do something that is rather superhuman. We ought not to tell these teachers that they cannot do the things that school directors may do with impunity.

I do not believe in putting the teachers of this Commonwealth under the complete domination and control of school directors, who do not meet at least the same standards of intelligence and standing as school teachers do.

Why, look at the Constitution. The Anglo-Saxons have fought for centuries to insure to themselves a trial by a jury of their peers at least. We have carried that down through our society. I have been a soldier for this country, and I know that when we are accused in the military system of this country we are entitled to be tried by those of equal rank, or higher rank when you are a select officer.

Now, these teachers must go to school; they must for six or seven years; then they must keep their rating up; they must study every year; they cannot engage in the profession of school teaching until the State has given them a certificate, and then they must teach fr three long years before their certificates become permanent. And after we require all of that from these teachers, then we say "Your tenure, your position, all the time you have spent training yourself, will depend upon the whim and caprice of seven or five men elected at random from the rank and file, who may know nothing about the school system of this State.

I say that this system is wrong. We are dealing with a very vital subject—the school teachers of our State—and we ought not to run pell mell here into this situation in the dying hours of this session when we had time at the beginning of the session to come to grips with this problem. You are now putting through here a bit of legislation that you say was written up after conference with people not members of this Senate, but outside of the Assembly halls. I do not impute to you their motives because you did that, but, gentlemen, if it took you a week or two weeks to confer and put together this legislation, does it not appeal to your sense of fairness that it may require a couple of weeks hard study for somebody that is in it in order to ascertain the real affects of this bill, if passed?

This bill will be followed by another bill—I think it is Senate Bill No. 930—and we are going to vote on this bill first, and then after this bill is passed and we come to Senate Bill No. 930 on the Calendar, then, of course, we are faced with a situation that if we passed this bill we must also pass Senate Bill No. 930, or otherwise Senate Bill No. 929 will not have any effect—your ideas will not be carried out. Now, then, I say if we are going to act intelligently, and discuss the matters involved very intelligently, this bill ought to go over in its order until we come to Senate Bill No. 930 on the Calendar and then we will take them both together, so that we will see what both of them together do, and then we will be in a position to vote very intelligently; and, if it is not too much, I would like to request that the gentleman from Montgomery allow that bill to go over momentarily until we come to Senate Bill No. 930.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I want to say a word on this important subject. I start out on the premise that the public school system was inaugurated years ago for one purpose only, and that purpose was to train our young people so they would be better citizens. Now, our school system was not made for the teaching fraternity, it was not made for the directors, it was not made for any other group, it was made for the young in order that they might grow up and be better citizens.

I do not know, Mr. President, anything about the school systems in the large centers. What I say I say from my experience as one coming from a small community. I saw our schools, in my own township grow from country schools up to large modern schools; I saw the tax rate increase from two mills up to forty-five mills today. Now, that increase fundamentally should have been to promote better education for our young people.

I taught, when I was a younger man in my own township, so I know something a little about the teaching profession as of that day. We have grown very rapidly, not only in the size of our schools but also in the increased cost of running those schools. I voted for teachers' tenure; I believe in teachers' tenure; but at the same time, Mr. President, I believe in a philosophy of education that will also help the people who are paying the bill. If we are going to continue, Mr. President, in the course we have recently taken, then I say why have school boards at all Discharge them and let some other faculty be raised up in order to control and take care of this important subject.

Are we coming to the place, Mr. President, where the representatives of the people who control our various school facitities in the districts have nothing else to do but to raise the money, and let someone else tell them how to spend it? If we are running in that direction, Mr. President, then I say our whole system is going to soon collapse.

I am interested primarily in the Republic of the United States. I am likewise and for the same reason interested in every subdivision of that Republic down to my little school district; and I know, Mr. President, what trouble we have every year in raising money to carry our school system down to the end of the nine months term.

Our school directors are coming to a place where they know not what to do. If they are going to be representatives of the people, then they have a right to have, surely, some power in controlling this important problem. There was a time, when I was a young man teaching in the schools, when the teacher and the directors sat down together and worked for the common good of all. Has that time passed? Will that time never return to us?

I say, Mr. President, that these are important questions and we are not working here for today, for any one group; we ought to be working for all the people of this great Republic and I see nothing wrong with this bill of Senator Edmonds. I can see nothing in that bill that will work against the fundamental principle of our public schools system. If there are people in this profession who become unable to carry on those burdensome and important duties they ought to be willing to step out and let someone else who is more effecient take their place. That is the way things are done in other lines of activity, and those activities perhaps are not as important to the people as this important field of conduct.

If this bill was a bill that meant to destroy teachers' tenure entirely, I would be against it; but as this bill stands, I am going to vote for it, because I see nothing fundamentally wrong with the theory that is back of this bill; because it brings about a situation which, if properly handled, will work for the good of all.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I am going to ask to be indulged for a minute to set myself correct on the record as to my position on this bill. I take no pride in authorship of the original S. 52; the pride I take is in the introduction of that bill primarily. I did not ask for any conference, originally, on this bill; several conferences were conducted before I was called in consultation to consider the preparation of a so-called compromise bill.

The S. 52 was regarded generally as a teachers' bill; S. 45 was regarded as a school directors' bill; I thought perhaps we could get together and introduce a composite idea in a bill which would be neither a school directors' bill nor a school teachers' bill. A prime consideration in my mind was not the school director or not the school teacher but the school child of the State of Pennsylvania, who is the one, after all, who would be most seriously concerned. I did attend two conferences—Senator Shapiro, Senator Edmonds, Senator Homsher and myself, and a representative of the Department of Education—and we drafted a tentative bill. On the subsequent conference I was not present, but I was given to understand groups of teachers came into that conference, and amendments were introduced, and that the bill was satisfactory to all concerned.

Since my return I want to say, too, that Senator Homsher and Senator Edmonds extended to us every possible courtesy, and extended to me, personally, extraordinary courtesy in my absence in allowing this bill to go over. I think they thought truly and justly that my name having been put on this bill that naturally I would support it and vote for it. Certain groups are not satisfied with the system of rating as contained in this bill.

Personally, on reading it over, I, myself, saw an opportunity for a recurrence of certain abuses up in my own district. I had intended, as Senator Shapiro said he intended to do, and I so informed Senator Shapiro, that I would vote "present" on this bill. I have sat here and considered that situation. Since coming to the Senate I have never voted "present" on a bill, and I have not knowingly left this chamber when a controversial bill was on the calendar. I therefore say, with the indulgence of the two gentlemen who were so extremely kind and courteous to me, that I will not duck this issue, that I am going to go on record as voting "no" on this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is it not true that seniority is only a secondary consideration under the terms of this act as amended?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, under the condition of the illustration I gave the Senator a few minutes ago, when a teacher is to be dropped or two teachers are to be dropped because by consolidation of schools there is a decrease in the teacher enrollment, they are to be dropped in the order of their rating; and if they are equal in rating, seniority then prevails.

If, on the other hand, there is not a substantial difference between them, then the record is rated for seniority; it is directed that the record is to be rated so that the senior teacher may have a higher standing than the other; but if there is a substantial difference, then seniority would not overcome it, and personally I think that is for the good of the teachers.

If you have an A-1 teacher who does not happen to be the senior teacher, and there is a senior teacher who is not A-1, it would surely be better for the children if the A-1 teacher were preserved for the system, whether she was the senior teacher or not.

Do I answer the inquiry of the Senator from Westmoreland??

Mr. DENT. Yes, Mr. President, the Senator from Montgomery has answered the question that was in my mind, because, after reading the amendment I find, "In cases where there are substantial differences in ratings of those under consideration for suspension, seniority shall be given consideration in accordance with principles and standards of rating incorporated in the rate changes hereinbefore referred to."

From long experience of writing seniority rules in labor disputes and agreements I find that seniority is subject to rating in all cases, seniority, in the first instance, where two persons have the same seniority and length of service, the determining factor is the rating. Rating is a thing to be determined by the whim and the will of those establishing ratings from the score cards; and therefore, being truthful about it, seniority is wiped out altogether because of the fact that rating is more important than seniority, because seniority is subject to the rating of the teachers to be considered.

A teacher just coming into the school system this year could take the place of a teacher that has served ten or twelve years, because her seniority is subject to a rating proposition. There is no such thing as having two teachers and then deciding between the two—those who have the same terms of employment—because under section 5 in the amendment it clearly states that in all cases seniority shall be subject to a question of rating when one of two teachers is to be dropped.

Therefore, to make my point clear, that seniority is, to be wiped out—only in those instances where a teacher is desired by those establishing the ratings will her seniority be prevailing. I think that is clear to anybody who has ever established any seniority rules.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Westmoreland in part, and disagree with him in part. In other words, where there are two teachers of equal ability and only one of whom has to be dropped, of course, rating would be decisive.

On the other hand seniority is considered in the ratings and, that being the case, seniority is not disregarded; so I think, when the Senator from Westmoreland says seniority is wiped out, that is a little too strong.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, according to the rating card before me seniority is one of the sixty-two qualifying tests, and so seniority takes its position along with pitch and flexibility and all those other indeterminate items.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, that is one of the things the Committee has to determine—what the weight of seniority is to be.

Mr. DENT. Well, Mr. President, that is not determined at present; is that true? It has not yet been determined what percentage shall be given to seniority?

Mr. EDMONDS. No, Mr. President. I said that is to be determined by the commission or committee called by the superintendent, which must contain representatives of all those groups.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to be stubborn in the position I have taken, but after reading the amendments very carefully and giving all the consideration necessary on such an important measure, I want to state here it is my belief that before any court seniority would be wiped out under the provisions of this act.

Let us look at the question on its merits and say we are voting here to have a teacher dismissed on a rating basis, which puts it right back where it was before tenure was ever passed. It takes out one of the most valuable features of tenure and that is seniority.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, despite the glowering looks of the gentleman from Tioga, I wish to say just a word or so, promising I will not detain the Senate in its consideration. I simply want to make the observation that I do not know where under Heaven a person could be found of sufficient learning, sufficient powers of analysis, sufficient sense of justice to evaluate and appraise any teacher under such a scoring card as the Senator from Westmoreland read, and which the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, seems to approve, saying it has been in operation, or use, in different parts of this State for some time.

I hope, in the name of humanity and common sense, that the superintendent of public instruction will bring forth out of the travail of his soul a scoring card, if we may call it such, of much simpler form and of much smaller size and implications. It is one of the most silly, unworkable, nonsensical, asinine things of the kind that I ever heard of, and as I say I challenge any person to be produced who could justly evaluate a teacher or anybody else with those sixty-two ramifications, and implications many of which are entirely subject to the whim of the gentleman who may make the evaluation of the poor teacher. God pity a teacher under such a scoring card at the hands of some superintendent who does not have a sense of fairness.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "present."

The PRESIDENT. You will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 930, on page 12 of today's Calendar, thus accepting the suggestion of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object at this time; let it come up in its order.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

MOTION TO CONSIDER No. 930 ON THIRD READING

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the next bill to be considered shall be Senate Bill No. 930, which is a companion bill to the one that we just passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally.

The CLERK proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, are we now considering Senate Bill No. 930?

The PRESIDENT. The motion has been carried and the next order of business is consideration of Senate Bill No. 930.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does it require a two-thirds vote to call a bill up out of order.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I understand the Senator from Fayette, Mr. CAVALCANTE, objected to immediate consideration of Senate Bill No. 930.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct, but an objection is not a motion.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 930, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred four of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by further extending the authority of the board of school directors in the making and enforcement of rules and regulations for the management of school affairs.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand we are voting on the bill; is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, some of the gentlemen over here are confused, and think they are voting on the motion to take the bill up out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The vote is on the bill, but in order to avoid confusion we will again call the roll.

The CLERK proceeded again to call the roll.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "present."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to be recorded as voting "no" on this bill.

The PRESIDENT. It is so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL No. 527

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 527 Printer's No. 585, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (g) as added to section one thousand one hundred and ten of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "Vehicle Code," removing the time limit within which all electrically operated traffic signals shall be made to conform with provisions of said act and the regulations of the Secretary of Highways.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 936, (House Bill No. 673) on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (6) of section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-three entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies associations and persons providing for the regulation of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractural relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations of municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction alteration relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejecment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act" by excluding from the definition of "Common Carrier by Motor Vehicle" persons or corporations who furnish transportation of school children exclusively or transportation of certain materials in dump trucks.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 168, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph six of section two and paragraph four of section five of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act prohibiting the employment of miners as herein defined in the bituminous coal mines unless certified by a miners' examining board providing for the appointment of such boards and defining their powers and duties providing penalties and making an appropriation" by providing for the suspension of examinations and certifications by the Secretary of Mines and for the issuance of new certificates to replace lost certificates

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, permit himself to be interorgated?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, tell us the purpose of this bill?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, this bill does several things. This bill permits the examination of certain miners, to be handled by the Miners' Examining Board, and I think it standardizes the examination and makes it easier for miners to be examined; and it is requested by the Secretary of Mines, and I think he should be considered in this.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Mercer, whether this bill is sponsored by him through his own initiative, or whether the bill was handed to him by some department head?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, this bill was recommended by the Secretary of Mines, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. HALUSKA. In fact, Mr. President, the Senator from Mercer had no knowledge of the contents of this bill before the bill was handed to him; is that correct?

Mr. THOMAS. Yes, Mr. President, I knew something about it before it was handed to me.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Senator from Mercer did?

Mr. THOMAS. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. He did, Mr. President?

Mr. THOMAS. I did, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, can the Senator from Mercer tell us—when the bill was first introduced, as I understand, the board set up to examine these miners was a board of inspectors; is that correct?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I do not understand the question of the Senator from Cambria.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, when the bill was first drawn the board set up to examine these miners was a board of examining inspectors; is that correct?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I do not know what they called the board before.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Senator from Mercer said he had some knowledge of the bill. When the bill was originally drawn, who was delegated to examine these miners?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, there were three boards —I know that much, three boards examining those miners.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, were they doctors' boards or miners' boards or what?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, it was made up of miners, I understand.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, correctly—when he first introduced this bill—that there were set up three boards of miners; is that right?

Mr. THOMAS. No, Mr. President, I think they had been suspended when this was first brought to my attention.

Mr. HALUSKA. They were suspended, Mr. President?

Mr. THOMAS. I think so, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Well, Mr. President, can the Senator from Mercer tell us what he recommended, whom he recommended in their place?

Mr. THOMAS. Why Mr. President, as this bill is here it recommends a Mine Examining Board to handle the examinations.

Mr. HALUSKA. A Mine Examining Board composed of whom, Mr. President?

Mr. THOMAS. Composed, Mr. President, of a mine examiner, an operator and a miner.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, was that in the original act as drawn by the Senator from Mercer?

Mr. THOMAS. I think, it was, Mr. President, yes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Does the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, think that is right, Mr. President?

Mr. THOMAS. That is my impression, yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am very sorry to be informed by my colleague from Mercer County that he has no knowledge whatsoever of the contents of this bill. No doubt the bill was handed to him by a department head last night. We were informed of that. And we have been informed that unless a bill has the approval of some department head, it has no chance whatsoever of coming to life.

This is a very important piece of legislation. In the 1937 session of the State Legislature we enacted what is known as a Miners' Certificate Bill. The United Mine Workers of the bituminous fields have tried since 1911 to have such legislation enacted. It has been in force now for two years; there has been no complaint from either the miners or the operators. Ordinarily we have two sides to any story. I have not heard of one coal operator condemning this act, but now we have a third party, the Department of Mines, and they say it is good neither for the operator nor for the miner. There must be some purpose, some motive in mind for the ripping out here—and I call this a ripper—ripping out these miners' boards.

I would like to have someone on that side of the house give me some reason for the enactment of this bill. Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to have anyone on that side of the House give their reasons for the enactment of this bill.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I believe this bill is intended to accomplish some good for the miners, and I think that is its sole intent; it is drawn for that purpose.

In the first place, it will standardize the method of examining miners. It employs a method that has been in vogue in the bituminous coal districts for a period of forty years. That is composed of a representative of the operator, usually the superintendent of mines, the inspector in the district and a miner.

I think one great advantage of this bill is that it will provide an opportunity for twenty-five bona fide miners to be placed on these boards?

One of the objections to the operation of the examining board as it was composed prior to this was that it took too much time for the miners to be examined, and very often they had to wait two or three weeks before they could get their certificates. This was due to the fact that the territory is so large—there are 25 counties and 25 districts involved in this bituminous area. Now, this bill intends to set up, if necessary, 25 boards, one in each district where there is an inspector and where a superintendant is available, and a miner; and therefore the miner representation will be increased from what it was under the old system, nine members, to twenty-five miner representatives. I think that is a very favorable part of the bill.

Then I heard, in the hearing that was held down here some two weeks ago—I believe Mr. Marks, of Clearfield, as well as Mr. P. T. Fagan, of Pittsburgh, made this objection in answer to a question. They were asked, "Have you heard any criticism of the present Mining Boards?", and they answered in this way, "The only criticism we have heard is that sometimes a miner has to travel eighty or ninety miles to get to an examination, and when he gets there he finds that there is no board sitting there and he has to return home without being examined."

That is one of the things this bill intends to obviate—that is, make it possible for the miners to be examined very easily. It is not difficult to see, in a territory reaching from Tioga County way over in the upper part of the State, to the extreme western or southwestern part of the State, in Greene County, comprising some 16,000 square miles, that it is very difficult for three boards to cover that entire area and be there when the miners want to be examined for their certificates. The result has been men have lost jobs because they could not get certificates; the distance was too great, and miners cannot afford to travel eighty or ninety miles and then not be examined; they have to provide themselves with keep, meals and transportation, and that is too expensive.

I also understand that instead of the fee being two dollars it is proposed in this bill that it be one dollar, and I think that is another advantage to the miner, the fact that this service will only cost one dollar.

There have been examined, up to now, approximately 120,000 miners. The boards were suspended about the first of March, and right now there is an accumulation of about two hundred applications for miners' certificates, so there is not a large accumulation; and it is stated by those in authority that the potential number of applications for a year now might be somewhere around two or three thousand. That is the maximum.

I feel this is a very fine bill. It is for the benefit of the miner, it will give him convenience and make it less expensive for him, and for that reason I am going to vote for the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to thank the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, for his explanation; and I wish to state that, in accordance with the turnover of men employed in the bituminous mines, there are today upwards of some 120,000 miners employed in this great industry—the death rate and turnover is about ten per cent. Therefore, we should have in the future in the neighborhood of ten to twelve thousand miners applying to be certified yearly.

Now this bill tend to rip out the original three boards of three men per board, and in place of that they are putting in twenty-five boards, but composed of whom?—one mine inspector, one mine superintendent, and one miner.

The miner must apply to the mine superintendent, a man that might be very active in union duties, union activities, must go to the mine superintendent and ask to be certified. Think of it! And then they call it a miners' board! The records show, Mr. President, that we have in the County of Cambria, and in the County of Clearfield, adjoining, over one thousand coal mines that have not been inspected by the mine inspectors. We have many, many thousands of coal mines in Pennsylvania that for the last two years have not had one inspection, and then it is proposed to have the mine inspectors certify ten or twelve thousand miners yearly. Why I think it is a disgrace to think that men shall go down in the bowels of the earth without any protection because, now, of the lack of mine inspectors.

I spoke of that in the early part of the session, when the present secretary of mines proposed to reduce the mine inspections; and I can prove that we have mines in two counties, over one thousand small coal mines, have not been inspected; and now you are asking us to have some mine inspectors, who are now over-burdened with work, to lose more days to sit in some community to certify coal miners. I see no reason for it and I think it is unfair. It is Ripper No. 1. Keep that in mind, and I assure you that you shall, regret your action if you vote on this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this bill is another piece of kindling on the labor bonfire of Pennsylvania. These boards Mr. President were set up at the request of the miners of the State of Pennsylvania. They signified their willingness to pay what ever the cost might be in order that a certificate could be granted to the coal miners in the State of Pennsylvania, in the bituminous fields. Now we find that against the wishes of the men who pay in an enormous sum of money to the Department of Mines—and, by the way, that sum of money is not yet expended—against the wishes of these men we find that a new piece of legislation is on the calendar today to rip out the boards set up as they asked them to be set up.

There is no agitation on the part of the employers for this board change; there is no agitation on the part of the miners, who are the people directly affected by this legislation; no, the agitation comes from a Secretary of Mines, who has been in office a mere matter of three or four months. The argument put forth that this will give more miners positions on the examining boards does not make sense. On the three boards in existence today there are nine members, all of whom are miners. Under the set-up to be set up according to this bill there will be seventy-five men, twenty-five of whom are miners, and if I am not mistaken that puts them in a minority.

As I said before, this is a self-sustaining system they have in the anthracite. The argument in the anthracite was they were only paid three dollars a day, and they must earn their fee. I offered to the committee amendments to the proposition, stating that the members on the bituminous boards be compelled to earn their fees. This is not a fee proposition, it is not a money making proposition, it is only justice to the men to be certified.

We come in here and we make up a medical board and put medical men on it; we too have an attorneys' board and we put attorneys on that board—the Bar Association. We go into any professional board of control and we put men in that profession on the board. Now you say this to the coal miners of Pennsylvania, and I want to say here fairly and squarely this is another piece of kindling on the bonfire of labor legislation, and that is all it can be termed, and I do not care how you get around it. The commission should be miners, the miners are paying for it, and when it come to the argument they can not see enough people let it be understood they served one hundred twenty odd thousand miners in the State of Pennsylvania last year; you conferred on the Secretary of Mines the right to establish the number of days they could work one or two days a year, whatever time is required. All we ask, in fairness to the men to be certificated, is that the men be judged by their own peers, by the miners themselves, and not by a superintendent of mines, not by an inspector of mines who is a direct employee of a state department. I say to you gentlemen you gain nothing by passing this legislation except to serve the whim of a Secretary of Mines and Mining who has already stated this legislation must pass, and so probably it will.

However, let us take up the argument offered by my good friend the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler. In these days of automobile travel we possess automobiles, and the mere matter of traversing fifteen or twenty miles is not anything. I travel down here every week, and in many instances I drive to Harrisburg and back in the same day, and I think my home is 182 miles from here. That is not the question, traveling fifteen or twenty miles is not a matter to be overcome by legislation such as this. This legislation, in plain words, is giving to the miner something he does not want. It seems to me to be the attitude that we, in the Democratic Administration, gave too much to labor; and so I say to you, in the Republican Administration, you give too little to labor.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, invited our colleagues from the other side of the floor to explain to him the provisions of this act. We can read the act ourselves, we understand the English language, we know what is contained in the act. We know that, we know what the act does; but what is of vital interest here, and probably amusing, is the purpose of the act.

Why do you not do the things the act provides? Why is that act? Why is that asked for? I was amused when the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, was asked by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, and he advanced the argument that this bill is intended to help the coal miner. Now, I may say that if we were children here and were not prudent men, did not have prudent and intelligent minds, probably that argument would be convincing and persuasive, but I say to the gentleman from Clearfield that the argument is merely a red herring across the trail of the real purpose. Let us tear the mask off. There is no use of acting like children. The purpose back of this act is very plain; the purpose of it is to control the discretion of those who will sit as a board giving out the certificates.

It is true that an honest confession is good for the soul. I am ready to confess here on the floor of the Senate that when this miner's certificate law was passed it was passed specifically for the coal miners; the operator was not given much consideration because we reasoned the miners themselves, the men who go down into the mines and with their hands, and with their picks, tear out the coal from the bowels of the earth, the men who sacrifice their limbs and their bodies to dig the coal out, that they themselves should be the judges of who is competent to go down in the mine and, side by side with them, endanger their lives to dig out the coal. Now, that is an honest confession to make.

The miner's certificate bill was passed specifically for the coal miners, and in providing for the appointment of boards they were given primary consideration, much to the chagrin of the employer, who wanted to sit on the board to pass upon the qualications of the coal miner. He was eliminated.

Now, let us tear off the mask. The purpose of this bill is to give to the coal operator—not the coal miner—the control of those boards so that the employer will control the agency that gives out the certificates. Why be childish about it? Why try to explain and try to argue that purpose away by a red herring across the trail? Let us be candid and sincere. What you intend to do is to give the operators control over the agency that gives out the certificates; and why argue about your having agreed to introduce a bill that will help the coal operators? Who sits as the agency that gives out the certificates?

First you put that in the hands of the inspectors. Well, I say to you fair-minded gentlemen, go over to the Department of Mines and look over the list of inspectors and see how they have been appointed in the past. You will find specific cases where men of high character, of high abilities, have passed the mine inspectors' examination and were first on the list, but because of politics and because of utility to the coal operators who control the destinies of the state in the coal industry, you passed over those who were entitled to be appointed and you went down to the bottom of the list. That is factual, those are facts, that is history. Go over to the Department of Mines and you will find that out.

On second thought, then, you struck that out, and you are now making the certificating agency the mine foreman's examining board. Well, who are they? How do they come into existence? Who controls them?

Gentlemen, do not be children. This is, indeed, as the gentleman from Westmoreland has said, a part of Governor James's bonfire. It is a part of the scheme to turn back the hands of time and put into the hands of the operators the control of those boards; and, indeed, I am amased at some of those who come from the anthracite region, who know the kind of certificate law they have there, they know the structure of that law, yet they will deny to their brother miners in the bituminous region the same consideration that they have received at the hands of the General Assembly.

Over in the hard coal region, in the Antharcite region, the miners' examining boards are appointed by the courts, and if they do not appoint the proper ones, when the judges come up for election they are defeated on that score.

The miners have some control, but who has control over the appointments of the men forming these examining boards, gentlemen? Who are they? Now, tear off the mask. Tell us the truth.

The purpose of this act is to place in the hands of coal operators the control of the boards which will issue certificates; just the same as in the past administration, when we had control, we placed that power in the hands of the coal miners themselves; but you are reversing that, you are placing it in the hands of the coal operators.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will verify the affirmative votes.

These voting in the affirmative were as follows: Messrs. Bartlett, Chapman, Crowe, Dando, Deitrick, Ealy, Edmonds, Eroe, Farrell, Gelder, Geltz, Heyburn, Homsher, James, Letzler, Mallery, Miller, Mundy, Owlett, Pierson, Scarlett, Snowden, Stevenson, Tallman, Thomas, Walker, Wolfenden and Woodward.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I did not vote "aye."

The PRESIDENT. You are not so recorded. You are recorded as voting "no."

Are there any corrections in the affirmative vote as verified? The Chair hears none. The affirmative vote will stand as verified.

Those voting in the negative were as follows: Messrs. Cavalcante, Coleman, Dent, DiSilvestro, Frey, Gilson, Haluska, Jaspan, Kilgallen, Kunkel, Lanius, McCreesh, McGinnis, Reed Rice, Ruth, Shapiro, Sipe and Stiefel.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative vote will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 936, (House Bill No. 673), on Page 3 of the Calendar, that just went over in its order.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 936, (House Bill No. 673), as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (6) of section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 1053) entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies associations and persons providing for the regulation of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractural relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction alteration relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act" by excluding from the definition of "Common Carrier by Motor Vehicle" persons or corporations who furnish transportation of school children exclusively H of transportation of certain materials in dump trucks

Section 1 Subsection (6) of section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 1053) entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies associations and persons providing for the regulation of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractural relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction alteration relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

(6) "Common Carrier by Motor Vehicle" means any common carrier who or which holds out or undertakes the transportation of passengers or property or both or any class of passengers or property between points within this Commonwealth by motor vehicle for compensation whether or not the owner or operator of such motor vehicle or who or which provides or furnishes any motor vehicle with or without driver for transportation or for use in transportation of persons or property as aforesaid and shall include common carriers by rail water or air and express or forwarding public utilities in so far as such common carriers or such public utilities are engaged in such motor vehicle operations but shall not include (a) a lessor under a lease given on a bona fide sale of a motor vehicle where the lessor retains or assumes no responsibility for maintenance supervision or control of the motor vehicle so sold or (b) any person or corporation who or which provides or furnishes transportation of school children exclusively or (c) any person or corporation who or which uses or furnishes for use dump trucks for the transportation of ashes rubbish excavated and road construction materials

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have received a number of complaints from truck owners on this bill, who complained that this is a bill which gives preference to some truck owners and not to others. I think if this keeps up that story of little by little and bit by bit will apply, and there will be no more public utility supervision.

Here is a bill which started out as a bill to take out of the jurisdiction of the commission the transportation of school children. Now they have tacked on dump trucks. Now if the dump truck carries material that may be used in building construction, that is exempted, and that same truck when it carries something else it is not exempt. I think it is a ridiculous position.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the amendment is not as ridiculous as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, would have you think. Last night this measure was amended, and the amendments will be found on page six of the bill. The original amendment was an attempt to re-define the trem "common carrier" and the execptions were all included in one bill so there would not be a series of bills going through the legislature, defining "common carrier by motor vehicle".

In this definition of common carrier there are a number of exemptions, and the exemption originally put in there for dump trucks was too wide and would permit dump truck operators to transport freight, and that, of course, was objectionable to the certificated carriers.

The amendment as it now stands simply exempts the term common carrier by motor vehicle dump trucks used for the transportation of ashes, rubbish, excavated and road construction materials."

Mr. PRESIDENT, that is the definition of the wording used by the Bureau of Public Convenience of the Public Utility Commission, in granting specific dump truck certificates for that type of work.

This amendment has been submitted to the Common Carrier Association, and they have approved it. It is not ridiculous, it is as simple as we can make it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 251, (House Bill No. 140), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 623) entitled "An act prohibiting the erection of fences or similar structures above a certain height in suburban and similar districts of cities of the first class except under a permit declaring certain fences a private nuisance and their erection a misdemeanor and prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act" by extending the provisions thereof to include fences in surburban and similar districts in all cities and boroughs

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, concerning the Public Assistance Board for Allegheny County, has the name of J. Steel Gow, which was sent here for confirmation, been withdrawn by the Governor's office, or has it not?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I have not been notified of the withdrawal, if such has been done.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, so that we will not experience any difficulty when this board comes up for confirmation, I desire to make a statement, particularly for the benefit of the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations. In personal conversation with Mr. J. Steel Gow he has informed me of his inability to serve as a member of the board and quite some time ago he requested the Governor's office to withdraw his name.

I think the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations should take the matter up with the Governor's office, so that there will be no delay when that board comes up for confirmation.

CORRECTION OF THE CALENDAR

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, as to the first bill on page 14 of today's calendar, under the heading "Bills on Third Reading Postponed", I wish to correct an error in the Calendar, and it is with reference to Senate Bill No. 267, (House Bill No. 449).

If the clerks will check up on their Calendar readings of last night, they will find that I called that bill from the postponed Calendar and then moved that it go over in its order; and I find that it is still on the postponed calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The statement of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is correct.

The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, has called attention to the fact that Senate Bill No. 267, (Printer's No. 61), was, by error, placed under the heading, "Bills on Third Reading Postponed" on Page 14, of today's Calendar. It should be on the third reading Calendar.

What is the pleasure of the Senate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the correction be noted, and that Senate Bill No. 267, take its place on tomorrow's Third Reading Calendar.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 523, (House Bill No. 664) on second reading, entitled:

An Act suspending the taking effect of certain laws with respect to transportation reimbursement to school districts of the Commonwealth for tuition transportation vocational education and employment of certain employes go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 648, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws 1055) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" permitting the release on parole of persons convicted of other crimes than those to which parole was heretofore restricted

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws 1055) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" as amended by the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws 554) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any person shall be convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime except murder of the first degree and where the said court believes that the character of the defendant and the circumstances of the case such that he or she is not likely again to engage in an offensive course of conduct and that the public good does not demand or require that the defendant should suffer the penalty imposed by law the said court shall have power to place the defendant on probation for a definite period on such terms and conditions including the payment of money for the use of the county not exceeding however the fine fixed by law for conviction of such offense as it may deem right and proper said terms and conditions to be duly entered of record as a part of the judgment of the court in such case No such condition for the payment of money shall be considered as the imposition of a fine or a sentence nor prevent the court from thereafter sentencing any defendant under the act under which he or she was convicted upon violation of his or her parole

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 995, entitled:

An act requiring newspapers published in this Commonwealth to print on the editorial page the names of the owners proprietors or publishers and the managing editors of the same and providing a penalty

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Every newspaper published in this Commonwealth whether published monthly weekly bi-weekly semi-weekly or daily or whether such publication is at regular or irregular intervals shall publish on the editorial page in a conspicuous position at the top of the reading matter the name of the owner or proprietor of such newspaper together with the name of the managing editor thereof If said newspaper is owned or published by a corporation then the name of the corporation shall be published together with the name of the president and managing editor thereof and if the said newspaper is owned or published by a partnership or partnerships limited then the names of the partners and the managing editor shall be published in like manner

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section,

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move to amend Page 1, Section 1, line 11 by inserting after the word "editor" and before the word "thereof" the following:

"and the person or persons (if five or less in number) or any corporation or corporations owning or controlling, directly or throught any person or corporation, a majority of the voting capital stock"

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I object, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate vote down the amendments.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am certain that neither the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, nor the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Chapman, know what is in the amendment.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I heard it read.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, even if the gentleman from Tioga heard them read I doubt whether he knows what is in them—and I am not looking at the newspaper reporters, and I do not care whether they are here in the hall or not. The action on the bill now is all right so far as the private ownership of a newspaper is concerned or a partnership or a firm. The act requires that the owner's name be printed on the editorial page, but when it comes to corporations it departs from that principle and in the corporation it only requires the name of the corporation and of the president and the managing editor; and everybody knows the president of a corporation is not the man who controls the policies of the corporation, but it is the people who own the voting stock; and if a person owns the controlling stock, or a majority of the stock, he is the one that controls the policies of that paper, and there is no use of joking about that.

I know who the people are that do not want their names on the editorial pages of the paper. It is the people who control the policies of the paper: Now, some members of this Senate will take the attitude that the purpose of this bill is merely to put the name of the corporation on the newspaper for the sole purpose of giving people warning who might want to use the paper for libel, for printing libels in the paper; but I say to you that the object of this kind of legislation goes further than that.

The people of this Commonwealth ought to know who controls the policies of the paper, whose opinions, whose ideas, are being printed; and mark you this—the very specific purpose why I think this amendment ought to be adopted is this: all of us are of the opinion, every good American is of the opinion, that the President of the United States ought to guard the statements that he makes concerning a foreign country, so that he might not entangle us in difficulties with foreign countries; and if we demand that, gentlemen, from the Chief Executive of our Nation, why should not we demand that from the groups of men who control the press and who form public opinion? Why should not we know who the people are who will attack foreign governments which are absolutely at peace with our country; make statements that are intended to inflame the public mind and turn the odium of this nation against these foreign countries?

Now, how can we know who the people are that control the policies of the newspapers unless we know the ones who control the ownership, who control the stock—the majority voting stock that elects officers—the president and the managing editor? Why, it is very simple for one or two fellows, who own the majority of the voting stock, to name as the president someone else, some individual who might not be very responsible in the statements he makes concerning foreign governments; and yet the real power behind the throne, the man who controls a majority of the voting stock, never appears on the editorial page.

Those are the gentlemen that this bill will protect, and I have offered these amendments for the purpose of getting on the editorial page a number of individuals, or a group of individuals—five or less—who own the majority voting stock of that newspaper corporation.

Now, there is nothing wrong with that amendment, if you are sincere about wanting a good piece of legislation adopted here to accomplish something that is very desirable here at this time in the State and in the whole nation, you will vote for my amendment.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I sympathize with the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante in his intense desire for peace and his hope that the United States will not get involved in foreign entanglements, but it seems to me that this amendment is not germane to the purpose of this bill. This is a registration bill to a certain extent It requires that the president of a corporation, or the proprietor, if it is an individual proprietor, or the partners of the partnership, and the managing editor, have their names placed on the paper for the purpose of notice.

Now, when it comes to ownership, the Federal Government steps in and requires that the names of owners of, I think, more than one per cent of the stock be published once a year.

When you come down to control that is rather a vague rule. I would have difficulty in finding out who controls the Hearst newspapers at the present time. They are probably controlled by creditors' committees, and it seems to me that if the amendment of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, were embodied in separate legislation I might look at it differently, but in this case it seems to be inappropriate, and therefore I will have to vote against it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I should like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what is the specific purpose of the bill introduced by the Senator from Montgomery, which is now on the calendar.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it is to give notice to those who have business dealings or claims against those papers as to who the owners are.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Well, Mr. President, how can the Senator get the owner or the persons controlling the paper unless he knows the person having the real control of the stock?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the persons named in the bill are the people who are to accept service for the newspaper corporation in the event of suit. That notice is given to the public generally by this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "present".

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—7

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Sipe,
Dent,	Kilgallen,	Reed,

NAYS—35

Bartlett,	Frey,	Mallery,	Shapiro,

So the question was determined in negative.

The second, third and fourth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 2 In the event any change is made in the proprietorship ownership or managing editor of any newspaper or in the office of president of any corporation owning and publishing said newspaper or any change in the names of the members of the copartnership the said change shall be duly set forth in the next issue of said newspaper following such change

Section 3 Any person partnership or corporation publishing a newspaper who or which omits fails or neglects to carry out the provisions of this act and the publication required by the preceding sections of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500)

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to;

An Act requiring newspapers published in this Commonwealth to print on the editorial page the names of the owners proprietors or publishers and the managing editors of the same and providing a penalty

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered. To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1011, as follows:

An Act to further amend section nineteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 1092) entitled "An act defining fraternal benefit societies and their status authorizing such societies to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits to members and their beneficiaries from funds collected and regulating such benefits and collections providing for the organization and incorporation of such societies and for their supervision regulation and examination by the Insurance Commissioners and for the admission of foreign societies designating tables of morality as a basis for rates of contribution requiring all societies to make annual and other reports and appointing the Insurance Commissioner as attorney for service of process providing penalties for any violations of the act exempting such societies from taxation and certain other societies from its provisions and requiring beneficial associations other than fraternal benefit societies to report to and be supervised by the Insurance Commissioner and repealing existing laws" by imposing upon certain fraternal benefit scieties the expenses incurred by the Insurance Department in making examinations of such societies

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, May 17, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:27 o'clock, p. m., until May 17, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 16, 1939.

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, Thou who art a Spirit, infinite, eternal, and unchangeable, in all Thy being, wisdom, power, holiness, goodness and truth, who, O God, is a God like unto Thee? Make of all things by Thy power, Ruler of all things in Thy wisdom, Preserver of all things in Thy love. We praise Thee. We magnify Thee. We give unto Thee the strength of our whole being. Meet us here at the throne of Thy grace, and speak all our sins forgiven. Breathe upon us a Father's benediction as we take up the tasks of the hour. Help us to legislate wisely and well, for the material, moral, and spiritual uplifting of those whom in Thy Providence we represent, and by whose choice we are here. As we labor to set in motion the forces that will open up our mines, and turn again the wheels of our factories, so that the millions in this Commonwealth, who must earn their bread by the sweat of their brow, may again be engaged in gainful enterprise and endeavor, teach us, O God, that "promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south," but from Thee, who "putteth down one, and setteth up another."

In these days of chaos and confusion, in which "change and decay in all around we see:"

"O God, give us men. A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men of honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before the demagogue
And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their loud profession and their little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife, lo, freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land, and waiting justice sleeps."

Through Jesus Christ our Lord, we ask. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. RHODES, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Whereas During the last Administration Act No. 397 was passed which provides in Section 4 as follows

"Section 4 Property of Indigent Persons Liable for Expenses Incurred for Support and Assistance (a) The real and personal property of any indigent person shall be liable for the expenses of his support maintenance assistance and burial incurred by any public body or public agency whether owned at the time such expenses were incurred or acquired thereafter Any public body or public agency may sue for moneys so expended and any judgment obtained shall be a lien upon the real estate of such indigent person and be collected as other judgments" and

Whereas The State Board of Public Assistance on April 6 1938 submitted to the Attorney General for approval a procedure for the enforcement of the act above quoted and on July 7 1938 by resolution adopted a form of bond to be filed as a lien against real property and

Whereas The use of said bond was thereafter temporarily suspended and

Whereas the former Attorney General suggested that the Department of Public Assistance should expedite collections from relief recipients by requiring them to furnish bonds containing a clause for the confession of judgment thereby eliminating the necesity of bringing suit against relief recipients and bringing about the savings of large sums of money which opinion was concurred in on March 28 1939 by the present Attorney General and

Whereas Pursuant to the suggestion of the former Attorney General the Department of Public Assistance effective April 1 1939 issued instructions that applicants for all forms of assistance excepting blind pensioners be required to file bonds which procedure is now in effect and

Whereas the present Department of Public Assistance has recommended and pursuant to said recommendations a bill has been introduced to amend the Act of 1937 so that only the real and personal property of recipients owned at the time relief is granted or acquired during the period of said grants is liable for such repayment and providing also that any judgment obtained for the repayment of relief shall not be enforced against the real and personal property of the recipient comprising his home and furnishings during the life time of such recipient and

Whereas The Department of Public Assistance proposes upon the enactment of said act to abandon the use of said bond and to substitute in lieu thereof an agreement carrying out the provisions of said proposed amended act now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Secretary of Public Assistance in view of the above facts be directed to immediately discontinue the use of said bond Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 73

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1939.

Whereas during the 1937 Session of the General Assembly there was passed a new law for the regulation of public utilities known as the Public Utility Law which Act superseded and repealed the Public Service Company Law which has been in effect since January 1, 1914 and

Whereas A number of provisions of the Public Utility Law of 1937 have been the subject of judicial review and have been held by State or Federal Courts to be unconstitutional as the result of which amendatory legislation was passed at the special session of 1938 designed to correct some of the unconstitutional provisions and

Whereas other provisions of this 1937 law are alleged to extend beyond the scope of reasonable and proper regulation of the utilities in that they unduly invade the field of management impose upon utilities the burden of furnishing costly reports or conforming to procedures of doubtful value in the determination of reasonable rates and adequate service retard the development and expansion of utility properties and facilities discourage investment in utility securities and present questions which may involve the Commonwealth and the utilities and indirectly the ratepayers in protracted and costly litigation thereby retarding future reductions in utility rates and

Whereas the best interests of the Commonwealth the rate payer the utilities and those who in good faith have invested billions of dollars in the securities of utilities doing business in this Commonwealth require that a careful comprehensive and impartial study of the Public Utility Law be undertaken in order to ascertain what changes if any should be made in said Law to make it fair just and reasonable in its application to all concerned Therefore Be It

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that the Attorney General be and is hereby requested to undertake and prosecute a thorough and impartial study of the Public Utility Laws of this and other states ascertain the viewpoints of the Public Utility Commission other regulatory bodies the public the utilities affected and others as to the proper concepts to be applied in the field of utility regulation consider the effect and trend of judicial decisions in the public utility field and the questions involved in pending litigation and ascertain what if any amendments should be made to the Public Utility Law in order to secure adequate proper and sound regulation of utilities in the public interest which will at the same time encourage investment in utility securities and aid in a program of expansion and economic recovery in this Commonwealth

Resolved that the Attorney General be requested to report the results of his study and investigation of the Public Utility law together with such proposed legislation as he deems proper for consideration to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 385, entitled:

An Act creating a temporary commission to examine report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission

The first to the fourth sections inclusive were separately read and agreed to as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 A temporary State commission is hereby created consisting of three Senators and three other persons to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate at least two of whom shall be of the colored race three members of the House of Representatives and three other persons to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives at least two of whom shall be of the colored race and three other members to be appointed by the Governor at least two of whom shall be of the colored race to examine and report upon the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and to recommend such measures as such commission may deem necessary to improve such conditions and to secure to the urban colored population of the State equal opportunity with the general population thereof for self-support and economic and cultural development to the extent if any that such opportunity does not exist

Section 2 Such commission shall select a chairman and a vice-chairman from its own members and may employ counsel and such other assistants as may be needed and may fix their compensation within the amounts made available by appropriation therefor Such commission may meet anywhere in the State may take testimony and subpoena witnesses and require the production of books papers and records

Section 3 The members of such commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be entitled to their necessary traveling and hotel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties

Section 4 Such commission shall make a report to the next session of the General Assembly and shall include in such report such amendments or additions to or revision of the law and such other measures as the commission deems necessary to carry its recommendations into effect

The fifth section was read as follows:

Section 5 The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated from any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated payable on requisition of the chairman of such commission on the warrant and audit of the Auditor General

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 5, Line 26, Page 2, by striking out the word "Fifteen" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "Fifty ($50,000)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say while I appreciate the very fine attitude on the part of the gentleman on the other side of the House, I do not think fifty thousand dollars will be necessary to carry out the provisions of the bill. I therefore ask that the amendment be voted down.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to point out very briefly in regard to the amendment which I have offered: New York State for the same commission appropriated fifty thousand dollars, having a Negro population of four hundred twelve thousand people. New Jersey has a population of two hundred eight thousand people and they have appropriated fifty thousand dollars. Pennsylvania with a population of four hundred thirty-one thousand Negroes is appropriating a miserly fifteen thousand dollars for the institution of this commission.

Mr. Speaker, I don't think we should send a boy on a man's errand. If we are going to do this work honestly and sincerely, we should do it in the right way and give the commission the necessary funds with which to work.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rhodes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I will not.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rhodes, refuses to be interrogated.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wanted to find out if Mr. Rhodes was seriously objecting to fifty thousand dollars because I would like to know how he would have those who are vitally interested in this problem operate with fifteen thousand dollars. He refuses to tell me and I will have to use my own discretion.

I am of the opinion that Mr. Walsh has given us a very fine reason, if we in Pennsylvania are going to investigate the condition among Negroes, how in the world can we do it for fifteen thousand dollars. We are not, in the state of Pennsylvania, segregated in one section, we are all over the state. The men work in various fields and this commission will have to travel from city to city, from one part of the state to the other, and it will be utterly impossible with fifteen thousand dollars to do any kind of a job. I am sure Mr. Rhodes knows that fifty thousand dollars will do a better job than fifteen thousand dollars. Why not give this commission sufficient appropriation so that they may be able to function efficiently? Last night on the floor of this House, the minority floor leader called attention to the fact that the Republicans are asking for fifty thousand dollars to give to the Attorney General for something that all legal opinion says cannot be done. We are willing to give fifty thousand dollars for that but when it comes down to human rights to investigate conditions among human beings, to help people make a better living, to help people to be better American citizens, to help them secure work in industry which they should have, we are unwilling to give a similar amount. I tell you it is a sad thing to have the sponsor of this bill rise on the floor of the House and oppose an amendment such as offered by Mr. Walsh. I cannot understand why in the world any group or any political party would come before us Negroes in the state of Pennsylvania and say, "Yes, we will give you a little something, just to shut your mouths up." That is not enough. In 1939 the Negroes in the state of Pennsylvania are demanding that you tell us the truth. If you want to give us an honest, fair investigation, vote for the amendment offered by Mr. Walsh. If you don't, say "no" and vote down the amendment. We don't want a whitewash, we want the truth and we ask that you support the amendment in order that this bill may be effective; put up enough money so that a thorough investigation can be had.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the present condition of the budget it is difficult to find money for the various purposes for which demands are made upon us. I know there are many worthy causes: some are more worthy than others, but there just isn't enough money to give all of these worthy purposes all the money they ought to have. We feel that we have done something in appropriating fifteen thousand dollars to make this investigation and we believe a good, conscientious committee will be able to do a real job. Therefore, I think that this amendment should be voted down.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I have no idea of entering into any controversy with anybody about anything. I did not intend during this session to make any kind of a speech, because I think most people talk too much and they rave and they shout, and after they get through they still haven't said anything.

I sincerely believe what we are trying to do is something constructive and something that will really help. I happen to be a very, very small businessman, and I know that we must have money to do some of the high-sounding things which we talk about so glibly. Before I even put the amount in this bill, I discussed it with Mr. Brown, and I think I discussed it with Mr. Reynolds and others in the House, and we reached the conclusion at that time that it was better to put in a bill for fifteen thousand dollars, some one even suggested ten thousand dollars, but we finally reached the conclusion that fifteen thousand dollars would be sufficient.

I want to apologize to Mr. Reynolds for not answering his question but I did not want to be interrogated because I am positive I know the motive that is back of it and I do not intend to get into a controversy with anybody. I think the bill is a good bill. I think we should have an investigation in Pennsylvania and I feel we will have a thorough investigation if the fifteen thousand dollars is spent wisely and conservatively. There is no one but realizes that with an appropriation of one million dollars or ten million dollars, a much more thorough investigation could be made, but the point is, would the bill pass for fifty thousand dollars? For that reason I am objecting to the amendment, because I think I know the motive behind it. As far as I personally am concerned, I feel it is a bill with a sincere purpose. If it is defeated I am sorry, that is all I have to say about it. I am not going to rise again on the floor of this House.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is sponsored by Mr. Rhodes, and Mr. Rhodes is apparently satisfied with the amount of the appropriation. I think he should be given the appropriation with which he is satisfied.

Mrs. FAUSET. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I am in perfect agreement with Mr. Rhodes in thinking it would be a very wise and proper thing for the Legislature to institute some sort of an investigation in connection with the condition of the Negroes who live in our large state of Pennsylvania. There some of us who realize that while it should be brought very sharply to the attention of the white people of this Commonwealth that certain conditions ought to be corrected, I feel this should not be the only thing brought sharply to the attention of those same people.

Since the matter has come up in this way this morning, I believe I would be absolutely derelict in my duty to the group that in part I represent in this House, if I did not bring to the attention of the members of our 1939 Legislature the fact that there are certain bills being held in Committee both in the House and the Senate, which would take care of some of the conditions that Mr. Rhodes is very interested in having investigated. I feel any bill that has been presented, which tends to cover the situation involving an investigation in the interest of the most underprivileged people in Pennsylvania, takes care of certain of the things for Negroes without any specific mention being made of them as a distinct and separate group in our life in Pennsylvania. I know perfectly well and agree with Mr. Walsh in thinking that the sum of fifty thousand dollars would do a very much better job, but on the other hand, if Mr. Rhodes feels that fifteen thousand dollars is the measureof the interest of the Republicans at this time, perhaps that is the bill that ought to be put through.

Mr. Speaker, may I say again that we have in this state more Negroes than there are in the state of New York and if it required fifty thousand dollars to make a comprehensive investigation there, and if with fewer Negroes in the state of New Jersey than we have in Pennsylvania, it took fifty thousand dollars to bring to the attention of the people there the condition of the Negroes, I feel that we here in Pennsylvania, whether or not we are at this moment able to appropriate more than fifteen thousand dollars, should at least recognize the fact that it will take a very much larger sum than that amount to do the thing which I believe every white person in the House is satisfied and perfectly willing to see done in connection with the Negro group in our Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

INTERROGATION

Mr. SHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Eckels.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Eckels, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ECKELS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAW. Would the gentleman from Crawford be kind enough to explain this bill to the House, explain what it does?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Allegheny I would say that this bill will enable the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to carry out its obligation to the children of Pennsylvania who are unfortunate and who are on relief, in seeing that they are given the proper chance and the proper health measures that they need.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain to the House how this measure is to be put into effect, how it is to be carried out?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I don't think it would be very difficult to put it into effect or to carry it out. As I understand it, we have quite a complicated, trained health department. We have a system now in which we have trained investigators who inquire into the conditions of families, the number of children, and so forth. I believe that information is or should now be available to the Department of Assistance. This bill simply provides that when the reports show that there are children in the families of people on relief, and there are invalids who require milk, as a part of the relief that is given to them, milk orders be issued.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the present cash grants to such families provide for milk in accordance with the rules and regulations laid down by the Board of Public Assistance?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, whatever the present rules may provide, relief is given in the form of checks, and if there is any milk given, as I understand it, it is simply condensed milk or canned milk, or something of that kind.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I don't think the gentleman understood my question. I asked him if he did not know that the present checks or present cash allowances given to familiies on the assistance roll cover milk as one of the items to be bought.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I will say that I do know that milk is included in the budget for which checks are given, and while I don't want to slander or malign anyone who is on relief, because I know we have many worthy people who are on relief at the present time for the reason that they are unfortunate and can't find work, yet I also know that there are a great many others upon our relief rolls for the reason that the head of the family, the man who should be taking care of the family, is too lazy and shiftless to do his job, and when he gets his relief check, in a great many instances, he spends it at the corner tap room for whiskey and beer for himself, rather than for milk for his children. I feel that milk is necessary for the welfare and the health of the children of this Commonwealth, and it is our duty to see that enough of that relief check is spent for the children and others who need and require it.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, granting for the sake of argument that the statement of Mr. Eckels is correct that the heads of some families spent the money that is allotted them for liquor instead of milk, how does the gentleman propose to go about giving these people milk and being assured that it will ultimately reach the ones for whom it is intended, in which of course we are all interested, and at the same time not add a further financial burden on the state, which as the majority floor leader stated this afternoon, is already extremely heavy.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I don't see, if we have the set up for investigation that we are supposed to have now in the Department of Assistance why this extra expense should be so very heavy. I think a system could be developed for the issuance of these checks in a manner that would not be a great expense, but I say, if it is an additional expense it would be money well spent by this Commonwealth in the fulfillment of its obligation to the children and invalids of the unfortunate people of the Commonwealth. I say milk orders can be given the same as was done before when milk was taken into the homes and used there. If the milk is there, the children will have it available. Statistics show that the consumption of milk has dropped greatly since milk orders were discontinued.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Crawford any idea how many additional employes will be needed in the Department of Public Assistance, and I am speaking with particular reference to the county boards?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, as I stated before I do not believe it would require any great addition to the present set up.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, has the Secretary of Public Assistance given the Chairman of the Welfare Committee any idea as to the additional cost?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, he has not given me any idea as to the additional cost or anything else in connection with the matter. What he has given to the Chairman of the Committee will have to be stated by that Chairman. I have heard in an around about way some things that I have found to be erroneous.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, if the Chairman of the Committee on Welfare, Mr. Van Allsburg, has stated that the Secretary of Public Assistance told him this would cost for the next biennium an additional four hundred thousand dollars, would the gentleman say that that was a sensible, logical addition.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I would want to see the figures and the calculation upon which that figure was based. I don't believe it will cost any such figure as that which has been stated.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the discussion of this bill after it has been agreed to on second reading has proceeded far enough. We would like to go on with the calendar as quickly as possible.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 657, Printer's Number 677 be recommitted to the Committee on Welfare for further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the members to vote this motion down for the reason, as I have stated, that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has gone on record, if you will read the preamble to the Milk Control Act, as adopting the legislative policy that milk is a health necessity for the people of Pennsylvania, and further, this matter is a matter of vital importance to the rural communities and farmers of our state, as well as to the people on relief. I ask the members to vote "no" on this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shaw and Mr. Andrews and were as follows:

ship in the same manner as debts of like amount are collected by law Provided however That upon the trial of any such action of assumpsit the reasonableness of the expenditures made by the Secretary of Health shall be submitted to the jury for its determination

Section 714-A Payment of Expenses Recovered Into State Treasury All expenses incurred by the State Secretary of Health in the administration of health laws in any township when paid to him by such township or when collected by him shall be returned by him to the State Treasurer who shall credit the amount so received to the appropriation made to the Department of Health

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, much as I hate to, I will.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, it is rather customary, when such a motion is made, that the gentleman who makes the motion consult with the sponsor of the bill.

I would like to ask the gentleman why he insists on recommitting this bill at this time, because he knows that we hope to adjourn on the 26th, and if this bill is recommitted it will be impossible to get it through. If the gentleman desires, I would be delighted to ask that the bill go over in its order and consult with him about this matter.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I first wish to apologize to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, for not complying with one of the strict rules of procedure.

I might say that the bill has been in the Committee on Townships where, personally, I believe it should not have been sent. It is a health measure, it affects second class townships in my county, with reference to health boards. In my opinion it duplicates the work that the health boards are now doing in those townships. I am perfectly willing to have it passed over if the sponsor wishes to talk to me about it later. I will withdraw my motion to recommit.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1461, Senate Bill No. 235, Printer's No. 126 and House Bill No. 1434, Senate Bill No. 461, Printer's No. 100 were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1435, (Senate Bill No. 462), entitled:

An Act to amend Clause 2 of Section 1 and Sections 4 6 7 8 and 14 of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1433) entitled "An act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County with respect to the care guidance control trial placement and commitment of delinquent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency neglect and dependency of children and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by extending the provisions of the act to children under eighteen years of age.

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause 2 of Section 1 and Sections 4 6 7 8 and 14 of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1433) entitled "An act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County with respect to the care guidance control trial placement and commitment of delinquent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency neglect and dependency of children and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 480, as follows:

An Act regulating the appointment promotion suspension reduction removal and reinstatement of employes (except chiefs deputy chiefs and chief clerks) in bureaus of fire and fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in bureaus of electricity in cities of the second class defining the powers and duties of Civil Service Commissions for such purpose in said cities and repealing inconsistent legislation

Section 1 All positions in bureaus of fire except as here and after provided and all positions of fire alarm operators and fire alarm box inspectors in bureaus of electricity in cities of second class shall be in the competitive class of the civil service of such cities This act shall not apply to or include chief officers of bureaus of fire under the director of the department by whatever title his position may be designated nor his ranking deputy by whatever title his position may be designated nor to chief clerks in bureaus of fire in such cities

Section 2 The Civil Service Commissions in cities of the second class shall not have the power to change any rule or regulation which shall have been established and which is in force and effect on the date of the approval of this act insofar as the same shall apply to the positions provided in this act to be in the competitive class nor shall any such Commission have the power to waive any such rule or regulation in any specific case or cases

Section 3 Each applicant for original appointment to a position in the competitive class in any bureau of fire in any city of the second class or to the position of fire alarm operator or fire alarm box inspector in any bureau of electricity in any such city shall undergo a physical examination which shall be conducted by a Commission composed of doctors of medicine appointed for that purpose by the mayor Said Commission shall certify to the Civil Service Commission that the applicant is free from bodily or mental defects deformities or diseases that might incapacitate him from the performance of the duties of the position he is seeking before such applicant shall be permitted to take any further examination No application for such appointment shall be received from any person who is under twenty-one years of age or over thirty-five years of age at the date of his application Nor shall any such application be received from any person who shall not have been a bona fide resident of the city for one year next preceding the date of his application Provided however That any applicant for reinstatement as a member of the bureau of fire or as a fire alarm operator or as a fire alarm box inspector of any such city in which he makes such application who shall have served previously as an employe in such bureau for a period of more than six months and who at the time of his application for reinstatement shall be a resident of such city shall be eligible for such reinstatement even though such applicant shall be over the age of thirty-five years.

Section 4 Reinstatements as employees in said bureaus of fire and as fire alarm operators and fire alarm box inspectors in said bureaus of electricity may be made without any restriction or restrictions as to time No examination other than a physical examination as directed by the Civil Service Commission shall be required in any case of reinstatement Any person so reinstated shall be the lowest in rank in the bureau in which he shall be reinstated next above the probationers in such bureau

No person employed in a competitive position in any bureau of fire or as a fire alarm operator or as a fire alarm box inspector in any bureau of electricity in any city of the second class shall be eligible for promotion from a lower grade to a higher grade until such person shall have completed at least two years' service in said lower grade

Section 5 No employee in the competitive class in any bureau of fire in any city of the second class shall be removed discharged or suspended for a period exceeding ten (10) days as a penalty or reduced in rank or pay without his written consent except for just cause which shall not be religious or political nor in any event except by the decision of a court either of trial or inquiry duly determined and certified in writing to the mayor and approved in writing by the mayor which court shall be composed of three persons employed in said bureau of fire equal or superior in rank therein to the accused Such decision shall only be determined by trial of charges with plain specifications made by or lodged with the Director of the Department of Public Safety of which trial the accused shall have due notice and at which he shall have the right to be present in person and also by a brother employee or an attorney-at-law to act as his counsel The persons composing such court shall be appointed as hereinafter provided and shall be sworn by the Director of the Department of Public Safety to perform their duties impartially and without fear or favor and the person of highest rank in said court shall have the same authority to issue and enforce process to secure the attendance of witnesses and to administer oaths to witnesses as is possessed by any justice of the peace of this Commonwealth If said persons shall be equal in rank then the persons composing such court shall select one of their number to exercise said authority Such charges may be of disability for service in which case the court shall be one of inquiry whose decision may be for the honorable discharge from the service of the employee concerned or of neglect or violation of law or duty inefficiency intemperance disobedience of orders or unbecoming official or personal conduct in which cases the court shall be one of trial and its decision shall authorize the Director of the Department of Public Safety to impose fines and pecuniary penalties to be stopped from pay or to suspend from pay or duty or both for a period fixed by them not exceeding one year or to dismiss from the service It shall be lawful for the Director of the Department of Public Safety at his discretion to suspend from duty before trial any employee charged as aforesaid until such trial can be had with or without pay as such court shall afterwards determine but no trial shall be delayed for more than one month after the charge has been made

Section 6 The members of such court of inquiry or trial shall be selected as follows The Director of the Department of Public Safety shall in the presence of the employee charged and his brother officer or attorney-at-law acting as his counsel as aforesaid cause the names of at least fifty employees of the bureau of fire who hold a position in the competitive class equal or superior in rank to the employee under charges to be written upon separate slips of paper of the same size color and texture and folded or rolled so that the names thereon cannot be distinguished until drawn as hereinafter provided cause said slips to be placed in a box or other receptacle properly adapted for the drawing therefrom of names by law as hereinafter provided Said fifty names so deposited shall be provided as follows The Director of the Department of Public Safety shall supply twenty-five thereof and the employee so charged shall supply twenty-five thereof When said names shall have been so deposited in said box or receptacle the same shall be thoroughly shaken by some disinterested person until said slips of paper shall have been thoroughly mixed and thereupon such disinterested person shall draw therefrom singly and by law seven names and the Director of the Department of Public Safety and the person so charged shall each in order be entitled to exercise alternate challenges until the names of three persons are left and said three persons shall compose said court either of trial or inquiry as the case may be In the event that there should not be fifty employes of the Bureau of Fire holding positions in the competitive class equal or superior in rank to the employee under charges then the names of all such employees equal or superior in rank to the employee under charges shall be so placed in said box and drawn therefrom and said court of trial or inquiry selected in the manner hereinabove described or as nearly in such manner as may be possible in the circumstances Any employee so charged may waive by his written consent the selection of a board by agreeing to the board that has already been chosen Any employee so charged if he shall demand it in writing shall be furnished promptly without cost or expense to him a transcript of the testimony taken before said court of inquiry or trial duly certified by the official reporter

After said decision of said court shall have been duly determined certified in writing to the mayor and approved by the mayor in writing the Director of the Department of Public Safety shall before imposing the penalty so determined furnish the person so charged with a written statement of the reasons for his said action and shall afford the person so charged a period of at least five days within which to make reply thereto if he so desires In every case of such removal discharge suspension reduction or fine a copy of the statement of the reasons therefor and the written answer thereto of the person so sought to be penalized if any together with a transcript of the proceedings and decision of said trial court shall be furnished forthwith to the Civil Service Commission and entered upon its records If the employee affected shall demand it the Civil Service Commission shall upon his written request therefor grant him a public hearing which hearing shall be held within a period of fifteen days from his said request At such hearing the burden of proof shall be upon the removing officer to justify his action If the Civil Service Commission shall fail to sustain the action of the removing officer the person sought to be removed shall be reinstated with full pay for the entire period during which he may have been prevented from performing his usual employment and no charges shall be recorded against him A written record of all testimony taken at such hearing shall be kept and preserved by the Civil Service Commission which record shall be sealed and not be available for public inspection unless an appeal be taken by the employee from the action of the Commission Any employee so charged if he shall demand it in writing shall be furnished promptly without cost or expense to him a transcript of the testimony taken before said Civil Service Commission duly certified by the official reporter If the Civil Service Commission shall sustain the action of the removing officer the person removed shall have the right to appeal to the court of common pleas of the county which appeal shall be taken within ninety days from the entry by the Civil Service Commission of its final order When such appeal is so taken the Civil Service Commission shall not later than ten days after notice of such appeal shall have been served upon it by the employee appealing make and certify to the court of common pleas a complete record including the written charges the employee's answer thereto if any the testimony taken before the Commission and all other papers and documents in its files in connection with said appeal The court of common pleas shall have the power to inspect said record and if it shall find the same to be incomplete or insufficient in any matter to order and direct the Civil Service Commission to supply such defect The court of common pleas shall proceed to hear said appeal upon the record so certified and no additional evidence shall be introduced The court of common pleas shall have the power to affirm or reverse the order of the Civil Service Commission or in its discretion to modify the same Any employee so charged who shall be dissatisfied with the decision of the court of common pleas shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania Neither the city the removing officer nor any person other than the employee so charged shall have any right to appeal either to the court of common pleas or to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania The power to suspend shall in no event be for minor or petty offenses or for political or religious reasons

Section 7 If for reasons of economy lack of funds abolition of position or positions or for any other reason it becomes necessary for any city of the second class to reduce the number of employees of its bureau of fire or the number of fire alarm operators or fire alarm box inspectors in its bureau of electricity then the city shall follow the following procedure

fire alarm operators or fire alarm box inspectors eligible for retirement under the terms of any pension fund then such reduction in numbers shall be made by retirement on pension of all the oldest in age and service

Second If the number of employees in its bureau of fire fire alarm operators and fire alarm box inspectors eligible for retirement under the pension fund of said city if any is insufficient to effect the reduction in number desired by said city or if there is no eligible person for retirement or if no pension fund exists in said city then the reduction shall be effected by suspending the last man or men including probationers that have been appointed Such removal shall be accomplished by suspending in numerical order commencing with the last man appointed all recent appointees until such reduction shall have been accomplished Whenever the number of such employees in the bureau of fire or fire alarm operators or fire alarm box inspectors in the bureau of electricity shall again be increased in numbers or if any vacancies occur the employees suspended under the terms of this act shall be reinstated to their former class before any new appointees are appointed

Section 8 If any person in the employ of a city of the second class as a fireman and employee in the bureau of fire or as a fire alarm operator or fire alarm box inspector in the bureau of electricity in such city shall be convicted of crime the proper appointing officer shall not be required to dismiss such employee but shall have the right and power to retain such employee in his said position if in the discretion of such appointing officer the facts and circumstances surrounding the conviction of such employee are such as not to require his dismissal

Section 9 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted by the General Assembly had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 10 The act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1108) entitled "An act providing for the appointment promotion reduction removal and reinstatement of paid officers firemen and employees of fire departments and of fire alarm operators and fire box inspectors in the bureaus of electricity in cities of the second and third class defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions for such purposes and fixing penalties" and its amendment are hereby repealed in so far as the same applies to cities of the second class

All other acts and parts of acts general special or local inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

Section 11 It is the purpose of this act to furnish in connection with the act of Assembly approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws 206) entitled "An act to regulate and improve the Civil Service of the cities of the second class in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making violations of its provisions to be misdemeanors and providing penalties for violations thereof" and its amendments a complete and exclusive system for the appointment promotion reduction removal suspension and reinstatement of employees in the competitive class in bureaus of fire and of all fire alarm operators and fire alarm box inspectors in the bureaus of electricity in cities of the second class

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 567, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 275) entitled "An act fixing the salary of sheriffs in counties of the eighth class providing for the payment for the care and maintenance of prisoners where the sheriff is the keeper or warden of the jail requiring all fees and mileage earned by sheriffs in such counties to be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county and prescribing penalties" increasing the salary of sheriffs in such counties and providing for the payment of mileage thereto by the counties

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 275) entitled "An act fixing the salary of sheriffs in counties of the eighth class providing for the payment for the care and maintenance of prisoners where the sheriff is the keeper or warden of the jail requiring all fees and mileage earned by sheriffs in such counties to be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sheriff in each county of the eighth class shall receive an annual salary of [twelve hundred dollars $1,200] sixteen hundred dollars ($1,600) Such salary in addition to any expenses which may be incurred by such sheriff in the performance of his duties shall be paid by the county from moneys in the county treasury Such expenses shall include an allowance of reasonable mileage by the county to the sheriff on the various writs copies of pleadings official notices execution processes or court orders and other documents or copies thereof which he or his clerks or deputies may be required to serve or execute

The sheriff in said counties shall not be entitled to any additional fees or compensation for the care and maintenance of prisoners but the actual expense for such care and maintenance of prisoners shall be paid by the county from the county treasury upon itemized bills rendered from time to time

Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine Provided however That the provisions of this amendatory act shall not be applicable to sheriffs in office on the effective date of this act during their present term of office but such sheriffs shall during their present term of office continue to receive the salary prescribed by the act to which this act is an amendment

Section 1, page 2, line 9, after the word "said" strike out "rail-" and insert the word "car"

Section 1, page 2, line 10, strike out lines 10 to 18 inclusive.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 99.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 99, Printer's No. 600, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 1055), entitled "Indeterminate Sentence. Probation and Penitentiary Parole Law," as amended, by permitting the court to suspend sentence and place defendant on probation in cases of conviction of any crime, under certain conditions.

was defeated on final passage Monday, May 8, 1939, be reconsidered.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hess, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Alspach, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, very briefly, all this bill does is to allow the judge, if he sees fit and if the case warrants, to place a man on probation. They do that now, anyhow, but they do it by getting around the law. The judge sentences a man and then suspends sentence. He doesn't have to spend any time in jail. Some of the judges in Philadelphia feel that that is more or less of a roundabout way of getting around the law and would like to put deserving cases on probation.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was considered last week and was defeated through an erroneous conception. I request the members on the Republican side and the members on the Democratic side to vote for this bill. It is a very, very meritorious bill and does not deserve the cruel fate of being defeated through a misunderstanding.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTIONS

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE REQUESTED TO SURVEY LAWS

Mr. GATES offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

Whereas, There are many laws upon the statute books of the Commonwealth which are obsolete, unnecessary and unworkable; and

Whereas, The presence of such acts upon the statute books only makes for confusion; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, hereby requests the Joint State Government Committee to make a survey of the laws of the Commonwealth, pick out such acts as to them seem inconsistent and prepare bills for the repeal thereof for introduction at the next Session of the General Assembly.

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. FREED and LICHTENWALTER offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1939.

The Honorable Jacob L. Moser received a gift today, the occasion, his birthday, age unknown. However, it is possible to conclude that he is upward of twenty-one years of age, although the present belies the fact.

There is no Pennsylvania Manual yet published from which his age can be ascertained, as in the case of so many members of the house, but it is comparable to other Spanish and American War Veterans of the House.

In his native habitat the Honorable Jacob is the publisher of the Minor Judiciary of Pennsylvania and it is plausible to conclude that he is a master at the art, otherwise his constituents would not have sent him here to add his luster and lustiness founded upon his great wisdom as a publisher to the deliberations of this house; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the members of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That we heartily congratulate our fellow Member, the Honorable Jacob L. Moser upon the occurrence of his birthday and not only wish him many happy returns of the day, but we hope that they will often be celebrated here with us and that as his days grow longer, his tribe increase and his glory brighter; and be it further

Resolved, That as a lasting souvenir of this particular birthday, a copy of this resolution shall be prepared and transmitted to the Honorable Jacob L. Moser by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, after sitting on the side lines for sixty years, I assure you that I very much appreciate the honor you have bestowed upon me today. Thank you.

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. AUKER and JONES offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

The attention of the House is called to the Honorable George W. Fisher, the member from Huntingdon County, who occupies seat No. 68 in the fourth row and in the very center of the House.

No one would believe by looking at him or hearing him talk, that today marks the sixty-eighth anniversary of his birth.

It is reported that his good wife, who is here today celebrating the occasion, reports that at the rate his tongue goes one would think him less than thirty years of age.

The secret of his youthful appearance is that he is a baker and eats heartily of his own product. His rolls and bread and cakes have not only helped him retain his youth, but their quality has made him popular with his constituents; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Members of the House that we extend to our member the Honorable George W. Fisher our warmest and heartiest congratulations upon this the anniversary of his natal day, wish for him many more happy returns of the same and hope that he may always have the dough and will always know how to turn it into products that will keep him youthful and popular with his home people, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to our sixty-eight year old member.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the sentiments expressed in Mr. Auker's resolution. Birthdays may come and birthdays may go but this is just another day after you have passed fifty. My wish is, Mr. Speaker, to you and this House, that you will enjoy as good health as I have enjoyed, and have as good a time as I have had and feel as young as I do at my age.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Huntingdon if, as he understands from this resolution, the youthful appearance of the gentleman from Huntingdon is occasioned by eating bread and rolls, the Chair expects to be in the same condition.

Mr. FISHER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, by eating Fisher's bread and rolls.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Huntingdon for his offer to supply the Speaker with bread and rolls.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS

Mr. TRONZO offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent to have it read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

Whereas, Growing out of the searching investigations made by the United States Senate subcommittee pursuant to a resolution to investigate violations of the rights of free speech and assembly and interference with the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively, there has been introduced in the Congress of the United States, by Senators Robert A. LaFollette, Jr. and Elbert D. Thomas, Senate Bill No. 1970, for the purpose of abolishing certain labor practices; and

Whereas, The purpose of this bill is to stop those evil practices which have been injected into and intensified labor disputes to the detriment of fair-minded employers, labor and the public who place their reliance on mutual goodwill and collective agreement; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania as a leading industrial State is particularly concerned that the legislation it has placed upon its statute books to make civil rights effective and encourage friendly labor relations may be continued and supported by Federal enactment to cover inter-state commerce; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to pass Senate Bill No. 1970; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1939. 133d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 23 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1939. No. 57.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 17, 1939.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

"The eyes of all wait upon Thee, O God; Thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest Thine hand and supplieth the desires of every living thing."

Just as the physical body demands food for daily sustenance, so does the soul of man demand spiritual food for the normal functions of our stewardship for Thee.

Give us, then, that good of truth, righteousness and love that our labor here may rightfully be colored by it and the resulting legislation a lasting testimony to Thy guiding hand.

As we live, move and love our being in Thee, may we truly be thankful unto Thee for the privilege of serving in Thy vineyard once more in the fleeting minutes of this day of Thy creation. In Thy holy name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. SHAPIRO, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I wish to rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, let me, for the purpose of soothing the nerves of persons who get major hysteria whenever I plead for the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium—using a medical term, or I think it is a medical term—and assure them that this is not a sanatorium speech, often miscalled even in this Senate sanitarium.

Mr. President, I wish to talk for just a few minutes on another question that is vitally important to thousands of my constituents and to thousands of other people over Pennsylvania—important to the farmers, especially to the milk producing farmers.

I want to say a few words as to raw milk and as to pasteurized milk. Raw milk is the most palatable milk, it is the most digestible milk, it is the most nourishing milk. Every farmer knows that if he fed or were to feed a calf pasteurized milk it would likely end its earthly career within two weeks.

Now, I am getting a good many letters from representatives of the milk trust telling me that it is highly dangerous to use raw milk. One letter in particular, from Western Pennsylvania, told me that if a cow drinks water that has disease germs in it those disease germs will be in her milk. He went to such great length that I almost took it for granted that he meant to say that if a cow would drink muddy water she would produce muddy milk.

The cow is one of the most valuable and useful animals to mankind, and I hate to see her reputation ruined by representatives of the milk trust. The cow has one of the best of nature's laboratories, and if, perchance, she drinks impure water with disease germs in it, that laboratory takes care of those disease germs. If she drinks water, for instance, that has typhoid, such typhoid will not be in her milk. If she has tuberculosis in areas removed from the udder, and the milk ducts, her milk is free from tuberculosis. The State of Pennsylvania recognizes this fact, and when it inspects cows that have tuberculosis of the lungs, for instance, and no infection near the milk ducts, Pennsylvania permits the meat of such cows to be put on the market.

The pasteurizing temperature, as every well informed person knows, is 142 degrees. Such temperature does not kill vicious disease germs. If you want to make either water, or milk that has typhoid, or the various types of streptococci, free from such germs, it is necessary that you boil it; and if you want to be safe you had better boil it for fifteen minutes. The medical profession knows this. I was just talking to my good friend, the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman, who is a mighty good doctor—because I took some of his medicine in the last session and I am now in as good health as ever. He tells me that the rule around the hospitals is, when the doctors sterilize their instruments in hot water they boil them anywhere from twenty minutes to a half hour.

All the pasteurizing temperature does is to kill most of of the fermentation bacteria, but not all of them even. I have milk producing farmers in my good old county of Butler that produce raw milk that has less fermentation bacteria in it than the average pasteurized milk, according to weekly laboratory tests in Pittsburgh. Yes, indeed, it is true that if milk, for instance, would have typhoid in it before pasteurizing it would likely contain more after it is pasteurized. That temperature would simply hatch out—to use the expression—a lot of new germs.

What I am getting at is this: that the milk trust misrepresents both raw milk and pasteurized milk in order to shut off the market of pure raw milk for those who prefer such milk. It has been a common practice of the milk trust to send its agents in the guise of lecturers and the like to address womens' clubs and other organizations into the towns and hold up before them the appalling picture of dead babies—babies killed by drinking raw milk, and telling them that pasteurized milk kills disease germs.

Well, if raw, pure raw milk is so dangerous to the life of babies, it is remarkable that we old farmers can raise any babies at all, because there are few, very few, babies on farms that ever tasted pasteurized milk. Farmers know the difference between pasteurized milk and raw milk; but the only babies on farms that I can think of that are using pasteurized milk in preference to the pure raw milk from nature's own laboratory are a few farmers up around Allentown, according to the testimony by a milk dealer near Allentown at one of the hearings of the Milk Investigating Commission. He told us, in speaking of the dangers of raw milk, that some of the farmers that sell milk to his company do not use the raw milk that they produce on their own farms, but buy pasteurized milk from his company. I should like to take a look at those farmers; I should like to see the color of their hair.

But the milk trust, as I say, send their agents into a town to misrepresent raw milk, saying it cannot be produced free from disease germs if the cow happens to drink some disease germs; telling them of the dead babies that undertakers will be called in to bury if they feed their children raw milk; and telling them the way to be safe is to use pasteurized milk. And so, the first thing we know the town becomes so excited that the town council passes an ordinance forbidding the sale of raw milk in that town. Then the adjoining farmer, even though he has immaculate stables and complies with all the sanitary regulations in the handling of his milk, can not sell it to the neighbors in his town unless he goes to the prohibitive expense of putting in a pasteurizing plant, which in most cases he cannot do. Then the market for his milk to his town neighbors is shut off and the milk trust brings in pasteurized milk from the unclean and uninspected stables of the Middle West; pasteurized milk that is probably two weeks old before it reaches the tables of the consumers. Here and there there is even a medical doctor so friendly to the milk trust that he joins the dead baby battalion; here and there one bobs up, as recently, even in the Western part of the State, where I come from.

I want it to be understood that I am not opposed to pasteurized milk generally. I know that the main purpose of pasteurizing milk is to keep it from souring, is to make it able to be transported long distances. In fact, pasteurized milk will not sour, it prefers to rot. So we have to have pasteurization of milk if we are going to transport it long distances; but the point I make is this: I am opposed to the misrepresenting of raw milk and the misrepresenting of pasteurized milk by agents of the milk trust in order to shut out the market for the clean, pure raw milk of the farmer producing it for people who know the virtues of raw milk and who wish to buy raw milk.

There is not a bigger bugaboo, not a bigger misrepresentation in industry in Pennsylvania than this misrepresentation of raw milk and pasteurized milk; not a bigger misrepresentation. So I want to be on record as making this protest. I want, as I say, not be misunderstood; I am simply opposed to the process of pasteurization in those cases where pasteurization is misrepresented and raw milk is misrepresented—to the destroying of the market for the raw milk of the farmer, produced under the most sanitary conditions.

Senator McGinnis asked me to tell the difference between raw milk and pasteurized milk. He is from the city. I will have to repeat that pasteurized milk is milk heated to a temperature of 142 degrees. I will repeat for his benefit that if he ever has a surgeon operate on him with instruments that have not been sterilized—and they must be sterilized before they open him up—I want him to be sure that that surgeon does not stop at 142 degrees temperature but boils those instruments for at least ten minutes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am very much interested in the remarks of my colleague on the subject of milk, and I think I can give him some good advice. I believe, as he does in raw milk, and if the requirements for the production of raw milk were very stringent I think it could accomplish his purpose. The reason we have pasteurized milk is to protect the public against dirty milk. It is the same idea of course as, if you have to drink dirty water—it is safer to boil it; and the same thing applies to milk.

There is no question that raw milk is more digestible than pasteurized milk, and I think if the Senator would look up the law with reference to the inspection of milk, if he would tighten up some of those laws so that the raw milk on the market was above suspicion, he would do more to make a frontal attack on the milk trust than in any other way.

I might say, incidentally, I am a director, myself of the milk trust—of the Borden Company, which is a subsidiary of the milk trust. I am a director of a subsidiary, Walker-Gordon. When I attend their meetings I always put up this argument about raw milk; but the ordinances of New York and all the large cities require pasteurized milk, and they have no choice; but I am interested in what my colleague says about raw milk; and I simply want to reinforce what he says about the advantages of raw milk.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, called my attention to the fact that I had left out saying anything about the relative nourishing qualities of raw milk and pasteurized milk. Probably he is right about it. I want to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, whether he agrees with me that raw milk is more nourishing than pasteurized milk.

Mr. WOODWARD. Exactly, Mr. President; as soon as you pasteurize milk, by heating it, the process makes the fat globules less digestible, no doubt about it.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 953, (HOUSE BILL No. 1062)

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 953, (House Bill No. 1062), entitled:

An Act relating to the acquisition of rights to divert water from rivers streams natural lakes and ponds or other surface waters within the Commonwealth or partly within and partly without the Commonwealth defining various words and phrases vesting in the Water and Power

Resources Board certain powers and authorities for the conservation control and equitable use of the waters within the Commonwealth in the interests of the people of the Commonwealth making available for public water supply purposes water rights heretofore or hereafter acquired but not used providing for hearings by the Water and Power Resources Board and for appeals from its decisions fixing fees granting to all public water supply agencies heretofore or hereafter created the right of eminent domain as to waters and the land covered by said waters repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith including Act No. 109 P. L. 152 approved April 13 1905 Act No. 307 P. L. 455 approved June 7, 1907 Act No. 64 P. L. 258 approved April 8, 1937.

was defeated on May 15, 1939.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye" "nay."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye" "nay."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 953, (House Bill No. 1063), go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 4:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

Mr. GELDER. Mr President, I second the motion

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to inquire from the gentleman from Tioga whether this "five o'clock" he mentioned is going to mean a prompt five o'clock session.

Mr. OWLETT. It will be five o'clock, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand this recess is for the purpose of allowing certain committees to meet to consider certain legislation which they want to finish, and that this recess is for the purpose of obviating the necessity of the Senators waiting around until the committees are through; but I do hope that we will meet promptly at five o'clock, because I do not want to be knocked out; and I think we should all get a little rest.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to assure the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that the Republican Caucus will not extend its time as has the Democratic Caucus on occasions. We will reconvene promptly at four p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senate, your presiding officer will be here at four o'clock, at which time, promptly, this Senate will be called to order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. If I get that assurance, Mr. President, it will be all right.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 474, as follows:

An Act to amend a part of section one of the act approved the fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy) entitled "An act to regulate and establish the fees to be charged by justices of the peace and aldermen in this Commonwealth and imposing liability for costs upon the county in certain cases" providing for the payment of costs in dismissed summary conviction proceedings

Section 1 That the paragraph relating to the payment of costs in dismissed summary conviction proceedings contained in section one of the act approved the fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy) entitled "An act to regulate and establish the fees to be charged by justices of the peace and aldermen in this Commonwealth and imposing liability for costs upon the county in certain cases" is hereby amended to read as follows

In all summary conviction proceedings in which the evidence is not sufficient to convict and the defendant is dismissed the costs of the suit shall be divided between the prosecutor and the defendant but in no one case shall the justice of the peace or alderman impose more than one-half of the costs on the defendant Provided however that where a political subdivision or a police officer of any political sub-division or the Commonwealth is the prosecutor the cost shall be paid by the county

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEYBURN: Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. You will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Bartlett,	Ealy.	James.	Pierson,
Cavalcante,	Edmonds,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,

Crowe,	Gelder,	McCreesh,	Tallman,
Deitrick,	Geltz,	McGinnis.	Thomas.
Dent,	Haluska,	Miller,	Wolfenden,
DiSilvestro,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Woodward.

NAYS—6

Heyburn,	Rice,	Sipe,	Walker.
Reed,	Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 611, (House Bill No. 1063), entitled:

An Act to add section six hundred twenty-one and one-tenth to and to further amend section six hundred twenty-nine of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" defining the regulating group accident and health insurance and extending the exclusion of certain standard policy provisions to ticket policies sold to passengers by common carriers

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 611
(HOUSE No. 1063)

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask uanimous consent to amend sec. 1 (Sec. 521.1), page 8, line 13, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the word S "hospitalization" and insert in lieu thereof "hospital expense benefits;" amend sec. 1 (Sec. 621.1), page 8, line 19, by striking out with heavy-faced brackets the word S "hospitalization" and insert in lieu thereof "service"

On the quesiton,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object, Mr. President, because we skipped a day. We did not amend it yesterday and I do not think we should amend it today.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. Presient, some of the sponsors of this bill were enbarrassed and did not want to offer the amendments, and therefore I agreed to submit them.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will withdraw the objection, Mr. President, if they promise to amend it again tomorrow.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 709, (House Bill No. 563), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections eight ten and clause (a) of section fourteen of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-five) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties" by providing additional grounds for refusing suspending or revoking licenses further regulating the procedure of the board giving associations of funeral directors the right of appeal in certain cases and extending the power of the board to make rules and regulations

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I did not mind this bill until this last amendment was offered. The first amendment may be in line with the duties, although I doubt it; but the second amendment, which requires that a corporation cannot engage in the undertaking business unless every person engaged is a licensed undertaker goes just a little bit too far in my opinion.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 709, (House Bill No. 563), on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 244, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 447) entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors and of trust estates including the appointment bonds rights powers duties liabilities accounts discharge and removal of executors administrators guardians and trustees herein designated as fiduciaries the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents widow's and children's exemptions debts of decedents rents of real estate as assets for payment thereof the lien thereof sales and mortgages of real estate for the payment thereof judgments and executions therefor and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof contracts of decedents for the

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with this bill, I am not quite certain whether this is the bill discussed by a committee of bankers at a meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General before I came there this morning, but this bill apparently has the same intent and purpose as the bill which was discussed this morning, and I am opposed to this bill.

I think it is a mistake to do what we are doing in this bill, and the other one which I think was reported out, and that is to permit a fiduciary to occupy two positions; to have a personal interest in a trust which he is supposed to represent, and also to be a fiduciary in the same trust.

That is what this bill does, and that is what is proposed by the bill reported out, to allow a trustee—a bank or trust company to be a trustee for a piece of property on which there is a mortgage, to have a personal interest in that mrotgage, or part of it, and sell five-sixths, three fourths or one half or seven-eighths of its interest in that mortgage to its trust department; and then it acts in two capacities, one as the owner of a portion of the property, and the other as trustee; and the same thing is permitted in this bill and I do not think it is a proper condition to permit.

I would like to ask the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, if that was his intent when he introduced the bill.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, you have such a situation, particularly in country banks and country trust companies, that this is about the only way you can handle it, if you are going to take trust funds in small amounts, and keep them on an earning basis.

If the gentleman from Philadelphia will make any suggested amendments that will be helpful, I will be very glad to hear them. For his information, I would say that the Banking Department stated as long as there were sufficient safeguards in the act to prevent any double dealing, as the Senator suggested might be possible, because of the double capacity in which the bank acted, they thought it was perfectly safe.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, first of all, may I disclaim any suggestion that there will be any double dealing by the bank, but I do insist upon my position that no person can occupy two contradictory positions and do them both right. You can not carry water on both shoulders.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, at the present time where you have a corporation functioning as both a bank and a trust company, they are performing dual functions, and the only difference is that the Senator from Philadelphia objects to dual functions being performed in the same transaction; is that correct?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am objecting to a person being a fiduciairy and at the same time being a trustee for me and at the same time having a personal interest in the estate; that is what I am objecting to. I might suggest to the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, that there has been adopted by this Senate a method of taking care of those cases. These so-called small funds, they tell me, do not amount to more than a thousand dollars.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, we passed a bill, a few days ago, in which we permitted saving banks to accept trust funds, and we permitted executors, administrators and trustees to invest in saving banks up to $1,000—increased the limit from $500 to $1,000—so they can get 3.65 per cent interest in those banks which are paying that.

That, in some measure, took care of that situation, and I think it is enough for the time being. I do not believe we ought to pass laws allowing trust companies to advertise and say, "Let us take care of your interests, let us be your trustee," and at the same time have those banks selling us these properties which they have in their commercial department; and the situation will occur where they have a three-quarter interest in a property and I have a one-quarter interest in that same property—and I think they are bound to look after their three-quarter interest, honest as they may be, and if the situation is reversed they will be careless of my position. I do not think it a consistent position at all.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, want the bill to go over in its order?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think it should go over or be defeated, I do not care which.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, the bill we passed in the past week or so, to which the Senator from Philadelphia referred, takes care of small loans in a measure, but money so invested pays two or two-and-a-half per cent interest, at the utmost three per cent; but the bill that the Senator from Indiana now is sponsoring, and which is up for passage, would enable trust companies to invest these small sums at interest at as much as six per cent. The bankers who are fiduciaries think it is no more than right—and I think there is some reason in their contention—that they should realize as much for these people as possible.

This bill will enable them to invest money at five or six per cent, and double the income.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say that this bill came from the Committee on Banking, not from the Committee on Judiciary General. It does not create fractional interests; they are permitted now. The primary object of the bill is shown in the section which enables an individual fiduciary to join in the investment of funds of an estate of which he is a fiduciary—and that was because there is an tmbiguity in the Earle law which led to some doubt as to whether or not the individual could do that.

Now, it says, later on, that if there is a mortgage investment fund the funds may go into that. Let me remind you, gentlemen, that two years ago the Legislature passed an excellent mortgage investment fund act, with all sorts of protections that could be devised, and while it has not yet, as a matter of fact, come into actual use—because of some difference between it and the Federal Reserve requirements, which will require some change in the Federal laws—it nevertheless is on our books and if the day ever comes that an investment will be permitted in a mortgage investment fund I think our legislators may well be satisfied it will be in accordance with the stringent provisions which were enacted here a few years ago.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to answer the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, by calling attention to a provision on page 4 of this bill, to which I particularly object: "An individual fiduciary may join in the investment of the funds of the estate, of which he is a fiduciary in such investments, when such individual fiduciary is acting as a co-duciary with the person, trust company, bank and trust company, or national banking association creating such fractional undivided interests, or with the trust company, bank and trust company, or national banking association establishing and maintaining any such common trust fund or mortgage investment fund."

By the time I got through reading that bill I did not know what position the fiduciary exercised, and I doubt whether they will know; and it strikes me that it is not so much a question of the interest the estate is going to get but the safety of the investment.

I listened to the bankers this morning, and they agreed with me; I spent an hour trying to find out whether the problem could be solved. They agreed with me that in a large city that is a dangerous situation, but a necessity in the small community, that is another matter but certainly we ought not to saddle sixty-four or sixty-five counties with this kind of legislation; it would give the cestui que trust a little more interest and a great deal less safety.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the section of page 4, to which the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, referred, arises out of an opinion of counsel that an individual fiduciary need not join with a corporate fiduciary in making investments. My feeling is, it is a lot better that he should join. It means the individual fiduciary will do his work as well as the corporate fiduciary; and that really safeguards the point the Senator from Philadelphia, is raising, because it brings the benefits of a collective judgment.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think last week we passed a bill, and after its passage I called the attention of this Senate to the fact that it was an act which validated transactions between a fiduciary and the bank of which they were also a part.

Now the specific course of that was that during the time of the depression, when money was scarce and mortgages depreciated in value, banks with trust departments had taken mortgages from their commercial department that had depreciated in value, and had taken the widows' and orphans' money out, the trust funds, and bought from their commercial department those worthless, good-for-nothing securities, those mortgages. As a result of that, when the banks crashed then there were the widows and orphans with their money invested in worthless mortgages.

Now, as I said—I think it was last week—this Senate passed an Act of Assembly validating transfers of that kind, because that act was necessary, because the courts of our Commonwealth held that a fiduciary standing in that double position had knowledge of the fact that those mortgages in their commercial department, which they transferred and bought with the orphans' and the widows' funds were worthless and depreciated in value, and the court held the bank responsible, and of course sequence of that was the stockholders of that bank were liable to assessment for payment to the creditors of the bank. Despite that knowledge we passed a bill last week validating those transfers.

Now, this bill before us would make lawful those kinds of transactions in the future. If you are going to permit the trust section of a bank to join in with the commercial department of the same bank in transfers of these mortgages, or other securities of the commercial department, you are going to legalize a situation that the Supreme Court has declared now to be unlawful—that it was unlawful when they did it in the years past.

You pass this act and it will permit them to do that without any danger of being punished or without any danger of being liable for buying from their commercial department, with fiduciary funds, worthless and good-for-nothing securities.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk proceed to verify the roll.

Those voting in the affirmative were Messrs. Bartlett, Chapman, Crowe, Dando, Deitrick, Ealy, Edmonds, Eroe, Farrell, Gelder, Geltz, Heyburn, Homsher, James, Kilgallen, Letzler, Mallery, McGinnis, Miller, Owlett, Pierson, Scarlett, Snowden, Stevenson, Tallman, Thomas, Walker and Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmatvie vote will stand as verified.

Those voting in the negative were: Messrs. Cavalcante, Coleman, Dent, DiSilvestro, Haluska, Kunkel, McCreesh, Reed, Rice, Ruth, Shapiro, Sipe and Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative vote will stand as verified.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 267, (House Bill No. 449), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one and section four of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; defining in part the powers and duties of such commission; abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, terminating the terms of the members thereof, and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records, employes, property, and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise, instituted before, by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders, and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," by changing method of appointing and removing members of the Commission and making political activity a grounds for their removal.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that this bill be sent back to the committee from which it was reported.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object, and ask the Senate to vote the motion down.

The PRESIDENT. Has the motion been seconded?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to know why it should go over in its order? If there is any just reason for it I assure you I will not object to its going over in order.

I think it is a good bill and it should pass.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is no objection to its going over in its order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object, as I say, unless there is a good reason why it should go over in order. This bill has been on the calendar, as you will see, for months.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I was about to make a motion that this bill be again placed on the postponed calendar. The reason for that motion is the fact that we are working on some amendments to the bill; and if the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will withdraw his motion that it be recommitted, and agree that it be placed again on the postponed calendar, I will assure him that, in due time, amendments will be prepared and presented to the Senate for action.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would rather that it go over in order, if the Senator from Tioga is to amend it.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, withdraw his motion to recommit?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of that motion.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit having been withdrawn, the request for unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order is before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 393, (House Bill No. 298), on third reading entitled:

Cavalcante,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 859, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and seven of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 417), entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the court from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceedings thereunder; and making appropriations," removing the requirements that the Governor approve rules, regulations and orders issued by the commission.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 881, (House Bill No. 780), entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Forests and Waters with approval of the Governor to accept and acquire by gift grant or other lawful means certain canal properties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 881 (HOUSE No. 780)

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I voted "aye"

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the title was agreed to.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Sections, from two to one inclusive of the bill were severally reconsidered.

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 The Secretary of Forests and Waters with the approval of the Governor is hereby authorized to acquire in the name of the Commonwealth by gift grant or other lawful means the right title and interest of the owners in and to all property constituting the entire system of any canal or canals located wholly within this Commonwealth whose use as highways for transportation by water has ceased or been abandoned or shall cease or become abandoned together with such real estate adjacent to such canal as the Secretary of Forests and Waters may deem desirable Provided however That no consideration shall be paid to the owner or owners of such property for the whole or any parts thereof for any grants that may be made under the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 1, page 1, line 5 by striking out after the word "to" and before the word "property" the word "[all]" and inserting in lieu thereof, the words "any part of the;" amend Section 1, page 1, line 5 by inserting after the word "property" and before the word "constituting" the word "formerly;" amend Section 1, page 1, line 5 by striking out at the end of the line after the word "the" the word "[entire];" amend Section 1, page 1, line 9 by striking out after the word "with" and before the word "real" the word "[such]" and inserting in lieu thereof, the word "any;" amend Section 1, page 1, line 10, by inserting after the word "canal" and before the word "as" the words "or canals;" amend Section 1, page 1, line 10 by striking out after the word "canal" and before the word "the" the word "[as]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following "formerly used in connection therewith which;" amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "the" and before the word "owners" the words "[owner or];" amend Section 1, page 2, line 2 by striking out at the beginning of the line before the word "for" the words "[for the whole or any parts thereof]"

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 The Secretary of Forests and Waters shall supervise maintain improve regulate police and preserve all such property so acquired as and for state park purposes

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 2, page 2, line 6 by striking out at the end of the line after the word "preserve" the word "[all]" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "any"

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Forests and Waters with approval of the Governor to accept and acquire by gift grant or other lawful means certain canal properties

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did I understand that the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. James, offered amendments to Senate Bill No. 881.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I think, Mr. President, the gentleman was in error and that he intended these amendments to apply to Senate Bill 882. Senate Bill 881 gives to the Department of Forrestry and Water the right to take over the canals which were intended to be taken over by Senate Bill No. 882. The amendments apply to No. 882, which gives to the Commonwealth the right to accept as a gift the canals formerly owned by some company.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President Senate Bill No. 881 is the bill, I intended to amend.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is my mistake; the mistake is in the title.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 882, (House Bill No. 781), on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Forests and Waters with approval of the State Park Commission to transfer portions of canal properties acquired by the Department of Forests and Waters to the Department of Highways for highway purposes go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 969, (House Bill No. 1036), entitled:

An Act to regulate and restrain the sale purchase exchange pledge and dealing in distillery bonded warehouse certificate for whiskey or any other potable distilled spirits except ethyl alcohol conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board authorizing the granting of permits and registration of agents to deal in such certificates and the suspension and revocation of such permits and registration of agents providing for hearings and appeals to the court of common pleas forbidding transactions in such certificates in this state except as herein provided prescribing and imposing penalties and providing for the disposition of filing registration and permit fees

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer certain amendments which have been agreed to.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I am placed in an unfortunate position in this matter. For an hour the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, and some of the gentlemen from his county who are interested in this bill, were in conference with Mr. Diamond and myself, and the situation developed in which it seemed to us that an amendment should be offered; and an amendment has been prepared and is now offered by Mr. Dent. In the meantime Mr. Diamond has conferred with the Liquor Control Board and they advised him they wish no amendments to the bill; and under the circumstances, and as this is an administrative measure, I ask that the bill go over until tomorrow, without amendment, in the hope we can iron out the difficulty tonight.

Mr. DENT. President, I will agree to this bill going over in order, but I think it is time we accept full responbility for legislation. Apparently we have to deal not only with one department now, but we have to deal with two departments. Let it go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, withdraw his amendments for the time being.

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS LIE ON THE TABLE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think it is necessary to withdraw the amedments; I move that the amendments lie on the table.

I think I can understand the final outcome, and there is no use fooling around. Pass the bill without the amendments and it suits me perfectly; I do not care. We worked for four hours on these amendments, and they agreed five times to five sets of amendments. They handed me the amendments and said they were agreed to and then they call aside the Senator from Montgomery and tell him they do not want them.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I speak on the general subject, although I recognize strictly speaking it is not in order?

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Montgomery may proceed.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the difficulty arises out of the fact this is a security which can not be controlled by the Security Exchange Commission, and the object of this act is to have it controlled by the Liquor Control Board.

The Securities Exchange Commission has, as the Senator from Westmoreland said, conferred for an hour with him and with a representative of the other interests—and the commission felt there was some relief that should be given, but the Liquor Control Board has primarily no authority in this case. Where there is a conflict of authority between two jurisdictions, and where there is an objection in which there is essential justice—and I confess with the Senator from Westmoreland there is essential justice in his proposition—I think probably the matter should be further considered.

I do not think anything will be lost in allowing the bill to go over in its order that we may have the calm thought of the night in order to study the matter and reconcile the various interests.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the purpose of this bill in my opinion, is a very laudable one; but I am afraid the purpose will be lost in bad legislation.

I venture to suggest there ought to be considered at the same time whether the Liquor Control Board has the right to control or regulate the issuance or dealing in certificates over which they have no control. They are authorized, under the act, to control the sale of liquor and to issue licenses for the sale of liquor; and it seems to me the way this subject is being handled that is going to be lost. There are hundreds and thousands of people who have been sold these false certificates at which this bill is aimed, and I think control should be put some place where the objective will be gained. That is what we should consider here, whether the Liquor Control Board has the right.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I should be very glad to take that matter up at the same time. This is an attempt to stop this vicious traffic in liquor certificates which is found in every corner of the state at the present time.

If the language is so couched that it excludes a reputable business house from dealing in liquor certificates, we do not want it that way. That is the objection Mr. Dent makes. If the language is so loose it does not give the Liquor Control Board the authority we want it to have, as suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, then again we ought to correct it; and it seems to me it is best from all points of view in order to get laudable legislation, that we have a little more time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, that this amendment was drawn up by the Liquor Control Board, and contains this provision: "Authorized to engage in the business of licensing distillers, rectifiers and brokers"—it meets every objection they offered.

I say to you the position being taken on the entire bill is not one of protection of the public. We all agreed that this is interference with the lending of money. I do not believe the bill ought to go over; I think we should kill the bill or pass it as it is, if you do not want the amendments.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I said to the gentleman from Westmoreland a little while ago I thought sometimes his manner is a little more explosive than his heart. My feeling is that this thing can be ironed out, and ironed out honestly; but I think it is going to take a little more time. We have consulted with the Securities Commission, but we have not been able to bring the Liquor Control Board into consultation; and I therefore ask that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will agree that the bill go over if it is not called up when I am not present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if that is the understanding, I move that we proceed with consideration of the bill

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is all right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr President, this is not a question of whether Mr. Dent should be satisfied, punished or affected in any way. Mr. Dent is not alone interested in this bill. This is a piece of legislation that is intended to protect a great many people from a great deal of harm and I think this should not be made a personal matter. Let us get this thing right. I have no interest in the bill. People have telegraphed trying to convince me I should be interested in seeing that the bill is passed. I should like to see this protection afforded, but the bill should be effective when it is passed. This is a House bill, and we ought not to do anything to endanger its passage. If we are going to pass it, let us pass it properly, so we will have a good piece of legislation. I am sure the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, feels the same way about it. I think the Senator from Westmoreland may be assured the bill will not be passed in such a hurry that he will not be able to be here.

MOTION TO PUT BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill 969 go over in its order, for the reasons I have just stated.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am sorry that I must object to the bill going over in its order. This bill is either good the way it is or it ought to be amended and I am interested in this phase of the question. I think every member of this Senate is entitled to know from the gentleman from Montgomery who of the Liquor Control Board are interested in this bill. I think I understood the gentleman right, when he spoke, that the Liquor Control Board had by some means conveyed to him word that the amendments were not satisfactory.

I think the gentleman from Montgomery owes it to us to tell us who they were, because we ought to know, and I have a very particular reason. You need not shake your head] You attend to your own business, Mr. Shapiro.

I have a very particular reason why we ought to know this, because for two days the gentleman from Washington and myself have unfortunately had necessity to go to the Liquor Control Board to attend to matters which pertained to our constituents at home, and when we got there we found they were absent—they are either up at the Governor's chambers discussing legislation or like today—we were down there today and they were some place else, up at the Capitol, discussing legislation.

We are entitled to know whether this Liquor Control Board is set up for the purpose of attending to their business as commissioners of the Liquor Control Board or whether they are unofficial members of this General Assembly and exercise the power to veto or approve legislation that is introduced.

Notwithstanding the fact the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, shakes his head "No, we are not entitled to know," I say that in conscience, in fairness, in integrity and honesty we are entitled to know who on that Liquor Control Board are so interested in this bill as to surreptitiously and subtly bring pressure and their influence to bear upon the passage of legislation in this General Assembly.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say the history of this story is as follows, and in that I will answer the gentleman from Fayette. Last year the Securities Commission asked the attorney general for an opinion as to whether or not they had the supervision of the sale of liquor certificates and, I think, in May of 1938 the attorney general gave them an opinion that liquor certificates were not securities under the terms of the Securities Exchange Act, and therefore they had no supervision on the subject at that time, but since they have received numerous complaints they have advised that if these certificates were securities they would have been glad to have investigated and prosecuted. They turned their information over to the Liquor Control Board and then there was a conference, which I did not attend, between the two boards, at which it was decided the Liquor Control Board could do this work more effectively than the Securities Commission.

Then the Securities Exchange Commission helped them draft this act.

My dealings have been with Mr. Baker, chairman of the Securities Commission and Mr. Diamond, counsel for the Securities Commission, and I want to commend them both as public servants who have had a fine attitude towards their public work. My information that the amendment does not meet with the approval of the Liquor Control Board comes from Mr. Diamond. Mr. Diamond is counsel for the Securities Exchange Commission. I have had no dealings with the Liquor Control Board myself and consequently I cannot tell the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, where the gentlemen may be.

I think this is an important and a real subject and it should be dealt with in a broad way. We are proposing a new thing, to give the Liquor Control Board authority to supervise the sale of these certificates. It ought to be done to stop the frauds which many members of the Senate know are going on at the present time. I would not like to see this Senate pass hurriedly a bill that might not accomplish the purpose in mind or which might interfere with legitimate business and that is the reason why I ask that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the benefit of the rest of the members of the Senate only, and not by way of engaging in controversy, during the talk of the gentleman from Fayette I conferred with Mr. Diamond, whom I know very well, to get his reaction on the question which I raised, and my nod of my head was in connection with my conversation with Mr. Diamond, instead of being in connection with anything the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, was saying; as a matter of fact I was not paying attention to what he was saying.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I would like to make a very unusual request at this time. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed, is interested in this bill and wishes to make some inquiry of the gentleman from Montgomery but he is now answering the telephone.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what is now before the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. The final passage Bill No. 969.

MOTION TO POSTPONE SENATE BILL 969

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I say something?

The PRESIDENT. Certainly.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, today is Wednesday, and I understand we are leaving here Friday in order to visit the World's Fair, and some of the members are going home. Also, plans are already made to adjourn this present session of the Legislature sine die next week on Friday.

If we let this bill go over in its order until tomorrow, and then let it go to the printer for printing, and then come in here Monday and there is any objection in the House you do not give opportunity for proper consideration.

I am willing to stand on the merits of the amendment that I have offered and I am willing to take the judgment of this Senate as to the merits or demerits of the amendments I have offered. The Senate may, after hearing the amendments, adopt them or vote them down, as it desires.

I am anxious to regulate the sale of whiskey certificates in Pennsylvania and I would like to see a bill passed today or tomorrow, and so let us take the bill up, read the amendments, and if the amendments are not justified let us defeat them and pass the bill. I only ask for the good judgment of the members of the Senate, without outside influence for once, upon a piece of legislation.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is a motion before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The question is as to placing Senate Bill No. 969 on the postponed calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask that the motion be defeated and I shall vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. SHAPIRO, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO, on behalf of my colleague, the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, who wants to offer some amendments to this bill, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1019, (House Bill No. 1203), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Justice for the purpose of defraying expenses heretofore or hereafter incurred by any county or the department in connection with or incidental to any grand jury investigation or trial of State officers or former State officers and others.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I have no objection to the bill going over in its order but I would like to know what the proposed amendments are.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this concerns the grand jury investigation. I cannot tell you what the amendments are but the gentleman from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, asked me to do that for him.

Mr. EALY. Very well, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1020, (House Bill No. 1203), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State School Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill and the next bill transfer a total of $2,000,000 from two funds, one from the State School Fund and the other from the Flood Control Fund. That means $45,000,000 has been transferred so far for carrying on relief until May 31st. Does that mean there is assurance that will continue on until May 31?

Mr. EALY. I have no assurance, Mr. President, but I certainly think this amount will carry the week and a half to the end of May.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is fourteen days.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 924, (House Bill No. 1285), on third reading postponed for the present.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 924, (House Bill No. 1285), entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand four hundred thirteen of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers, fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions, shall be determined," assigning certain rooms in the State Capitol to the General Assembly.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, on the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 3, by inserting between lines 25 and 26 the following:

S To the Senate of Pennsylvania the following space in the Main Capitol Building:

On the first floor in the north wing all office space east of the central corridor between the rotunda and the elevators serving the north wing.

On the entresol floor in the north wing all office floor space north of the rotunda and in the central wing all office space on the north side of the wing east of the rotunda.

On the second floor in the north wing all office floor space north of the rotunda except that office space in the northwest wing embracing a floor area of approximately sixty-two feet north and south and fifty feet east and west, and in the central wing all office floor space on the north side of the wing east of the rotunda.

On the third floor in the central wing all office floor space in the wing west of the rotunda.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 840, (House Bill No. 1288), on third reading postponed for the present.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask the indulgence of the Senate for a moment in connection with this bill. I have a letter from Judge Smith, who is chairman of the Housing Committee in Philadelphia, and he objects to this bill because he says it increases the cost of the Housing Authority. I can see no point in first exempting housing bonds from taxation and then imposing costs on them.

Judge Smith says "In my opinion the Housing Authority in Philadelphia can do a splendid piece of work in rebuilding congested sections, establishing a number of low cost housing units and putting many Philadelphians back to work. Anything that should occur to hamper this program would be most disastrous."

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 840, (House Bill No. 1288), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the second paragraph of section eighteen of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 955), entitled "An act to promote public health, safety, morals, and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies, corporate and politic, to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance, and to undertake projects, to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income; providing for the organization of such housing authorities; defining their powers and duties; providing for the exercise of such powers, including the acquisition of property by purchase, gift or eminent domain, the renting and selling of property, and including borrowing money, issuing bonds, and other obligations, and giving security therefor; prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities; authorizing housing authorities to enter into agreements, including agreements with the United States, the Commonwealth, and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof; defining the application of zoning, sanitary, and building laws and regulations to projects built or maintained by such housing authorities; exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation; and imposing duties and conferring powers upon the State Board of Housing, and certain other State officers and departments," providing for the payment of fees for certification to the Department of Internal Affairs in connection with the issue of bonds.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 For the purpose of further perpetuating and preserving "Pennsbury Memorial" in Falls Township Bucks County Pennsylvania where William Penn proprietary of the Province of Pennsylvania had his home and upon which the Commonwealth has already restored the original manor house and outbuildings necessary for the administration of Provincial Government by William Penn the Department of Property and Supplies with the advice of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission is hereby authorized to acquire by purchase gift lease or condemnation tracts of land adjoining the present "Pennsbury Memorial" property of the Commonwealth and especially the land comprising approximately forty acres upon which the original Penn farm stood and to specifically improve plant protect the water frontage on the Delaware River so it can be used as a recreational spot by the people of the Commonwealth

Section 2 The sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies for the acquisition of lands adjacent to the present "Pennsbury Memorial" the improvement restoration preservation and maintenance of said "Pennsbury Memorial" and the acquired lands and the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act Payment from said appropriation shall be made by requisition of the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies in the manner provided by law

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 315, as follows:

An Act affecting cities of the third class authorizing the annexation of boroughs thereto under certain conditions and in connection therewith placing duties upon or affecting courts of quarter sessions county boards of election and officers of boroughs and cities of the third class and providing for the payment of the indebtedness of the various territorial units involved

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Any borough may become annexed to a city of the third class within the same county under the circumstances hereinafter set forth and in the following manner namely

There shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions of the county a petition signed by qualified voters of the borough proposed to be annexed equal in number to at least ten per centum of the highest number of votes cast for any office at the last preceding general election in such borough Such petition shall set forth the desire of the petitioners for the annexation of such borough to such city of the third class and shall request the court to direct that a vote be had upon the question as hereinafter provided Such petition shall be subscribed by the petitioners within three months immediately preceding the presentation thereof to the court and shall be verified by affidavit of one or more of the petitioners

Section 2 The petition shall be filed and thereupon the court shall direct notice to be given by legal advertisement published in all newspapers of general circulation that are both printed and published either in such city of the third class or in the borough proposed to be annexed thereto The court shall fix and the advertisement shall set forth a date which shall be not less than one month and not more than six weeks after the filing of such petition when the court will hear the same and all exceptions that may be filed thereto Said notice shall set forth the substance of said petition but without publishing at length the names of the signers thereto and shall be published once a week for three consecutive weeks commencing within one week after the filing of such petition Any resident taxpayer of the borough proposed to be annexed or of the city of the third class to be affected may file exceptions to such petition on the ground that such petition does not contain the number of bona fide signatures of qualified voters required or in other respects fails to conform with the provisions of this act

Section 3 At the time fixed the court shall examine said petition and if any exceptions are filed thereto a hearing shall be held thereon If the petition be found to be defective it shall be dismissed but without prejudice to the filing of other petitions at any time for the same purpose If the petition be found to be in proper form the court shall as soon as practicable thereafter make an order directing the county board of elections to include in the next municipal or general election to be held not less than sixty days thereafter as a question to be voted upon by the qualified voters both of the borough proposed to be annexed and of the city of the third class affected thereby "Shall the borough of be annexed to the city of ?"

or substantially similar wording This question shall be followed on the voting machine labels or ballot labels by the words "yes" and "no" with appropriate squares or markings to permit the said voters to vote conveniently upon said question The voting upon such question and the computation and return thereof shall be in accordance with existing law as to votes taken upon other questions submitted to the electorate

Section 4 If it appears by the vote when counted that a majority in the borough to be annexed has voted for annexation and that a majority in the city affected thereby has likewise voted for annexation then the borough shall on the first Monday of January next following be and become a part of such city

Section 5 If the vote in either such borough or in such city is unfavorable the question of such annexation shall not again be voted upon for a period of five years from the date of such election

Section 6 Upon annexation all the indebtedness of the borough annexed to a city of the third class under the provisions of this act as well as the indebtedness of the city to which the same is annexed shall be paid by the city as enlarged by such annexation and all territory included within the limits of the same shall be liable for the payment of the floating and bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon of all the territory included within such enlarged city All taxes thereafter levied therefor shall be uniform throughout the territorial limits of the enlarged city

All of the public property owned by any such borough shall become and remain the public property of the city to which it is annexed

Section 7 Upon annexation until changed in the manner provided by law the borough if not divided into wards shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city and if the borough at the time of the annexation was divided into wards then each ward of the borough shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city and shall be numbered by the council of the city consecutively beginning with the next highest number after the existing highest numbered ward of the city Until changed in the manner provided by law all election districts in the borough shall remain as constituted at the time of the annexation and shall become election districts of the enlarged city All election and other officers of such election districts in office at the time of the taking effect of the annexation shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms unless sooner removed as provided by law

Section 8 Upon annexation all salaried public officials of the territory annexed who have theretofore been elected for a definite term shall continue to receive during the term for which they were elected the same salaries as they would have received except for such annexation and it shall be the duty of the mayor of such city to assign to such public officials the performance of such suitable services and duties as will be in the public interest of the city and particularly of the annexed portion thereof In case of non-elective employes of such annexed borough they shall so far as practicable be employed at corresponding duties by the city in accordance with rules and regulations to be established by city ordinance Tax collectors holding office at the date of annexation shall continue to perform the duties and receive the emoluments of office for the full term for which they were elected but upon the expiration of such term the office shall be abolished within such territory and the duties thereof shall be merged with that of the collector of taxes of such city of the third class

Section 9 Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect the common school laws applicable to the territorial limits of the municipalities involved nor shall such annexation bring about any merger or consolidation of school districts nor change in any way the rights liabilities or territorial limits thereof

Section 10 The provisions of this act are in addition to and shall not be construed to repeal or affect any of the provisions of article five of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto"

Section 11 Except as above provided all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 12 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 482, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

Article nine section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the average assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the ten years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased and the debt of any county other than Philadelphia shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the average annual assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the ten years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased and the debt of the City and County of Philadelphia shall never exceed ten (10) per centum upon the average annual assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the ten years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased nor shall any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such average annual assessed valuation of taxable realty for the ten immediately preceding years without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law

In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the City and County of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said City and County as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor to the extent that such public improvement or public utility or part thereof whether separately or in connection with any public improvement or public utility or part thereof may yield or may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon

The method of determining such amount so to be deducted may be prescribed by the General Assembly

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with Senate Bill No. 734, I would like to have consent to refer that bill back to committee because I am sure we passed Dr. Chapman's bill dealing with the disposition of bodies unfit for anatomical purposes, and this bill makes another change. Unless I am entirely wrong about it I think what this bill does is to take the care of the burial of those bodies out of the control of the coroner's office and put it under the control of the County Commissioners and it seems to me that it is unnecessary to provide that the coroner should bury one type of body and turn others over to the County Commissioners.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 734, (House Bill No. 635), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three (P. L. 119), entitled "An act for the promotion of medical science by the distribution and use of unclaimed human bodies for scientific purposes through a board created for that purpose and to prevent unauthorized uses and traffic in human bodies," providing for the burial of such bodies unfit for anatomical purposes by the county commissioners in all counties.

be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health, so that Dr. Chapman may study it further.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 776, (House Bill No. 389), entitled:

An Act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that this bill has passed second reading. Is it still on second reading?

The PRESIDENT. It is.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to recommit Senate Bill No. 778, to the Committee on Public Health. I think the amendment that Dr. Chapman has offered applied to Senate Bill No. 734.

The PRESIDENT. No, this is Senate Bill No. 778, House Bill No. 709.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, they should both be back in committee and I suggest we can take care of the amendments in the committee.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 778, (House Bill No. 709), on second reading, entitled:

An Act for the protection of the public health by prohibiting the adulteration misbranding false labeling and false advertising of drugs including cosmetics and of instruments apparatus contrivances accessories and other devices used in the diagnosis cure mitigation treatment and prevention of disease providing for the detention embargoing seizure and destruction of unlawful drugs cosmetics and devices regulating dealing in new drugs conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Board of Pharmacy and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 819, as follows:

An Act to validate certain proceedings for municipal improvements municipal assessments municipal claims and municipal liens in the several cities of the third class boroughs and townships of the first class of this Commonwealth and validating such improvements assessments claims and liens providing for the filing of claims and liens therefor and the proceedings for the collection of such assessments claims and liens

Section 1 Whenever heretofore the council of any city of the third class or of any borough or the board of commissioners of any township of the first class of this Commonwealth has authorized by ordinance the grading curbing guttering paving or macadamizing with concrete brick stone or other suitable material of any public street or thoroughfare or portion thereof either cartway footwalk or gutter and has caused such improvement to be made and in such ordinance has authorized the advertising for bids therefor and the assessment of benefits upon the property benefited thereby and subsequent thereto pursuant to an ordinance passed after the passage and approval of the original ordinance providing for the improvement has authorized the entering into a contract for the said improvement with the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and with the general contractor who was the successful bidder with the Commonwealth for the construction of any portion of such streets or highways without any advertising for bids on the part of the city borough or township as proivded for in the original ordinance authorizing such improvement and has subsequent thereto brought proceedings for the appointment of viewers to assess benefits for the said improvements against the property abutting along the line of improvement in accordance with the provisions of the original ordinance authorizing the said improvement or has by ordinance provided for the assessment against abutting property owners of benefits for such improvement or whenever heretofore the council of any city of the third class or of any borough or the board of commissioners of any township of the first class of this Commonwealth has required by ordinance and caused to be made graded paved curbed or macadamized with brick stone or other suitable material or otherwise improved any property or public street or thoroughfare or part thereof either cartway footwalk or gutter or has covered or enclosed any watercourse or waterway in any street or thoroughfare so as to improve or extend and increase the driveway in any street or thoroughfare or has vacated confined paved or altered the channel of any watercourse or waterway or has caused any sewers whatsoever to be constructed within or without any such city borough or township or has caused ornamental lights to be erected pursuant to any ordinance or has heretofore in accordance with existing law assessed a portion of the cost of such sewer as a sewage tax against property abutting along the line of said improvement on the side of said street alley or highway which is located outside the limits of the said city borough or township the owners of such property being given permission by the said city borough or township to use such sewer and such property not being then provided with sewer facilities and has by ordinance provided for the assessment against abutting property owners of benefits for such improvement but owing to some defect in the petition action of council or of the board of commissioners notice of publication failure to make said improvement in accordance with the strict terms of any ordinance or any other proceeding or action necessary under existing laws and ordinances to give jurisdiction to such council or board of commissioners or because of noncompliance with existing laws as to publication of copies of ordinance and posting of handbills prior to or after the final passage of such ordinance or because of noncompliance with existing laws as to the purchasing of materials and supplies or the awarding of contracts without advertising or because the ordinance itself or the official record book containing the same has been lost mislaid or destroyed or such ordinance has not been transcribed in the official record book or because of irregularity or error in the appointment of viewers to assess benefits against property abutting along the line of improvement or because of the neglect of viewers appointed to assess damages and benefits caused or accruing as a result thereof to file their report within the time required by law for the filing thereof or because of irregularity or error in the method of procedure taken for the ascertainment of the amount of benefits to such property or because of any irregularity or error in the ordinances or passage or approval thereof authorizing the execution of the work the contracting therefor and the assessing of benefits therefor or where the right of the board of viewers to assume jurisdiction and to act in assessing the properties benefited thereby is questioned or because of any irregularity or error in the failure to bring the proceedings for the assessment of benefits for such improvement before the board of viewers within the time provided by law or the failure to assess the benefits therefor in the manner now provided by law or because of any irregularity or error in arriving at or determining the benefits assessed against any such property or because of the failure to give notice as required by law or ordinance or the time for filing a lien or making claim for such improvement has expired or the claim has not been filed after notice to do so or for any other reason the costs of such improvement or portion thereof were not or cannot be legally assessed upon the property bounding or abutting on the line of the improvement or on the street or part thereof improved or owing to some defect in the statement of claim filed to secure the lien or the failure of the city borough or township solicitor to file the lien in the court of common pleas or to sign the name or to have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the said solicitor or chief executive of the claimant for the costs of such improvement or any error made in the name of the owner or owners of the abutting property along the line of the improvement payment thereof cannot be enforced or if the ordinance of the city borough or township authorizing the construction of any improvement was in fact adopted before such city borough or township was legally empowered to make such assessments on property within or outside the limits of such city borough or township if such improvement was actually constructed and such assessments against property within or without the limits of such city borough or township made subsequent to the time when such city borough or township was legally empowered to levy such assessments as was contemplated by the act or acts of General Assembly under which the improvement was attempted to be made and statement of claim filed now by this act such improvement is made valid and binding and also any statement of claim heretofore filed if any to secure the liens therefor is also made valid and binding and the jurisdiction of any board of viewers hereinbefore mentioned to entertain such proceedings and the assessments made pursuant to such proceedings against property within or without the limits of any such city borough or township shall be valid and binding and the council of such city or borough and the commissioners of such township may cause the property bounding or abutting along the line of the improvement or on the street or part thereof upon which the improvement has been made or is now being made to be assessed in the manner now provided by law or by the board of viewers' proceedings in the manner and at the rates now provided by law with such a portion of the costs of such improvement as is contemplated by the law under which the improvement was made or attempted to be made or is now being made and all such benefits and all assessments heretofore made or determined are hereby ratified confirmed and validated and any statement of claims heretofore filed if any to secure the liens therefor are also hereby ratified confirmed and validated Such assessment or other assessment heretofore made or hereafter made in the proceedings now pending within the time limitations specified in this act shall be a lien upon the property assessed and any lien heretofore filed for benefits assessed or for the cost of such improvement or any part thereof although the report of the viewers assessing the same was not filed within the time required by law for the filing thereof is hereby made valid and binding with the same force and effect as though such report was filed within the time required by law for filing the same The lien shall date from the completion of the improvement for which the assessment is made whether the work was completed through one or several operations or contracts or from the date of filing the same and shall remain a lien until fully paid and satisfied Provided That a writ of scire facias is issued to revive the same during every period of five (5) years after the lien is filed as hereafter provided And provided further That this act shall not validate any lien against any property which has been conveyed to a bona fide purchaser thereof subsequent to the expiration of the period prescribed by law for the filing of such liens and prior to the date of the filing thereof or give the lien thus filed priority over any bona fide lien or liens led entered or recorded or which shall have otherwise attached subsequently to the time prescribed by law for the filing of such municipal lien and prior to the time of the filing thereof

Section 2 The council of any city of the third class or of any borough or the board of commissioners of any township of the first class of this Commonwealth entitled to a lien under this act shall file a lien therefor if not heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county within which the property lies within six (6) months after the completion of the work where the improvement is now in progress or within twelve (12) months after the confirmation absolute of the report of the viewers assessing the benefits for such improvement whether now or hereafter pending or within twelve (12) months after the approval of this act where the improvement is now completed if no lien has been heretofore filed for the same or within twelve (12) months after the passage of any councilmanic ordinance assessing benefits under the provisions of this act where the improvement is already completed and the same shall be entered upon record as other municipal claims Such liens shall state the name of the party claimant which shall be the corporate name of the city borough or township making the improvement name of the owner or reputed owner of the property assessed a reasonable description of the property assessed the amount or sum claimed to be due which shall include interest on the assessment from the completion of the improvement for what improvement the claim is made the date of its completion the date of the assessment for which the lien is filed Such lien when so filed shall be prima facie evidence of all matters therein set forth and of the right of the city borough or township to recover the amount therein claimed to be due together with interest from the date of the lien or completion of the improvement costs and an attorney's commission of five per centum for collecting

Section 3 The claim when so filed shall be proceeded upon for collection by writ of scire facias Provided That this act shall not apply to any proceeding suit or lien wherein a final order or judgment of any court of record has already be made or entered

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill, No. 996, is a bill to relieve the administration of finishing the Western State Prison, called the maximum security prison. I have read the bill and I think that the administration has the right to decide whether or not to continue that, but the way this bill is drawn it is very doubtful whether they can carry out the purpose, and if the Senate agrees I think that this bill ought to be referred back to committee so that it may be correced, if required.

Mr. OWLETT. I object to referring the bill back to committee. This is a Senate bill. I think it ought to pass second reading, and if we find it needs amendments, it can go back tomorrow.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am satisfied; I only wanted to call that fact to the attention of the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

Our Blessed Heavenly Father, Thou who hast broken upon us the light of another day to reveal to us our incompleted tasks, enable us to discover Thee in every duty great or small. May daily discipline develop in us every splendid quality of manly character. May we court every prospect that makes life worth living. Give us strength to smother the roots of every bitterness and all petty strife. Broaden our vision, lengthen our skyline, deepen our faith, that we may be conquerors through Him that loved us. Blessed Father make us the sons of light through faith in Him who is the Light of the World. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. VAN BELLE, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TRONZO. CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 78.

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1939.

Where, Growing out of the searching investigations made by the United States Senate subcommittee pursuant to a resolution to investigate violations of the rights of free speech and assembly and interference with the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively, there has been introduced in the Congress of the United States, by Senators Robert A. LaFollette, Jr. and Elbert D. Thomas, Senate Bill 1970, for the purpose of abolishing certain labor practices; and

Whereas, The purpose of this bill is to stop those evil practices which have been injected into and intensified labor disputes to the detriment of fair-minded employers, labor and the public who place their reliance on mutual goodwill and collective agreement; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania as a leading industrial State is particularly concerned that the legislation it has placed upon its statute books to make civil rights effective and encourage friendly labor relations may be continued and supported by Federal enactment to cover inter-state commerce; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to pass Senate Bill 1970; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1221, as follows:

An Act relating to the Anthracite Industry creating the Pennsylvania Anthracite Commission establishing its jurisdiction powers and duties providing for an Anthracite Producers' Advisory Board regulating the production and marketing of anthracite within the Commonwealth assigning production quotas to producers of anthracite prescribing standards of sizing purity and grading for anthracite levying a tax on anthracite for administration expenses of such Commission and for the promotion of the sale of anthracite and the development of anthracite burning devices and additional uses for anthracite eliminating unfair discrimination in wage and hour standards in anthracite mining operations authorizing and permitting producers to organize and operate cooperative marketing organizations and corporations within the Commonwealth for the collective marketing of anthracite providing for the licensing of anthracite producers and for the granting refusal suspension and revocation of such licenses providing for appeals to the courts of the Commonwealth from the orders of said Commission creating a special fund in the State Treasury into which the taxes fees fines and penalties arising under the Act are to be paid appropriating the monies in said fund and making a temporary appropriation to said fund and providing penalties and remedies for violations of the provisions of the Act and the rules regulations and orders of the Commission

ARTICLE I

Legislative Findings of Fact and Declaration of Policy Short Title Definitions

Section 1 Findings of Fact and Declarations of Policy The following legislative findings of fact and declaration of policy with respect to the Anthracite Industry are hereby made

The production and sale of anthracite is a basic industry vital to the economic and social life of this Commonwealth by virture of the fact that practically all anthracite deposits within the United States are located within a narrow tract of land inside the Commonwealth Within this anthracite area there is invested more than four hundred millions of dollars devoted to the mining and preparation of anthracite and many more millions of dollars the taxable value of which and profitable use of which are in large part dependent on the volume of commerce arising from the Anthracite Industry More than one hundred thousand citizens of the Commonwealth are directly dependent upon this industry as their prime means of livelihood and many hundreds of thousands of such citizens are indirectly dependent in whole or in part upon this industry Practically 25% of the entire production of anthracite is consumed within the Commonwealth by persons who are dependent upon it as their chief source of fuel

During the period of the last ten years the consumption of anthracite within and outside of the Commonwealth and as a result the production thereof have decreased more than 35% because of the competition of other fuels and the effect of the economic depression throughout this Commonwealth and other anthracite burning areas To meet this situation many mining operations have been abandoned and others have been concentrated and made more efficient by the introduction of labor-saving machinery in order to lessen the cost of production

Said trends and changes in said industry have resulted in increasing unemployment part-time employment large operating losses depletion of reserves and in many cases bankruptcy Unrestrained and ruinous competition has developed among producers because of lack of legal authority for collective and cooperative action among producers to regulate and stabilize production and merchandise practices This condition has prevented an orderly and durable program for the permanent good of the Commonwealth and the Industry has led to practices of temporary expediency involving waste of this basic natural resource and the capital invested in the Industry and hardship to those dependent directly or indirectly upon the Industry

To meet the foregoing emergency it is necessary temporarily to provide ways and means whereby said Industry may act as a unit in meeting the competition of other fuels whereby economic pressure which has forced wasteful operation of many mines may be relieved whereby further depletion of financial reserves and impairment of taxable values may be prevented and the financial credit of the Industry restored whereby existing agencies for research work and promotional activities may be expanded for the purpose of regaining lost markets and developing new markets and whereby unemployment in the Industry may be reduced to a minimum

For these and other reasons it is declared that the production marketing and sale of anthracite in the Commonwealth is facing an emergency involving the public interests and that this Act is enacted to promote the general welfare to conserve anthracite as a natural resource and remove the economic pressure which results in wasteful methods of mining thereof to promote employment and security for the payment of wages of those employed in connection with the Anthracite Industry to protect capital invested therein from further depletion and dissipation to maintain the value of anthracite properties as a basis for taxation and to maintain and increase the volume of commercial activity within the Commonwealth

Section 2 Short Title This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Anthracite Control Act"

Section 3 Definitions and Interpretations The following words and phrases as used in this Act except where the context clearly indicates otherwise shall be construed to mean as follows

(1) "Anthracite" Anthracite mined in the counties of Carbon Columbia Dauphin Lackawanna Luzerne Northumberland Schuylkill Susquehanna and Wayne in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(4) Wilfully furnishing false or misleading statements to the Commission.

Any action of the Commission in granting refusing suspending or revoking a license shall be effective only on the entry of an appropriate order by the Commission

ARTICLE V

Records Reports And Information

Section 501 Records All persons required to be licensed under the provisions of this Act shall keep within the Commonwealth the following records

(a) Daily weekly and monthly records of

(1) All commerical sizes produced by each breaker or washery from the mines strippings and banks supplying such breaker or washery

(2) The production of mines strippings and banks supplying the breaker or washery

(3) The number of employees at each breaker washery mine stripping or bank and their working time.

(b) Proper books of account and records showing all items of cost of anthracite operations including but not limited to wages and salaries materials and supplies sales expense royalties taxes insurance depreciation and depletion

(c) Books of account and records as specified by the Commission showing the producers' realization on the sale of anthracite

(d) Such other records and information as the Commissions may deem necessary for the proper enforcement of this Act

The records herein required shall be kept in the possession of such person for a period of not less than two years unless the Commission otherwise provides

Section 502 Entry and Inspection Any member of this Commission or any employee designated for the purpose shall have the power to enter and inspect at all reasonable hours all places and equipment where anthracite is produced stored sold or otherwise handled in the Commonwealth and to inspect audit and copy all books entries papers records or documents in any place within the Commonwealth for the purpose of ascertaining facts to enable the Commission to administer this Act No member or employee of the Commission shall disclose such information to other than Commission members or employees except at authorized by the Commission in connection with its duties and powers under this Act

Section 503 Dissemination of Information Conferences All persons licensed under this Act and any marketing corporation and the members thereof may discuss cost of production marketing market conditions and merchandising practices and other matters relating to any and all branches of the Anthracite Industry and may collect prepare exchange interpret and disseminate statistics information recommendations and prognostications pertaining thereto either directly or by and through a common agent created or selected by them which agent may be the Commission if it consent to so act upon request

ARTICLE VI

Production Control and Quotas

Section 601 Board Recommendations on Production Control

(a) The Board on Monday of each week shall make forecasts of market demand and recommend to the Commmmission the total amount of tonnage of commercial sizes of anthracite which should be produced in said week in order to maintain a reasonable balance between volume of production and market demand Any licensed producer at his option may also make like recommendations to the Commission

(b) The Commission shall issue an order or orders not later than Tuesday of each week fixing the aggregate amount of commercial sizes of anthracite to be produced by the Industry in said calendar week upon the basis of the standards herein set forth

(c) The Commission but only on the recommendations of the Board may from to time change the length of time for such periodic forecasts and production control

(d) In order to assist the Board in making such recommendations and the Commission in fixing the aggregate weekly production for the Industry each producer shall transmit weekly reports to the Board and the Commission (to reach said Broad and Commission by Monday Noon of each week) showing all unsold tonnage on loaded cars standing at the breakers or washeries on tracks in the vicinity of the mines or at other points which may be designated for such purposes by railroad companies and to tidewater piers and lake ports together with cars en route to piers or ports and anthractice in storage wherver located

Section 602 Percentage Assignments and Quotas

(a) The Board shall also recommend to the Commission the percentage of the total allowable production for the entire Industry which should be assigned to each licensed producer and such percentages when fixed by the Commission shall be the basis for determining what tonnage quota shall be produced by each licensed producer during each week or such other period for which the Commission shall fix the total allowable production of the Industry

(b) The Commission after due notice and hearing as prescribed by this Act shall adopt reject or modify in whole or in part said recommendations as to assigned percentages and shall make and promulgate appropriate findings rulings and orders in respect thereto If the Board shall fail within such period of time as may be fixed by the Commission to make complete recommendations in respect to the matters provided for in this Section the Commission shall proceed on its own initiative without such recommendations after due notice and hearing as herein provided to make and promulgate appropriate findings rulings and orders in respect thereto

(c) Such assigned percentages shall remain unchanged during the term of this Act except for adjustments expressly provided for in this Section Provided however That licensed producers standing in the relationship of lessor and lessee may with the approval of the Commission adjust their respective assigned percentages between themselves without however increasing the total assigned percentages of said lessor and lessee

(d) All assigned percentages recommended by the Board and all assigned percentages fixed by the Commission with or without recommendations of the Board shall be based on the daily production of each producer for the calendar year 1938 or the average of the calendar years 1936 1937 and 1938 whichever is the higher after and subject to any adjustments which may be necessary under subdivisions (e) and (g) of this section and the assigned percentage of each producer shall be the ratio between the daily production of said producer fixed on such basis and the total daily production of all licensed producers

"Daily production" means the total tonnage of commercial sizes produced by each breaker or washery divided by the working days of the mines strippings or banks regularly supplying such breaker or washery In case of more than one source of supply to any breaker or washery the working days shall be determined by dividing the total man-days by the total number of employees Such daily production of each breaker or washery computed as aforesaid shall be based on the reports to the Department of Mines for the calendar years 1936 1937 and 1938 and shall be verified and corrected from the books and records of the producer

In the case of anthracite reported to the Department of Mines as run-of-mine but not included in the commercial production of the breaker or washery through which such anthracite was prepared for market the commercial sizes resulting from such preparation thereof shall be credited to the breakers or washery in which it was prepared for market for the purpose of computing the daily production of said braker or washery

(e) In determining the daily production of any producer who operated during the year 1938 but who did not operate during the entire period of the years 1936 1937 and 1938 where said producer alleges that his daily production as determined in the manner provided in subdivision (d) of this Section is inequitable the Commission after receiving recommendations of the Producers' Board subject to the procedure set forth in subdivision (b) of this Section may in its discretion increase said daily production to an extent not exceeding fifteen (15) percentum thereof for the purpose of determining the assigned percentage of said producer under this Section

(f) In the case of breakers or washeries not operated in the year 1938 and in operation at the time of the passage of this Act or in the case of new breakers or washeries hereafter licensed under section four hundred four of this act daily production quotas to such breakers or washeries shall be established with reference to their daily performance when last operated by the same or another producer subject however to such adjustment as the Commission may determine in the light of the scope of the operation the number of men employed and other factors necessary to the establishment of an equitable quota

Daily production quotas established under this subdivision shall be fixed by the Commission upon recommendations of the Board subject to the provisions of subdivisions (a) and (b) of this Section

(g) If in the year 1938 or thereafter but prior to the passage of this Act the whole or any part of the production of any mine stripping or bank has passed from the breaker or washery of one producer to the breaker or washery of another producer then and in such event the Commission shall make such adjustments in tonnage in each of the years 1936 1937 and 1938 as may be necessary to arrive at the daily production of the producers affected in order to compute the assigned percentages of said producers under subdivision (d) of this section

(h) If after the passage of this Act the whole or any part of the production of any mine stripping or bank passes from the breaker or washery of one licensed producer to the breaker or washery of another licensed producer then and in such event the Commission shall make such adjustment in the assigned percentage of such producer as shall be necessary to compensate for such changes

(i) If hereafter any producer operating two or more breakers or washeries shall close down any of said breakers or washeries said cessation of operations shall not result in any reduction of the assigned percentages of said producer provided that the remaining breakers or washeries have sufficient capacity to produce the assigned tonnage of the respective breakers or washeries of said producer but the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply in the case of cancellation or surrender of any lease where the production of said leasehold has passed to the lessor under the provisions of subdivisions (g) or (h) of this section

(j) Tonnage allocated to new breakers or washeries (if produced from lands in which a producer theretofore licensed has or at the time of the passage of this Act had any interest through ownership lease or otherwise) shall be deducted from the previously assigned percentage of said producer

(k) Tonnage allocated to new breakers or washeries (if produced from lands in which a producer theretofore licensed had no interest through ownership lease or otherwise at the time of the passage of this Act) shall be deducted from the assigned percentage of all producers

(l) If the Board shall find that the steam sizes of anthracite (buckwheat rice and barley) produced from the allocated tonnage of licensed producers are not sufficient to meet the market demand for such sizes the Board may recommend and the Commission upon finding that such demand exists may authorize an additional production of such steam sizes from refuse banks through licensed breakers or washeries for such period as the Commission shall determine is necessary to meet such demand and shall allocate such additional production of steam sizes among the licensed producers affected upon a fair and equitable basis taking into consideration among other things the grades or classifications of anthracite for which such demand exists and the producers capable of supplying the same

(m) In the case of producers having a breaker or washery but owning or controlling no mines the production allotted to said breaker or washery under the terms of this Act shall be divided among the mines producing the coal prepared at such breaker or washery in the proportions said coal was produced and delivered to said breaker or washery during the year 1938 unless for some reason one or more of said mines was not operating fully during said year 1938 in which case the Commission shall allocate said production among the said mines as fairly as may be considering the production of the respective mines for the average of the three calendar years 1936 1937 and 1938 or such portions thereof as said mine or mines were operated

In the case of a breaker or washery which during the year 1938 processed or prepared coal for a mine or mines controlled by the owner or operator of said breaker or washery and also for a mine or mines of other producers supplying coal to said breaker or washery the tonnage allocated to said breaker or washery shall be divided among the several producers and the owner or operator of said breaker or washery in the same proportions as each produced of the total tonnage output of said breaker or washery during the year 1938 and no discrimination shall be made against mines which do not belong to the owner or operator of said breaker or washery nor shall the owner or operator thereof receive a larger quota for coal produced from mines owned by the owner of said breaker or washery by reason of refusal any longer to process coal for mines belonging to other producers

In the event however that the proportion allotted to any said producer delivering to the breaker or washery of another or that the proportion allotted to the owner of such breaker or washery shall be deemed unfair by any such producer or owner he may appeal to the Commission for a different allotment or proportion and the Commission after hearing held upon due notice to all of the parties delivering coal for processing to said breaker or washery shall make such allocation among the mines supplying said breaker or washery as may appear just and equitable Nothing in this section shall compel the owner of any breaker or washery to continue to process coal for any producer after said producer has been given a written notice for a length of time sufficient to reasonably enable said producer to obtain other breaker or washery arrangements or to construct a breaker or washery of his own

Section 603 Enforcement Reports Tolerances

(a) To secure the enforcement of the provisions of this article the Commission shall require weekly reports of the volume of commercial sizes of anthracite produced by any licensed producer from each breaker and washery which reports shall be made by sizes and shall indicate whether said produced anthracite has been actually sold or is being stored or carried in cars Said reports shall be verified under oath or affirmation and the Commission in its discretion shall have full power to investigate the books and records and examine witnesses as to the truth or accuracy of any such reports

(b) The Commission shall prepare monthly tabulations of such weekly reports showing the cumulative tonnage of each producer for the calendar year and shall make monthly checks of such tonnage against the amount of the weekly allocated tonnage for said licensed producer on the basis of his assigned percentage The Commission may from time to time fix tolerances in the weekly allocated tonnage of any producer provided that said tolerance shall not exceed fifteen per cent of the weekly allocated tonnage of the producer and that any future adjustment to offset said tolerance shall be absorbed in the succeeding week

(c) No producer who in the judgment of the Commission intentionally underproduces his allocated tonnage or quota during any period for the deliberate purpose of accumulating tonnage for marketing in any subsequent period shall be permitted to add any part of such underproduction to his quta for any subsequent period

(d) Any producer who has suffered a deficiency in his weekly allocated tonnage by reason of a stoppage of production for causes beyond his control has the right (on filing a written statement of the facts with the Commission) to increase his weekly production beyond his weekly allocated tonnage until said deficiency has been offset

Section 604 Violations It shall be a violation of this Act for any producer to produce any greater tonnage of commercial sizes than is permissible for said producer under this Act

ARTICLE VII

Standards of Preparation

Section 701 Recommendations of Board The Board shall recommend to the Commission appropriate standards to govern the sizing purity and grading of commercial sizes of anthracite prepared and sold by any producer as well as rules and regulations in respect to the sale and trade description thereof

Section 702 Commission Findings and Orders The Commission after due notice and hearing as prescribed by this Act shall adopt reject or modify in whole or in part the recommendations provided for in Section 701 of this Article and shall make and promulgate appropriate findings rulings and orders in respect thereto

If the Board shall fail within such period of time as may be fixed by the Commission to make any recommendations as provided for in Section 701 of this Article the Commission shall proceed on its own initiative without such recommendations but after due notice and hearing as herein provided to make and promulgate appropriate findings rulings and orders in respect to such matters

Section 703 Violations It shall be a violation of this Act for any producer to sell or market any anthraicte contrary to the rules regulations and orders of the Commission made and promulgated under this Article

ARTICLE VIII

Hearings on Percentage Assignments and Standards of Preparation

Section 801 Procedure Before acting on any of the matters set forth in Article VII or on the percentage assignments provided for in Section 602 of Article VI the Commission shall hold public hearings thereon at such place or places as it may determine of which due notice shall be given to all licensed producers and published in a newspaper of general circulation in the Anthracite Region If prior to the issuance of such notice the Commission shall have received recommendations from the Board in respect to any matters covered by said notice then and in such event a copy of such recommendations shall be mailed to all licensed producers prior to said hearing At such hearings the Commission shall receive and hear arguments and evidence offered by any producer and by any other interested person desiring to be heard and who the Commission in its discretion believes it to be in the public interest to be heard A transcript shall be kept of all such hearings and shall be open to inspection by any person whom the Commission shall decide has sufficient interest in such proceeding

Section 802 Re-hearing Any person aggrieved by any order of the Commission made and promulgated after a hearing under this Article shall have the right within ten (10) days after the service of such order to move for a re-hearing and in such motion shall specify the grounds upon which it claims to be aggrieved by said order The Commisison in its discretion may grant or deny such motion and in the event that it is granted and a re-hearing held may affirm modify or rescind its original order No application for a re-hearing shall operate as a supersedeas or in any manner stay or postpone enforcement of any existing order except as the Commission may direct There shall be no appeal to any court from orders to which this Article applies without filing such a motion for a re-hearing and awaiting the outcome thereof Review on appeal from any said order shall be limited to the assignment of errors set forth in such motion for re-hearing

ARTICLE IX

Marketing Corporations

Section 901 Organization and Powers Any three or more licensed producers may organize an association or form a corporation for the cooperative and collective marketing of anthracite produced by them or other licensed producers and thereby fix the prices terms and conditions of sale for anthracite sold by said association or corporation and such cooperative marketing associations or corporations may enter into agreements with each other fixing prices and terms and conditions of sale to be applied to the marketing and distribution of all or any part of the anthracite sold by them

Section 902 Cease and Desist Orders by Commission It shall be the duty of the Commission to issue cease and desist orders against any arrangements or practices of marketing corporations which after due notice and hearing it shall find have resulted in undue prejudice to the public interest

ARTICLE X

Antharcite Tonnage Tax

Section 1001 Imposition of Tax From and after the passage of this Act each and every net ton of commercial sizes of anthracite prepared in this Commonwealth for market shall be subject to a tax of five cents which said tax shall be assessed at the time when said anthracite has been prepared and is ready for shipment to market and the producer of such anthracite shall be liable for said tax

Section 1002 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this Article it shall be the duty of every producer liable to pay the tax herein imposed to transmit to the Department of Revenue on a monthly basis beginning the 15th day of the month following the first calendar month or fraction of such month in which this Act is effective and monthly thereafter upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the Department of Revenue a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and its treasurer assistant treasurer or other fiscal officer of the total tonnage of commercial sizes of anthracite prepared by said producer and ready for shipment to market during the preceding calendar month or fraction thereof in which this Act is effective

Every producer upon the date its monthly reports are required herein to be made shall pay to the Department of Revenue the full amount of the tax due to the Commonwealth upon the total tonnage of commercial sizes of anthracite prepared by said producer and ready for shipment to market during the calendar month or fraction thereof preceding the date when said report is required to be made and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the Department of Revenue shall extend the date any tax imposed by this article shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed hereunder and not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per centum from the date they are due and payable until sixty (60) days after settlement and thereafter at the rate of twelve per centum (12%) per annum until paid except that any taxes found due as a result of an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas or any Appellate Court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from the date such taxes are due and payable until paid provided however that any producer may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the Department of Revenue shall enter a credit to the account of such producer which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to call to the attention of the House certain printing errors, particularly on page sixteen.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, desire to discuss the bill before it has been read.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be passed over until the apparent errors in printing are corrected.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from York is unaware of the fact that under the agreement by which the bill passed second reading before being re-committed, it was perfectly in order for him to offer amendments if he cared to correct any errors. If he knows of any it is his duty to offer such amendments, and I will certainly have no objection to them.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under those circumstances, I request that this bill be passed over until I prepare amendments that will correct the apparent printing errors on page sixteen of the bill, lines 19 to 25, where it appears that the printer has failed to put in brackets which would effect the deletion of lines 19 to 25.

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. Does the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, object to the bill's geing passed over in its order?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I don't think it would take very long to prepare such amendments and I agree that the bill be passed over temporarily, if the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, will agree to prepare such amendments and offer them.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not a partisan proposition, and in view of the fact that the gentleman has discovered errors in printing which should be corrected, I wonder whether I might inquire of him at this time if he knows of any others, and if so whether he will not call them to my attention so that they may be corrected at the same time?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I haven't read the bill very studiously but on page thirteen, line fifteen, there is an error in spelling. The word "During" being spelled "Durin".

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. The Chair suggests that the gentlemen confer and discuss the amendments on which they can agree.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that is quite satisfactory to me.

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. The bill will be passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1299, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, (P. L. 645), entitled "An act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or fictitious name, style, or designation, unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary; requiring county commissioners, at the expense of the county, to provide books for the entry of such certificates; fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary; and providing penalties," as amended; excluding from the provisions of said act all limited partnerships and members thereof for which a certificate is filed in the office of the recorder of deeds.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. REYNOLDS filed the following reasons for his vote:

I wish to be recorded as voting "yes" on this bill, because I believe it is a short step in the right direction. I do not believe much good can be obtained by this commission with such a small appropriation. However, if this is all the administration is willing to allow to help better conditions among the Negro population, I shall vote for the same. With the hope some good will be done. Fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) is needed.

THE SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1450, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the eighteenth day of April,one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, (P. L. 48), entitled "An act requiring banks, trust companies, bank and trust companies, private bankers, and building and loan associations to disclose the amount of deposits and investments of persons applying for or receiving unemployment relief under certain circumsances," by requiring employers to disclose information concerning wages of applicants or recipients of public assistance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, owing to the fact that I was unable to be present when this bill was passed on second reading, I desire to ask consent of the House to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 19, by striking out with heavy-face brackets the light-face bracket before the word "within" and after the word "year."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 9, by inserting after the word "which" the following: "willfully".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 10, by inserting after the word "which" the following: "willfully".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 657, Printer's No. 677, was passed over at the request of Mr. WOODSIDE.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. during the past twenty years my regular occupational duties have afforded me the opportunity of visiting practically every school district in the State of Pennsylvania, of meeting the administrative officers, members of boards of education, parents and pupils. These contacts have made me conscious of the problems confronting the various school districts throughout the state and have aroused my interests in the public schools of Pennsylvania. I regard the public schools as the basic enterprise of the state and all funds expended for their advancement is the safest investment that can be made for insurance against the future.

In a democracy every boy and girl should have equal educational opportunities. That is what democracy means. But in my contacts throughout the state I find that equal educational opportunity does not exist for the boys and girls of Pennsylvania. In some school districts the bare necessities of buildings badly in need of repair, text books unfit for use, furniture of the 19th century model and conditions detrimental to the health and intellectual growth of boys and girls in general, prevail. In other districts there are fine buildings with fine furniture; books and supplies are plentiful and of the best, money, in many instances, is spent lavishly; and boys and girls are offered a curriculum that meets the need of every boy and girl in the district. These opportunities only exist in the wealthy districts of the state. As long as these conditions prevail there can be no equalization of educational opportunity and hence, no true democracy.

Whether a child is born in the most remote spot of the state or not, there should be no reason why he should not have the same educational opportunities as those in other areas.

One of the reasons; and I believe the chief reason for the existing conditions in our educational system is the loose organization of our tax system. Unconsciously our whole educational system is breaking down because of economic retrenchments in the past few years and unless we as legislators and the people of Pennsylvania take cognizance to this fact, I fear for the future educational system of this great Commonwealth. It is, therefore, our duty to study this problem and try to do something about it.

Many friends of education in Pennsylvania are and every member of this house should be, thoroughly acquainted with the problem as it exists today. Then we should get to work and try to find a solution to the problem.

In 1937, for the welfare of education, the legislature, parents, children and citizens of Pennsylvania; the House of Delegates of the Pennsylvania State Education Association recommended that the president of the Association appoint a committee to make a survey of school costs, taxation and sources of revenue, ability to support public education and distribution of state subsidies. Ten thousand dollars ($10,000) was appropriated by the association for the study. The committee included schoolmen and laymen so that it represented a cross section of the administrative, political, economic, and school district organization interests. The study was completed in December, 1938. Since this date I have become acquainted with the findings of the committee and believe that their recommendations are sound and should be considered in the solution of the problems of financing public education. May I recommend that everyone of you avail yourselves of the opportunity to become acquainted with this study and I am sure that you will agree with me that the findings of the committee will be valuable in finding a solution to the problem?

It is pointed out in the study that many significant changes and trends have taken place in the public school organization during the past few years. The organization of the Junior High School and the six-year high school caused a shift in the enrollment of seventh and eighth grade pupils from the elementary schools to the secondary schools and increased the enrollment in the secondary schools from 38,938 in 1924 to 132,525 in 1936, or an increase of approximately 294 per cent. This increase in pupil enrollment was responsible for a corresponding increase in the number of teachers on the secondary level. In 1924 there were 9370 teachers in the secondary schools and in 1936 this number had increased to 21,438 or an increase of approximately 437 per cent.

These two items alone would have a tendency to increase school costs because the cost per pupils in the secondary school is more than the cost per pupil in the elementary school. To be more specific, for every dollar spent in the elementary school there is spent in the secondary school, in many instances, as much as $2.50. The salary schedule of teachers on the secondary level is higher than the salary schedule of teachers on the elementary level. With the great increase in the number of teachers on the secondary level the amount of money necessary to meet the minimum salary schedule should show an enormous increase. In spite of this phenomenal growth in enrollment and the increase in the number of teachers on the secondary level, the total expenditures per pupil in average daily attendance were lower in 1934 and 1936 than in either 1924 or 1929. This is a distinct step backward and a disgrace to a state that has always been recognized as the Keystone State of our great democracy. Shall this continue or are we willing to face the facts and set upon a definite program of educational growth for the future?

Time does not permit a further discussion of the recommendations, findings and conclusions of this study. However, I want to call your attention to the fact that the survey committee has given a detailed report of the educational problem as it is today, what it should be in the future, with recommendations for establishing a sound educational program for the future Pennsylvania.

I am offering for your consideration and approval, House Bill 906, amending clauses six and nineteen and eliminating clause seven of section 1210 of the act approved the 18th day of May, 1911. This bill embodies the recommendations of the survey committee for the educational program for the future Pennsylvania. It insures equalization of educational opportunities for every boy and girl in Pennsylvania and is the basis of a reorganization program of our whole taxation problem which is in need of revision.

Maybe we are placing the cart before the horse by introducing this bill before some revision of the tax problem is made or before some plan of financing such a program, as this bill would inaugurate, is found. I am not certain, in my own mind, which is the best procedure to follow. Should this bill be passed and then find the money to finance it or should we provide the money for such a program and then pass this bill? If this bill were not called to your attention there is a possibility that the taxation revision problem would never be considered. If we believe in equal educational opportunity for every boy and girl of the Commonwealth, then it is our duty to provide an educational program such as is provided in this bill.

There is a possibility that some one might sponsor a bill or bills to revise our whole taxation program with the aim to establish an educational program such as is provided in this bill. At the present time, my reason for presenting this problem to you is because I am vitally interested in the educational program of the state, because I believe in equal educational opportunity for all children, because I am convinced that the study sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Education Association offers a sound solution for the educational problems of the future.

It may not be wise to pass this bill until you have given it some serious thought but I am presenting it not with the idea of forcing the issue upon you, but with the idea of calling your attention to the important problem that exists and the steps that have been taken toward a solution of it with the hope that you will study the problem as I have and be prepared to pass your opinion on this vital question at an early date.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of further careful study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the only reason I do not oppose this motion to recommit is because the sponsor of the measure has made it. I, however, feel that this situation is deplorable and needs remedying.

All of you know that on numerous occasions I have declared myself against putting teachers in life time jobs and other things of that sort. In the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we have the greatest disparity in educational facilities in the various districts. Some of the school districts boast of buildings containing monometal kitchens and porcelain lined theatres. These conditions exist in those districts where taxation is easy and collections heavy. In other districts they could not even open the schoolhouse and for the past two years were unable to meet their payrolls. I am sorry to see this bill recommitted. I would like to have it come to a vote on the floor of the House and sent to the Senate for action over there. I hope this bill will be kept on the calendar and that I will have a chance to assist the school districts who deserve some further consideration.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I oppose the motion to recommit. This bill represents the sanest approach to the school problem that has as yet been submitted to this House. It is indeed a sorry condition, this Legislature having been in session three, four or five months facing the conditions from the very first that this bill is designed to cure, and then in the closing days we are to say to the taxpayers of this state, to the distressed real estate owners and to the unpaid teachers that we are very, very sorry that we cannot do anything for them but really we must have more time to study the condition. From my experience, Mr. Speaker, I conclude that when a Legislature decides it does not want to do anything, it announces its desire to study. The time to have done the studying was during the initial stages of this Legislature. It was during the period, Mr. Speaker, when this House was in recess and when we had Committees meeting that were supposed to do nothing else but study, and to bring to this Assembly solutions of the pressing problems that face the people. If there is any pressing problem facing the people it is this school problem. This is the sanest measure that has been proposed, and to send it back to Committee with a plea that more study is required, is to confess, Mr. Speaker, a lamentable lack of knowledge as to the facts, so far as Legislative problems are concerned.

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion to recommit, for the reason that through this entire session of the Legislature we have ignored the pleas of the real estate owners in the various counties of the state, who cannot pay the increased cost for maintaining the public school system in their districts. If the state is going to dictate to the local districts that they must have beautiful school buildings, with beautiful murals on the walls, such as we have in one of the beautiful high schools in the city of Pittsburgh, with marble halls, while other school districts are unable to adequately provide education for their children, it would be nothing short of a shame for us to refuse to assist these worthy school districts and I ask the members of the House to vote down the motion.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill came out of the Committee on Education. The bill was sent to a sub-committee and the whole committee studied the bill. Considering the situation at this time, the Committee decided that the bill was worthwhile to come out on the floor, and it came out with the understanding that it would pass second reading and then go back to Committee.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Stewart.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STEWART. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Indiana if it is his honest opinion if this bill is recommitted there is any chance of having it reported to the floor in time for action in this session.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question after the bill goes back to Committee and we have acted upon it.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, under those conditions much as I regret to have to vote against the chairman of a Committee, I wish to say that I was no party to any such agreement. I would like to remind the members of this House that it seems impossible for any bill having any sense to it to come out of the Educational Committee and then be returned. If you send it back to that Committee you send it back there to die.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my purpose to delay our action here today. If there was ever one measure that came upon the floor of this House, that deserved real sincere thought and intelligent action, this is it. Let us not be renegades by sending this bill back to Committee to die because, as sure as I stand here, that is the purpose in recommitting the bill. Let us do something for our distressed school districts in the various counties, especially in our rural counties. Let us show that we are sincere and that we want to do something for education. I ask all those who are sympathetic to the cause of education to vote "no" on the motion to recommit the bill to the Committee, and thereby we will be doing something worth while.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that there is only one matter at issue before this House at the present time. From time immemorial it has been the custom of this House to make gentlemen's agreements in Committee, the terms of which are that when a bill has been reported out for two readings, it will then be returned. That is the only issue upon which the House is now voting. The agreement was made, according to the statement of the sponsor of this measure, in Committee, that this bill would be returned after second reading. If those agreements are to be made, they should be kept.

I, therefore, ask the members of the House to support the motion to recommit this bill purely upon the basis of the agreement that was made in Committee. That agreement under the practice of this House should be kept.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill whether it was agreed that this bill should be rocommitted.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, in order to answer the gentleman's question fully I would like to state my position and the position of the Committee.

I must go back to the very inception of this bill and say that I studied it myself for a couple of weeks before I agreed to introduce it in this House. I was completely satisfied as to its merits, and it was for the purpose of obtaining a practical solution of these school headaches that I introduced it into the House and pushed it through the Committee on Education. However, the members of the Committee on Education were unanimously in accord that the bill did have merits. I hesitated at this time to bring the bill out because of the couple of million dollars necessary and no method having been suggested to raise the money. Finally I prevailed upon the Committee, the members of which were in favor of the bill, that the bill be brought out on the floor of the House, in order that it might be publicized throughout the state and by the time we have a special session, or surely by the time we have the next regular session, we will be able to accomplish our purpose.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the gentleman whether he has any official assurance if this bill is sidetracked at this time, that it will be included in the Governor's call for a special session.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer the gentleman as to any official assurance, but I have every reason to believe, after discussing it from the top down, that the matter would be included in the call for a special session. However, I have no official assurance to that effect.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the statement of the sponsor of the bill that by agreement it should be recommitted, I withdraw my opposition to the motion to recommit. I want to say to the members of the House, and to the members of the Committee on Education in particular, I would feel entirely justified later on, if the bill does not come out, to make a motion to discharge the Committee, which I have never done before in this House and have never voted for such a motion.

I want to say further that the allegation to the effect that there have been no efforts made to raise this money is positively unfounded. I introduced a bill myself, among others, to provide for an amusement tax, which is about the most harmless way I know to raise revenue for distressed school districts, for sanatoria and hospitals in the state of Pennsylvania. If there is any less harmless way of raising taxes than an amusement tax I do not know it. I am going to endeavor, if it is within my power to do so, to see that future Committees on Education are not entirely dominated by people of one frame of mind.

I withdraw my objection to the recommission of this bill because of the agreement between its sponsor and the Committee, and that is the only reason.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the sponsor of this measure said that there was agreement to send it back, I unfortunately have no other course than to coincide with the agreement. I understand very well that we cannot do business on the floor of this House unless we scrupulously regard our bargains.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the agreement I feel the same as Mr. Andrews and Mr. Kane. I believe however, that this bill has had the proper reaction and that the motion could be defeated. However, I am going to ask my colleagues to sustain the motion, in view of the agreement. Certainly, to my mind, if ever a bill has gotten popular reaction over the State, to help and relieve distressed school districts and to relieve the property owners of unjustified taxation, this bill is it. I would feel like going along with Mr. Kane in making a motion to discharge the Committee if this bill does not come out. I therefore ask my colleagues to support the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1456 Senate Bill No. 140, Printer's No. 123; House Bill No. 1492 Senate Bill No. 796, Printer's No. 163; and House Bill No. 1491 Senate Bill No. 795, Printer's No. 159, were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1444 Senate Bill No. 460, Printer's No. 260, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 1221, Printer's No. 781, on page 33 of today's calendar, bill on third reading, which was passed over.

(Consideration of House Bill 1221 resumed.)

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 1221, entitled:

An Act relating to the Anthracite Industry creating the Pennsylvania Anthracite Commission establishing its jurisdiction powers and duties providing for an Anthracite Producers' Advisory Board regulating the production and marketing of anthracite within the Commonwealth assigning production quotas to producers of anthracite prescribing standards of sizing purity and grading for anthracite levying a tax on anthracite for administration expenses of such Commission and for the promotion of the sale of anthracite and the development of anthracite burning devices and additional uses for anthracite eliminating unfair discrimination in wage and hour standards in anthracite mining operations authorizing and permitting producers to organize and operate cooperative marketing organizations and corporations within the Commonwealth for the collective marketing of anthracite providing for the licensing of anthracite producers and for the granting refusal suspension and revocation of such licenses providing for appeals to the courts of the Commonwealth from the orders of said Commission creating a special fund in the State Treasury into which the taxes fees fines and penalties arising under the Act are to be paid appropriating the monies in said fund and making a temporary appropriation to said fund and providing penalties and remedies for violations of the provisions of the Act and the rules regulations and orders of the Commission

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ever since the Legislature convened in January of this year, it has been a matter of public notice to everyone that anthracite legislation was being seriously considered, with a view of passage for the first time. This legislation emanated from the Mines and Mining Committee. That Committee does not pretend that it is perfect legislation, but it is in a sense pioneering legislation. Everyone admits the problem but practically no one came forward with any effort at solution. We want the bill sent to the Senate today so that they may, if they desire, have a hearing. I want to point out to the members of this House that no bill in the history of this Legislature has had more hearings, more private conferences, more opportunity for everyone to make suggestions and offer a solution, but still on the eve of the passage of the bill we find a great many people coming forward and crying out that the bill will cause their ruin.

Let me say to the members of this House, that this bill is of the utmost importance because if no legislation is passed it is the conviction, not only of myself, but I think of the members of my Committee, that a great many people are going to face ruin, not only for those just starting in business but also the companies employing thousands of men year in and year out throughout the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania.

The Mines and Mining Committee has been composed of men largely from the coal counties. As the Chairman of the Committee, I don't know much about anthracite, I am just a country legislator who is not so much interested in how the problems of the anthracite region arose during the last thirty years as I am how we are going to help to solve them for the next thirty years. The other people in Pennsylvania, not involved in industry, do not care much who is to blame, but they are concerned with providing employment, and preserving a great natural resource, the world's finest anthracite field so beautifully located close to the world's best markets and close to the deep blue sea. All the people of Pennsylvania are interestd in solving the problem of the anthracite field and saving that great resource from destruction. We want to find out why it cannot be worked out happily and successfully; we believe it can be and we propose to see it done. The people of the anthracite region may keep their history of past wars but their future concerns us all and very seriously. As I stated before, the people of Pennsylvania are interested in solving the problem of the anthracite field because all the people of Pennsylvania are going to have to pay a tremendous increase in taxes with wide-spread unemployment. We are not looking at this matter in a partisan spirit. It is too serious for that. We hope that everyone will endeavor to suppress any expression of partisanship in connection with this measure. Governor James has made a good deal of progress already in solving this predicament by informal gentlemen's agreement. You can see more business in the anthracite region already. There are one or two material factors entering into this increased production of anthracite, one of which is the unuually favorable weather which has prevailed, and the other has been the serious situation caused by the strike in the south coal fields. Another factor which very few people have given any consideration to at all, is the fact that the Legislature which the administration dominates was actually in session in Harrisburg, in a position to pass laws to back up by legal measures what has been agreed upon informally, if those agreements were not kept. It has been hard for some people to agree to these accomplishments when it was so serious to them. One or two had to be pretty heroic to go along at all because it seemed to mean ruin to their companies. In one case at least, even though they had the best business that the anthracite fields had seen for years, they have gone out of business. There are others who fight the passage of any law saying that they will have to go out of business. If there is no law, they will go out of business, but they are going out sooner.

You know how the lion, the king of beasts, called a conference on the hot sands of Africa. The lion said, "Sit down." The ostrich said, "I can't." The lion said, "Why not?" The ostrich said, "I was hiding from my wife all day yesterday and I am somewhat badly sunburned."

A lot of the people we are asking to sit down around the table and work things out have been recently very badly burned.

On the steps of the Capitol, here at Harrisburg, is cut Muhlenberg's statement: "There is a time to pray and there is a time to fight." And there is a time to talk and a time to pass laws. The time to talk has passed and the time to pass laws has come. The Legislature is in session at Harrisburg with full powers. The Federal Government, through our President, has said, Pennsylvania must first exhaust her own resources. Well, we really haven't even tried them. But we of the Mines and Mining Committee urge you to try, and we urge you to do it now, so that these laws may be tried out in the first stages of their administration under a fighting Governor, Arthur James, a man who knows the anthracite business and the people of the anthracite counties—for he is one of their own.

Some say: "No legislation." Some always want "no legislation." Maybe they are right. But may I suggest that from a time before I was born this industry has gone from bad to worse with "no laws." And you could probably find a convention of thieves who would be against a law against stealing. We are in favor of taking action now and if our laws are not perfect, they can be improved later.

The temporary order restored to the industry by Governor James' splendid personal influence has resulted already in a large measure of returned prosperity to this region. But the Governor cannot make laws, nor can he penalize those who break a gentleman's agreement. But back of him was the threat of legislation by a Legislature then in session and able and willing to back him. But what will happen if that Legislature should adjourn having done nothing?

Will those who have gone along in hope of peace and order continue to play ball or will the old cut-throat fighting start again and all this beautiful region with its hundreds of happy homes totter once more on the brink of financial ruin quite as bad as mine caves in Scranton or Gilberton.

We do not intend that it shall. We intend as far as our Mining Committee and that of the Senate is concerned to endeavor to set up a system by law for insuring the cooperation under the law which Governor James has thus far achieved by temporary voluntary agreements—agreements obtained by reason of the critical plight of the whole industry and the sincere persuasive influence of friendly Governor James.

One or two breaking such agreements could ruin it all. We do not intend that they shall long have the chance to ruin it all. It is too important to the people of Pennsylvania. There are ten million of those people. Only about one-fifth live up in the hard coal region and most of those who do and I think all the other eight million want to see this problem settled and will take a chance on a few legislative mistakes after a million private mistakes by both capital and labor, in the anthracite region.

We must solve the relief problem. To this there are two answers:

(1) To cut down relief;

(2) To make it unnecessary by employment in Pennsylvania.

I prefer the latter and to that end I want you all to pull together to get the mines all running and the railroads busy hauling trainload after trainload of Pennsylvania's coal.

You have heard that I am optimistic of a solution. I am. I have great hopes and confidence in Governor James, but there is one dark cloud that overhangs the whole situation. It is the inability of the anthracite producers to get along together. No one can do much with an industry engaged in civil war. The great decline of anthracite began with the strike of 1925-1926. It has speeded downward since. Anthracite is not a peculiar problem now; it is just a branch of the fuel problem.

I have high hopes in Arthur James. The members of the House Mines and Mining Committee have worked together regardless of party. But be a little patient. Do not expect Arthur James to solve in a few weeks what others pledged to help have failed to do in years. Do not expect him to straighten out in a few short months, what years of nonsense, public and private have brought down around your ears.

Let me say to you members of the House, this problem is not the problem of this administration, it is as old as most of us here. The anthracite region has seen a great growth in the number of companies, and likewise a greater decrease in the amount of income which it is receiving. Coal today, by and large, is being sold for less than the cost of production. Governor James is not responsible for the anthracite problem, but it is his duty and it is our duty as far as we can, to help solve it, because the people of Pennsylvania will have to pay the bill if we do not succeed. This is an unusual bill, because this is the first bill which has attempted to force a reasonable amount of cooperation by laying the legal ground work, whereby the people can cooperate in an industry, which has never before experienced such cooperation. It provides for a state appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars. I point that out to you particularly because you might feel it is going to cost your county something, but I want to call to your attention the fact that in the same bill there is a provision that just as soon as contributions from the industry are collected by the Department of Revenue, that three hundred thousand dollars is completely paid back to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so that there is no appropriation to the industry, it is merely a loan on the part of the state.

Let me say to the members of the House that this three hundred thousand dollars, with which you start this bill operating, is almost exactly the amount you spend for relief every day you live. The relief load of Pennsylvania is nearly three hundred thousand dollars a day. That is all we are asking in the line of appropriation to start the coal industry in the anthracite regions on its way towards cooperation.

This is not perfect legislation; it is the best law we could get everyone to agree to.

I want to say that while we have heard complaints on the part of those who are doing the most business, you won't hear complaints from the vast number of employes in the anthracite region who are going to have their income increased, their work increased tremendously by the passage of this bill. There are companies in that region that employ fifteen or sixteen thousand men. The annual income of those men, under present conditions, is only nine hundred dollars per year. It is unfair and unreasonable to ask those people to any longer sacrifice their own interests and the interests of their employes in order that a half dozen or so may be satisfied.

I ask the members of this House to pass this bill now and send it to the Senate. I would like to have it passed today for this reason, the Senate will have a chance to have a final hearing and everybody who is concerned with the bill can give it the final and last consideration in order that any modification which may be required can be made and the bill enacted into law before this Assembly adjourns, as many another Assembly has adjourned having said a good deal and done nothing. I ask you therefore to go ahead with at least one measure that will help to solve the problem of the anthracite region. Pass this bill today and send it to the Senate. As far as the amendments which were suggested are concerned, they are purely typographical errors which can be corrected in the Senate. I therefore ask you, members of the House, to support the bill in its present form.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understood that this bill was being passed over in order to afford an opportunity to present amendments. I disagree with the gentleman who preceded me when he says the amendments I proposed are merely for the correction of typographical errors, because all you need to do to read page 16 to see that due to an error existing in the bill, Section b can be considered as part of the bill which materially changes the basic import of that particular section.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in view particularly of the stirring defense made by the majority floor leader for adherence to agreements entered into in Committee, and further feeling that those agreements should be adhered to, particularly when they are made pertaining to action on a bill on the floor of the House, I therefore, Mr. Speaker, offer the following amendments to House Bill 1221, Printer's Number 781.

The SPEAKER. This bill has passed third reading and it will be necessary to reconsider the vote by which it was agreed to on third reading in order to consider amendments.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from York vote on agreeing to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Monroe vote on agreeing to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say to the members of the House that it was understood at the time this bill passed third reading that they would have opportunity to offer amendments. Therefore the gentleman from York is entirely within his rights at this time, and I ask the members of this House to support his motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 402, page 13, line 15 by striking out at the beginning of said line: "in" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "ing"

Amend Section 404, page 16, line 26 by striking out at the beginning of the line with bold face brackets the following: "HC ["

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if you will look at the bill, page 16 you will see that it was the obvious intention of the committee to delete the whole of that paragraph beginning with line 19 to the end of page 16. You will find on the top of page 17 a new section inserted lettered "b," showing that it was obviously the intention of the Committee that the bracket on line 19 and the bracket at the end of line 28 on page 16 should form a continuous deletion of the whole paragraph as originally printed, but due to a Printer's error, there appears on line 26 of page 16 the letters "HC" and a bracket, I suppose he must have had extra brackets that he wanted to use. It means absolutely nothing. You cannot conceivably have a section "b" beginning with a word in small letters, so that all you will be doing by supporting these amendments at this time is to put the Commonwealth to one hundred and fifty dollars or two hundred dollars expenses for reprinting the bill and delaying the sending of the bill to the Senate one additional day, which might result in the people who feel they need another chance to be heard, being denied that opportunity in the Senate. I feel these errors will be corrected in the Senate. To vote on these amendments at this time would hold up this bill's going to the Senate in time so that those who have objections to offer will be denied that opportunity.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand the intention of the committee is that Section b, particularly that part that pertains to the filing of the bond, shall be deleted from the bill, but as the bill comes before the House that section is not deleted from the act. I don't care whether the Printer made the mistake, whether the Committee made the mistake or who made the mistake, the fact still remains that we are acting upon a bit of legislation that is not properly drawn and cannot reasonably be interpreted as being the intention of the members of this House.

Irrespective of what the gentleman from McKean may say, or what any member of this House may say, upon the floor of the House, the intention of the membership of this House is construed by what is contained in the bill that we are acting upon. This bill contains a provision for a bond which it was the intention of the Committee and the intention of the House to delete from the bill. The only way that can properly be done is to correct the bill in its present form. I cannot see now, as I could not see on numerous occasions, why this House should be willing to pass imperfectly drawn legislation; nor can I see why the House should abrogate its legislative powers and functions to the Senate to correct deficiencies in legislation for which this House is responsible.

I recommend to the membership of this House that the expenditure of one hundred and fifty dollars by the Commonwealth for the printing of the bill is picayune compared with maintaining the integrity of this legislative body.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the members of the House, that I would take the gentleman from York very seriously were it not for the fact that I heard him argue just the opposite so often. During this session and previous sessions it has always been understood that when a Committee of the House agreed to certain things being deleted the Senate Committee would take care of such corrections. I don't think it is likely that we will abrogate our prerogative to the Senate in this instance, because the Senate and House Committees have frequently held joint meetings and have considered the bill together. This is one of the few bills that has been considered by both House and Senate Committees. I therefore urge the members on the other side, who sincerely desire the people of their counties to be given an opportunity to be heard, to send this bill to the Senate and not to delay the passage of this bill in the House any longer. The amendments offered are merely to delete the extra brackets put in by the Printer. It was the intention of the House to delete the whole of section "b" on that page. I will convey that information to the Senate Chairman, and I assure you it will be corrected in the Senate. I therefore ask you to pass this bill in its present form.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Kenehan and Mr. O'Neill and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the most solemn duty confronting modern statesmanship is the correct interpretation of contemporary events. Democracies have fallen throughout the ages because the people in that particular time were not able to interpret the political events transpiring before their very eyes. I resent the fact that the party to which I was traditionally committed, traditionally allied, saw fit to enunciate and proclaim a philosophy that has come to be known as the "New Deal"; a philosophy by means of which governmental agencies reach out into all the recesses of the country and lay their grasp upon business, substituting for the wisdom supposedly inherent in business management, political control. It means something, members of the House, when we cut loose from the practices, traditional in a state which has been conspicuously conservative for more than a century. It means something when we say to a great basic industry, "You don't know how to run your business, you never will be able to run your business, the thing for you to do is to hand over the details of your business to a state commission."

Members of the House, do you expect that you are creating in Pennsylvania a body that will be more conspicuously successful in the management of the anthracite industry than the members of the Guffey Coal Commission were in handling the details of the bituminous coal industry? Anthracite comes and lays its problems before the House, and we propose taking them over. The anthracite problems are no more pressing than the problems pending in the bituminous coal fields. By every rule and precedent established by the pending bill, if it becomes incumbent for the Commonwealth to rescue the anthracite coal industry, let me say, that the anthracite coal industry is no more troubled than the dairy industry, and by all the rules, precedents and regulations inherent in the bill now pending before the House it would become incumbent, on demand upon the state, to take over the dairy industry, and where are we to stop?

I say to you, members of the House, in the light of history throughout the ages, in the light of history in our time, there are two means by which you establish a totalitarian state. First, through the agencies of government, you control labor. Secondly, through the agencies of government you control business, and controlling business and controlling labor you establish the authority of the controlling state.

Perhaps we need the eyes of prophets to see down the lane and discover what is at the end of the next ten years, but members of the House, you can't pass this kind of legislation regarding basic industries without making business the servant of the creator, and establishing political supremacy. I say to you, call it what you may, if the state of Pennsylvania, or the government at Washington, controls anthracite, controls the bituminous industry, why won't we control steel when steel is in trouble? You already see the extent to which the federal government is reaching out in its control over agriculture. The same vicious principle which would establish quotas for wheat, quotas for cotton, quotas for potatoes, quotas for cabbage is written into this bill that establishes quotas for anthracite. Incidentally, it establishes quotas for anthracite based upon long experience, based upon a production which will absolutely centralize and perpetuate the very type of governmental control which is primarily responsible for the present woes that are now visited upon the anthracite industry.

I will ask you members of the House who have been unable to agree with the philosophy that has been flowing from Washington, what has happened that you can take that very philosophy, raised to the nth degree, and lay it before the House as Republican party philosophy? Suppose the powers at Washington, taking a tip from Pennsylvania, supersede by means of federal legislation the statute you are now enacting under the auspices of the Commonwealth. You can't rise up then and dispute your own teachings. You cannot inveigh against the encroachment of federal authority, and the logical conclusion is, since anthracite enters into interstate commerce, if there is to be government control, that governmental control will be shifted to Washington.

Now, members of the House, this bill in its structure, in its philosophy, violates the political and economic philosophy to which I am committed, and members of the House, it violates the political and economic philosophy to which I had hoped you were opposed. The question that faces you is whether you want to take the worst of the New Deal, expressed in the Guffey coal bill and lay it down as your solution of the woes that face the Commonwealth.

Members of the House, it is a bit, I would say, egotistical on our part, to conclude, if the eminent business acumen which, for example, guided the destinies of the Glen Alden Coal Company these many years has failed, that we can pick up three men who will do the trick and pull the industry through, under the auspices of the Commonwealth, that the best legal and business brains of the Commonwealth have been unable to cope with.

Members of the House, I advise you, if you pass this bill, adopt also a resolution establishing an appropriation to take all of the Republican members of the House down to Washington to see Harold Ickes, Harry Hopkins and the rest of them and tell them that you have sworn in one hundred per cent to their philosophy of governmental regulation of business.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from McKean in his remarks to the House relative to this bill apologized for its presentation; apologized for the method in which this bill seeks to solve the anthracite problem. The bill itself, one will readily see by referring to the title page, was introduced by the gentleman "by request," which in itself is a tacit admission of an apology.

I quite agree with the gentleman from Cambria, who has just spoken, that a bill such as this placing an increased burden upon the government and an increased injection of government into our daily business, should be watched. In this particular instance it should be watched very carefully, because apparently the proponents of this bill have been attempting to solve the problems of the anthracite industry from purely selfish motives. The bill as it is presnted before the House is not by any means a solution of the problem, but it is a solution of the problems of three or four large coal companies in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It solves their problem, and it solves the problem of those three or four large coal companies in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the expense of one hundred and thirty, one hundred and forty or one hundred and fifty independent coal operators in the Commonwealth, and at the expense of thirty or forty thousand men working in the anthracite industry, employed by those independent coal operators. If that is the solution that is given to this House, if that is the manner in which we are to solve the present vexatious problems of anthracite, I say we not only abrogate our legislative prerogative to the Senate, but we abrogate our legislative prerogative to those three or four large coal companies.

Look at the method by which they determine the proration! Analyze the bill and you will see that on this basis the Glen Alden Coal Company will have an increase of one million five hundred eighty thousand tons which they will take away from the independent coal operators throughout the hard coal district. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company will benefit to the extent of four hundred seventy-six thousand tons of anthracite diverted into their collieries at the expense of the men working in the independent coal fields. Lehigh Valley will be the beneficiary to the extent of ninety thousand tons, and four hundred and four thousand tons for the Pennsylvania Company. The Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company will benefit to the extent of a million tons. Those companies, mark you, with the increase in their allotment, can only get that increase as a result of a decrease in the quotas of the independent operators. The independent operators under the proration clause, as contained in this bill, are going to have a decrease of approximately thirty-three and one third percent. What business, let alone the independent coal operators who suffer by this bill, that any member of this House has acquaintance with, can stand a decrease of thirty-three and one third percent in its gross income and at the same time meet the expenses of operation and overhead?

Just let me cite to you what is attempted to be done by this bill. The production of the Anthracite Company of Pittston will be cut down from nine hundred thousand tons to six hundred and twenty-three thousand tons. The same thing will happen to the Highland Coal Company of Avoca, whose production will be cut from one hundred and seventy thousand tons to one hundred and fourteen thousand tons. The Sullivan Trail Coal Company of West Pittston will be cut from three hundred and eighty-one thousand tons to two hundred and sixty-one thousand tons, and so on through out the entire independent coal fields.

My concern primarily is directed to the men who are going to lose employment in those particular mines, just as sometime ago in the passage of the Workmen's Compensation bill we considered the plight of the coal operators and said to keep the coal operators in operation, we had to cut down the cost of compensation insurance. I say to the members of this House by so doing you are going to increase the relief rolls. By the passage of this bill, with the method of proration included in the bill, you are going to say to the unemployed, "Your plight is not bad enough. We are going to put into your plight fifteen thousand coal miners who are now gainfully employed in the independent operators' mines."

Let us not be fooled. This bill is presented to this House primarily for one purpose, and that to save four or five large coal mining enterprises in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. To demonstrate that, let me call to your attention just how the advisory board, which is supposed to advise the Commission is to be elected. Four members of the board of ten are elected by the vote of all the operators. The remaining six directors are elected on the basis of tonnage—

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from York whether he will please yield for one moment until I make a statement.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the hour is growing late and it seems as though this debate were going to last for quite some time. I therefore, Mr. Speaker, ask that this bill go over in its order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Dauphin that he move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar. It is now on final passage.

The Chair would say to the gentleman from York that all arrangements have been made to leave here at three o'clock, and in view of the fact that there is to be considerable debate on this bill—

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the debate on this measure is of such vital importance that the House should dedicate itself to the solution of this particular measure now. I am quite surprised, under the circumstances, that the objection against the correcting amendments was made primarily on the basis that a day is going to be lost, when we are confronted with this situation at the present time. Now we are confronted with the further request that we lose a day, again emanating from the other side.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no choice in the matter. That is a matter for the House to decide.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman from Dauphin that his motion is not in order at a time when the gentleman from York has the floor, unless the gentleman from York will yield the floor.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the object of the motion but it is my desire to continue with the presentation of the problem.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I have indicated—

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, in view of taking the stand he is taking, in view of the fact that the floor leader on our side has moved that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar, and in view of the two typographical errors to which he has called our attention if we reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading, put his amendments in, let the bill go over for printing, whether he can debate the bill to his satisfaction when we bring it up on final passage calendar?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentelman, I am presently unalterably opposed to any continuation of this matter. I might state that the test vote taken previously clearly indicated that there are not sufficient votes on the other side of the House to pass this measure, and I do not propose by any acquiescence on my part to give the majority any concession, or give them any opportunity to bring additional members into this House in order to vote for the passage of this particularly obnoxious legislation.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York whether he is not familiar with the fact that if the majority desire to have the matter reconsidered, that they can take up the time of the House for such consideration, and also that persistence in this debate is only resulting in the wrecking of the Speaker's picnic which I think is scheduled for this afternoon, which I feel, and I think the gentleman will agree with me, we have no desire to do. If there is to be a delay in the passage of the bill, I will accept the gentleman's amendments, if he wants to do something constructive, which he failed to do in the last four years. I think he should accede to the existing conditions.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's interrogation I will say that were the Speaker himself able to answer the interrogation, he would say that a picnic is nothing compared to the welfare of the anthracite coal industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will proceed.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Speaker, as a parliamentary inquiry and for the information of the House, as to whether or not it would not be possible, in the opinion of the Chair, for two members who are for the bill to agree to vote "no" and have the bill reconsidered later, take up another day of the time of the House, and thereby avoid the wrecking of the Speaker's picnic? Will the Speaker please answer that question?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman that a motion to reconsider, at the proper time, would be in order and the House can then decide that question.

The gentleman from York will proceed.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I started to say at the inception of my argument the presentation of this bill by Mr. Kane was an apology, his interrogation of me was an apology and his last parliamentary inquiry was the final climax of his apology in admitting defeat of this particular legislation.

This bill is entirely the conception of the large operators in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Of the ten appointees to the advisory board, four of them are elected generally from the operators throughout the entire Commonwealth, but the majority of this advisory board is elected on the basis of the production of the large operators which amounts to approximately fifty-two percent of the anthracite quota. The large operators will, by the exercise of their fifty-two percent quota, elect six members of the advisory board while the other forty-eight percent of tonnage will not be able to elect any more than four members on the advisory board, so that not only in the proration as contained in this bill are the large operators given the benefit of approximately three million tons, but the advisory board which under this act is constituted to advise the Commissions comes in with advice already loaded to the extent of six to four. I say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, such a departure from democratic institutions, such a departure from the democratic conception of the manner in which an industry or a government should be regulated, clearly reeks of the problem that the gentleman from Cambria mentioned.

Now, let us take this bill and analyze it a little further. Last Ocober, these very same operators who apparently had determined upon and written this bill, opposed the bill presented in the House at that time because the bill presented in the House in the 1937 session would have practically redistributed labor throughout the entire anthracite field. Today those same individuals are trying to persude the members of this House to vote for this bill because in voting for this bill the readjustment or redistribution of labor that this bill will bring about will be for the benefit of those four companies. Only last October, those same companies in public hearing, in public statements made before Committees of this House, stated that they opposed the bill then introduced because quota of production which did not consider cost of production was bad, and today those same companies, not more than seven or eight months later, come before this House advocating the passage of this bill establishing quotas that are not based upon cost of production, saying it is good because those companies are receiving the benefit thereof.

I plead with the membership of this House, under no circumstances should we take an industry that for years has been identified with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that has always been looked upon as Pennsylvania's own and sell that entire industry into the hands of four large companies so that they might dominate that particular industry throughout the entire United States.

I do not believe that the gentleman from McKean really wants this House, in an effort to pass legislation, to pass bad legislation. I do not subscribe to the theory that bad legislation is better than none. I say that no legislation is better than bad legislation. I do not feel that I should come before this House and advocate that we should not pass any legislation. I do not feel that I would be representing the minority party to condemn rather than show how this bill could be placed on a workable basis. The members of the sub-Committee of the Committee on Mines and Mining had before them a representation of the independent operators and the coal miners. They know that a method of proration not based upon statistics that will give four coal companies all the gravy can be worked out; they know that an honest method of the allocation of the anthracite mines, and honest allocation of work in the counties can be worked out, and I say to the membership of this House, insert in this bill an honest proration, insert in this bill a better method of determining the amount of coal that can be mined. I say, insert this amendment to this bill and the opposition centralized against the passage of this bill will be entirely obviated. I say if you wish to honestly pass a regulatory coal bill, pass a bill that will maintain the honesty and integrity of this legislative body. If that is done, then we can have legislation on anthracite that will be good legislation rather than legislation presented by the gentleman "By Request" which is neither beneficial to the industry nor beneficial to the welfare of the Commonwealth. I sincerely ask the membership of this House to refrain from the passage of this legislation.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am very much amused this afternoon. We have a problem concerning anthracite. The sponsor of the bill is a man from the oil and gas fields. The first two speakers, Mr. Cohen from York and Mr. Andrews from Cambria, opposed the bill, and I appreciate their position very much. I am the first one from the anthracite field whom the bill actually affects to arise on the floor and oppose it. In this House we have approximately twenty members who have been born and reared in the anthracite fields of this Commonwealth. I cannot understand why those who are so vitally interested in having this bill passed should go out to McKean County and ask the gentleman from that county to present the bill. I have not been consulted on this matter, neither have any of the members of the anthracite bloc been taken into their confidence.

Mr. Cohen has very ably and very adequately given you figures in regard to the damage this bill would cause to the anthracite region. Up in the counties of Luzerne and Lackawanna we have ninety independent coal operators, and as Mr. Cohen has pointed out to you they have very vigorously opposed the enactment of this bill. There are but four or five large companies who desire the passage of this bill, and they have very good and selfish reasons for wanting it.

Mr. Kane stated in his address to the House that there was not any serious opposition to this piece of legislation, but I point out to your members today that in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties if this bill is enacted into law you will put back on the relief rolls fifteen thousand miners who are employed by independent operators. I want to say to the members who are not acquainted with the situation, and who seem to think that the record of the independent operators is somewhat like that of the bootleggers or the fly-by-night corporations, that these independent operators in the counties of Luzerne and Lackawanna are men who banded together in the darkest days of the depression, and when these large coal companies gave up these operations because the cost of mining was greater or because they had taken the cream of the crop, they were financed, opened up these mines and employed fifteen to twenty-five thousand idle miners, when the large companies closed their mines disregarding the fact that a lot of the men were going to be thrown out of work. These men came along with lots of capital, millions of dollars, and opened up these mines and kept them operating. They went out and secured orders for coal. They did not sit idly by squawking about various things that were hurting industry. They invested their money, put their shoulders to the wheel, employed these men and have been keeping them working for the past six or seven years.

I submit to the members of the House, particularly you members whom this bill positively does not effect, I make a personal plea to you, coming from the anthracite region, if you enact this bill into law you will put out of work in the counties of Luzerne and Lackawanna twenty-five thousand men. You will say to the few favored large companies in those two counties that they have the right of way as far as this state government is concerned. I am asking you as a personal favor to the anthracite bloc in this House, I appeal to you members whom this bill does not affect, to vote "No" when the time comes. I thank you.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the arguments presented by the gentleman from York and the gentleman from Luzerne would fall with more favor upon my ears, had I not served on several investigating committees, one under Governor Earle and one under Governor James. When those committees met at no time did either of these gentlemen come forward and offer any suggestion of any sort, shape or description, for the relief of the people of their counties.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is a strange coincidence that the gentleman from York only mentions the tonnage quota of one group of people who during the last three years, regardless of price or ethics, cut into legitimate competition and now asks to be held at that improper level which they acquired by reason of the acquiescence of others, while the position of others, is to be jeopardized. There are companies in the anthracite regions, gentlemen, who may be forced to close, who have on their payrolls as many as eighteen thousand men, companies whose men are only getting one hundred and fifty days' work a year, while their cut-throat competitors are employing their men two hundred and fifty to two hundred and eighty days a year. What are you going to say to the legitimate employes, members of the United Mine Workers in your county, who work for companies that for many years have met their payrolls? Are you going to say to those legitimate members, "I am sorry that your company had to close. Whereas you got one hundred and fifty days before, you will get none now because we voted for those people who do not care how they operate so long as they stay in business at somebody's expense." Let me say to the members of the House do not be fooled by hypocritical speeches, such as the last two you have heard, that you are not concerned, because a very great part of the relief load in the anthracite counties of Pennsylvania will be affected by this bill.

Let me say further, Mr. Speaker, this is not the first attempt at legislation. There was a whole series of bills presented by the last administration that were known as the Earle Bills, and I worked hard on those. It is true, I do come from an oil county, but may I say this, without hurting anybody from the anthracite region that it might be well if the anthracite people would give a little thought, take a few leads from the note books of their successful competitors because they haven't done so well. They might even look at the oil business and find out something about their sales methods. This bill is designed to give anthracite a fighting chance to operate successfully.

I have no time, members of the House, for those individuals who do not care how they operate so long as they stay in business at the expense of somebody else, but I have a lot of time for the great majority of this industry who want to operate under the law, to employ their men and give them real wages, to give a decent annual return to their miners who work day after day deep down in the mines. What hypocrisy! What hypocrisy for a man to stand up and oppose a bill to regulate the operation of mines employing thousands and thousands of men in constant danger of their lives. What nonsense for people to come here and make hypocritical arguments when they know that this House can be reconvened to consider this and other bills. Their only purpose is to inconvenience every man in this House and prevent him from going to the scheduled picnic which the Speaker of the House was kind enough to arrange and to invite us to this afternoon. It is a pleasant day to go to a picnic. We have had such typical picnics for the past four years, and their only purpose is to detain you here this afternoon so that you cannot go.

While this is a serious problem I think we are entitled to a half day off. There will be further answers to the hypocritical argument brought forth by the gentlemen who proceeded me in opposition to this bill.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker. I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning May 18th, 1939 at ten o'clock.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Luzerne will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, may I talk on a question of personal privilege at this time?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may not. There is nothing in order but the question on the motion to adjourn.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the gentleman from McKean has made some very, very bad remarks.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may not debate; he may not make any statements. There is nothing in order but the question on the motion to adjourn.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker. I ask for a roll call.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to adjourn and yield to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean having withdrawn his motion to adjourn, I do not care for the floor.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. A question of personal privilege is not in order at this time. The gentleman is in order to debate the bill if he so desires. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in debating this bill my sincerity has been questioned by the gentleman from McKean. I want to let the gentleman from McKean know that any statement I made was not hypocritical. Every statement I made was sincere and truthful and I ask the members of this House to vote down this bill for very, very good reasons.

So far as I am concerned, and so far as the other members from the anthracite region are concerned, we are anxious for any kind of legislation that is going to benefit the industry. We are anxious for any kind of legislation that is going to put miners back to work and I challenge the sponsor of this act to show me or any member of this House where this bill will open up the idle mines in my county. I point out the mines in the Largeville section where from twenty-five hundred to three thousand men were put out of work. I point out the coal colliery in Sugar Notch which in the past year has been closed by the Glen Alden Coal Company and has never been reopened. It is like another ghost town. I ask the sponsor of this act where this bill will reopen those collieries? Will the enactment of this bill put back to work the thousands of miners who have been idle in my county over a period of the last ten years? We are anxious for any kind of a law that you can bring forth that is going to benefit our industry. We won't oppose it, but when you bring a bill on the floor of this House that is actually going to destroy three-fourths of the industry in our counties, then we oppose it, and we oppose it sincerely and honestly. Therefore, I guarantee you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that any remarks I made on the floor of this House this afternoon have not been hypocritical. I thank you.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill if enacted into law will throw out of work in Schuylkill approximately fifteen thousand people. I would ask the gentleman from McKean and the members on the Republican side who do not live in the anthracite coal regions to find out how the Republican members from the anthracite coal regions are going to vote on this bill and you can find out the sentiment in the anthracite coal regions as expressed by those members, at least by a majority of them. After all the members of the House who do not live in the anthracite coal fields should take advice, regardless of party politics, from the members in the anthracite coal fields.

Earlier in the day the gentleman from McKean stated on the floor of this House, as Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining, "I know very little about anthracite and anthracite mining." Members of the House, I think it is useless for him to make that statement because that fact is known when he introduces a bill of this nature.

Mr. BONEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the lengthy debate, the talks and arguments that have been presented pro and con on this bill, I do not intend to keep you much longer. I have a few thoughts that I would like to express on the floor of this House, and if I did not express them at this time I think it would be amiss on my part.

I come from the heart of the anthracite region, I come from a particular district that has been idle for the past seven years. Before the colliery was shut down the operators were producing enough coal to enable them to operate the colliery, but under this plan their output would be cut down about fifty thousand tons per year. On that basis I do not think that this plan would solve the problem. Our entire county has felt the affects of unemployment, particularly the sections which have been affected by unauthorized strikes and periodical suspensions, which have played havoc with operations in the mining towns. There are a number of large operators who own quite a number of mines up in our particular section who felt it was unprofitable to operate those collieries. I cite one particular instance. This was an operation which was shut down in 1911 and it was not started until 1932. One of the companies shut down for the simple reason that it was not profitable to operate. Owners of large anthracite properties had in mind that the passage of the Rehabilitation Bill would serve to stimulate the ailing anthracite industry by allocating production quotas, eliminating bootleg mining and by expending a substantial sum yearly for research and promotion. Some provisions of the bill are alright, some are objectionable to independent operators, who would be unable to continue operation if all the provisions of the so-called Rehabilitation Bill are incorporated into law.

A large part of our county has certainly felt the effects of unemployment. One particular section was affected as far back as 1920 with unauthorized strikes, and periodical suspensions of operations have played havoc with operations of mines in a dozen towns. A few years ago a number of experienced men possessing a thorough knowledge of mining, adequate capital and principally an abiding interest in the welfare of their fellow citizens began to lease from the major producing companies certain anthracite properties. One of these collieries employed as many as eight hundred at one plant who worked upwards of two hundred and seventy days last year. This mine was idle for years before the independent lessees started the wheels of industry moving again in 1932. Gentlemen, these men are full fledged, honest-to-goodness operators, they're not the fly-by-night type. When the larger companies were dismantling their breakers and centralizing the preparation of anthracite, these men went out and at large expense built breakers.

Sullivan Trail Coal Company, the old Clear Spring Colliery, had been flooded since 1911 and was generally regarded as a permanently abandoned shaft until Louis Pagnotti and associates pumped out the water and resumed the mining of coal about 1934, providing employment and union wages for several hundred men.

The Pittston Company cited facts and figures to show that its No. 14 Colliery could not be operated at a profit and, as a consequence, this valuable colliery was abandoned. For eight years not a wheel turned. In 1937 an enterprising group, organized under the title of the Jermyn-Green Coal Company, leased this operation and has since operated the colliery regularly.

Volpe Coal Company resurrected No. 6 and Butler collieries from inactivity and both of these important Pennsylvania Coal Company tracts worked well in excess of two hundred and thirty days last year.

No. 9 Colliery, at Hughestown, was practically abandoned; then it was flooded. The old breaker was torn down and it appeared that there would be no further coal mined from that colliery. Operator Louis Pagnotti, not content with his development of the Sullivan Trail mine, leased the No. 9 property and has been operating steadily, paying satisfactory union wages with satisfactory conditions obtaining, and built a modern breaker costing a half million dollars.

Other valuable tracts which were revived during recent years are the Heidelberg, Morgan Slope, Pittston-Dupont, Adonizio tracts, Gallizzi tracts and numerous others in this region.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in order to expedite matters, I am not going to say any thing more, but I am going to ask one question: Should these men be punished for furnishing work to approximately twenty thousand men, when there was no work to be had during this particular time?

Mr. KENEHAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have heard lawyers and professors discuss this bill, but, believe it or not, like Arthur James I am a breaker boy. There is a slight difference however. He is referred to as the "red-haired breaker boy" while I am only a blonde. He was elected to the highest office in the state upon his promise that he would put thousands of idle miners to work; I was elected to the lowest office in the state to do what I could for those idle miners. I am going to keep my promise. I wonder if he will. Therefore I ask the membership of this House to vote "no" on House Bill 1221 and help the idle miners.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Matthew J. Walsh, Weiss and Check requested a verification of the roll.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 193.

An Act relating to the assessment of real and personal property and other subjects of taxation in counties of the first class providing for the appointment of members of the board of revision of taxes by the Governor providing for the appointment by the board of personal property assessors real estate assessors and assistant real estate assessors clerks and other employes fixing the salaries of members of the board assessors and assistant assessors and providing for the payment of salaries and expenses from the county treasury prescribing the powers and duties of the board and of the assessors the time and manner of making assessments of the revision and notice of assessments and of appeals therefrom prescribing the records of assessments and repealing existing laws

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line 4, by striking out the heavy-faced bracket before the word "judges"; also same page, line 5, by striking out the heavy-faced bracket after the word "pleas"; also same line by striking out the word "Governor."

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 14, by striking out the heavy-faced bracket before the word "a"; also same page, line 16, by striking out the heavy-faced bracket after the word "judges"; also same line, by striking out the words "the Governor."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, much as I dislike to detain the members of the House at this time, I feel it is our duty to point out that this amendment which was inserted by the Senate does not make the bill satisfactory.

This bill increases the assessors in Philadelphia. The membership of this House will recall that on April 18 I offered an amendment which proposed in some way to help the situation, but this House saw fit to turn the amendment down. Fortunately the Senate inserted some amendments in the bill and now the majority membership of this House is going to eat crow and accept the amendments which were inserted by the Senate but which were turned down when I offered them in the House.

I want to point out that this bill is still objectionable because it will increase the number of assessors. I want to point out that this bill, if passed and approved by the Governor, will of necessity increase the budget in Philadelphia a quarter of a million dollars a year and will increase the financial dilemma which Philadelphia finds itself in at the present time. Under the circumstances this bill is a bad bill. It is a bill to increase jobs for the Philadelphia politicians; it will increase taxation in Philadelphia and generally it should not be passed at this time because if it is it is another indication that the majority members of this House, and especially the Republican members from Philadelphia are against the City Charter, otherwise they would not need this bill.

Mr. VAN BELLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am one of the Republican members who is not eating crow on this bill. In fact I was the only Republican member from Philadelphia who voted against the bill and although I did not file my reasons, I voted against the bill because I campaigned on the platform of home rule. The appointive power that was vested in the Governor was objectionable to me. I thought that appointive power should rest in some local authority. Inasmuch as the Senate has justified my action by inserting the amendment which takes care of that part of my objection, I now exhort the members of the House to go along in concurrence in the Senate amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—125

SENATE

THURSDAY, May 18, 1939.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, noon, E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Frederick T. Gelder), in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the chaplain, the Reverend FRANK W. RUTH offered the following prayer:

Oh, Lord, God of our fathers, on this Holy Day of Ascension we come into Thy presence rejoicing at this, the great victory which Thou hast won over death and the grave; and Thou hast assured us thereby that if we follow in Thy footsteps we, too, shall use the grave as a doorway out of this life of turmoil and trouble into the eternal life of peace, joy and happiness.

May we so live in this world that when that time comes, which is uncertain for each one of us, and we shall enter the grave, we shall enter sure that we shall use it merely as a door to enter into life eternal.

We pray Thy blessing upon this world and this Holy Day, that it may bring peace and joy and contentment instead of strife and discord, so that Thy name may have all the honor and the glory in a world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. SHAPIRO, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in this morning's paper there appeared a statement that there had been some conferences with the Governor of the Commonwealth in connection with the relief bill known as the Van Allsburg bill, and in reciting the story the gentleman that published it, inadvertently, through no fault of his own, used my name as one of the conferees.

I want to make this public acknowldgment that I would be very happy to see the Governor at any time he requests my presence, but under the circumstances the statement was false. I have not seen the Governor with regard to the Van Allsburg bill or the other relief bills. I am not ready to compromise on those bills. I believe they are unnecessary and I believe the relief system as set up can be properly worked. I believe those bills are purely an effort to secure jobs from one group of political people in order to give them to another group, and under those circumstances I think the situation can be permitted to remain as it is and I think civil service ought to be strengthened rather than weakened.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will be spread upon the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I also saw in the press that I was named as one of the sub-committee of the Committee on Welfare to revise the Van Allsburg Welfare Bill.

I have not attended any meetings, I have had nothing to do with drafting any legislation on this subject, although I have been in the press that this bill has been gone over and prepared and submitted to the Republican caucus.

I wish to state that I have had nothing to do with the drawing of a new bill or revising the old Van Allsburg bill, and when the proper time comes I will express my views and my vote on this problem.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the Senator from Washington will be spread upon the Journal.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE SENATE TO HOUSE BILL No. 74

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 74, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and seventy-eight of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "General County Law" as amended, providing for the appointment, the term, and compensation of county detectives in counties of the fifth class.

MOTION TO APPOINT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. OWLET. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, and appoint a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar Committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such a Committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL NO. 226—SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The PRESIDENT. The Chair calls attention of the Senate to the fact that we have a special order of business on page 17 of today's Calendar, entitled: "Special Order on Third Reading Postponed, Thursday, May 18, at 2 p. m., E. S. T." That hour has now arrived.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 226, on third reading, special order of business, entitled:

An Act abolishing the Oil Industry Investigation Commission terminating the terms of its members and lapsing the unobligated balance of any appropriation made therefor go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my point of order is that the request or motion of the gentleman from Tioga is out of order. This is a special order of business for today.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the bill is in possession of the Senate and that this matter can be determined in any way the Senate sees fit; therefore the point of order of the Senator from Fayette is not well taken.

If there is no objection to the request of the Senator from Tioga the bill will go over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 267, (House Bill No. 449), on third reading postponed for the present.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 267, (House Bill No. 449), on third reading, postponed, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one and section four of the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission defining in part the powers and duties of such commission abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania terminating the terms of the members thereof and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records employes property and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings legal or otherwise instituted before by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing that all certificates of public convenience contracts orders and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" by changing method of appointing and removing members of the Commission and making political activity a grounds for their removal.

be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if there are to be any remarks on the motion I have some to make.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this bill has been on the calendar for a long period of time. I am now speaking on the motion to drop it from the calendar and it is necessary to review the history that has preceded this bill on the calendar.

I will have to review the presence of this bill on the calendar, and the possibility of its passage or defeat. For a long time the Democratic Caucus has been advised and kept advised of the presence of this bill on the calendar, and the possibility of its passage or its defeat was used in order to compromise or affect settlement with the majority party of this Senate.

The history back of this bill that was told to the Democratic Caucus was, that in order to defeat the purposes of this bill the Democratic Caucus was to agree to confirmations of executive nominations; the presence on the calendar of this bill, and the possibility of its passage or defeat, was being used to compromise and effect the passage of other legislation.

Now, Mr. President, I do now charge that this bill is known to the Republican administration as being a bad piece of legislation, politically, for the Republican administration. That same fact has been known to all sound-thinking Democratic members of this Caucus. I also charge that my good friend from Tioga, Senator Owlett, has for once shown his political astuteness on the floor of this Senate and completely humbled the Democratic minority by keeping this bill on the calendar and threatening us with the passage of it. He has succeeded very admirably in that piece of strategy; the Democratic Caucus has been deceived by someone into believing that the Republican side of this Senate had sufficient votes to pass this bill, if the Democratic members of this Senate did not go along with certain things that the Republicans wanted passed.

I charge him now openly and publicly, and I do that because I sincerely beleive in the welfare of the Democratic party; and I beleive in the welfare of the Democratic party because I believe in the two-party system of government we have. I do not deny to the Republican members of this Senate the right to so comport and conduct themselves as will result to the best interests of the Republican party, and I say also that the presence of this bill on the Calendar and the possibility of its passage or defeat has been used to promote the political expediency of one party or the other; and the gentleman from Tioga with his astuteness once at least has succeeded in humbling the Democratic members of the Caucus in using this bill to get accomplished the things that he would not have otherwise accomplished, in the matter of executive nominations and also in the passage of legislation.

Mr. President, I know as a fact, the same as the gentleman from Tioga knows as a fact, that there are not sufficient Republican votes on the other side—even if we concede to them two of our own members on this side—they do not have enough votes to pass this bill, and they have known that all the time that this bill has been on the Calendar; yet the Democratic Caucus has been deceived, deliberately deceived into believing—and the belief was fostered upon it—that if we did not agree to certain confirmations, if we did not agree to the passage of certain bills, that this bill now on the calendar would be passed, ripping out the Democratic members of the Public Utility Commission and with them would go the patronge that is under them.

Well, I want it specifically understood that as far as I am concerned I have not yet reached that lowness in level that I am going to barter off the welfare of the people of the State of Pennsylvania or the welfare of my party for patronage or jobs, whether they are under the Public Utility Commission, the State Authority Commission or any other department of this government. The welfare of my party is wrapped up in the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth.

I say that this bill—I charge openly and I challenge rebuttal, I challenge denial of it—I say that the Republican side of this House has never had and does not at this present time have sufficient votes to pass this bill, and they have known that from the very moment that this bill came out; yet by some means or other the Democratic caucus has been deceived in believing that, if we did not go along with the Republican Party, this Public Utility Commission would be ripped out. Now, Mr. President, this is the test of whether what I say is right or not: if you are for the passage of this bill you will vote to keep it on the Calendar and if you are opposed to the bill, if you do not want the bill on the Calendar, then vote to drop it from the Calendar and let us get rid of this sham, this fake, this double dealing, this selling down the river of the Democratic party.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rather enjoy this bill being on the Calendar and I think it should stay a little longer. This bill being on the Calendar has enabled me to get a little closer to the Big Bad Wolf from Tioga County, so that I have been able to occasionally discuss with him some matters of importance which are not yet on the Calendar, and the longer this bill stays on the Calendar the closer I will get to the Senator from Tioga; and I am sure I will have a great deal of influence over him so that we will be able to straighten out some of the affairs of the State that are more important than any bills that have been on the Calendar up to this time.

I want to say, seriously, I never sought and never agreed to any arrangement between the Republicans and the Democrats about this bill. I tried to induce the gentlemen on the other side to drop this bill from the Calendar, purely on the basis of the Constitutional question involved. I have not succeeded in getting the gentleman to agree that it was. I know several members on the other side who do not feel this is a proper bill to pass.

I might have said up until now I too agreed and felt that there were not enough votes on the other side to pass this bill, but I am afraid maybe there will be if this kind of proceeding is kept up.

I want to clear the Democratic Caucus, and myself, and the gentleman from Tioga of any agreement of this kind. At a conference in which this bill was discussed, and the only conference at which it was discussed, the gentleman from Somerset, the gentleman from Adams, the gentleman from Tioga and myself were present, and it was suggested that it would be good legislation and decent tactics not to pass this bill, because we would give up a Constitutional right, a right given to the Senate in the Constitution, and the gentleman from Tioga expressly said he certainly could not agree with that because he did not agree with my position.

The gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, expressed his opinion on this bill on the floor.

At no time was there any agreement. I go further and state that at no time did anybody tell the Caucus there was an agreement on this bill; I will go further and state that the Caucus was expressly told there was no agreement on this bill; the Caucus was told that if there were a little more co-operation on this side of the house there might be more co-operation on the other side of the House; and that was the message that I, as the floor leader of the minority, told the Caucus—nothing more and nothing less.

Anybody who assumed that there was an agreement assumed so out of the whole cloth. There is not a member on the other side of the House who can say there was any agreement.

I am not worried about this bill being on the Calendar and I am not worried about its passage. If the gentlemen on the other side are not put in that position for their own self-protection, and public protection, they may be put in the position where they may have to vote on the bill in order to answer the charges that have been made. There is no basis and no truth in the charges, and certainly this is the first time I have ever heard that matters of this kind, if they did occur, were made the subject of public discussion.

If there is any such impression in the mind of the gentleman who makes the so-called charges maybe there are such impression in the minds of others. I am glad of this opportunity to make the statement that there is no basis in fact for the charges, rather, the so called charges made, and I hope the gentleman from Tioga will keep this bill on the calendar for a long time. I do not hope they will pass it. I hope they will not have enough votes to pass it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this is my fight on this bill, and I do not expect the gentleman from Tioga to defend any position that I might take in this matter, but I am not accustomed to building straw men and then, like pugilists of the first class, tear them down again.

If this bill, as stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is no good, if it has no effect, no useful purpose, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what is it doing on the Calendar, when he knows that all bills that come up for our consideration that are no good, or have not been fully considered, are sent back to committee for further study or possible amendment. Why is this bill kept on the Calendar consistently, and all efforts to send it back to committee have been thwarted by himself and the gentleman from Tioga.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is on the Calendar because the Republicans have twenty-seven votes. If I had twenty-seven votes it would be off the Calendar.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I certainly appreciate my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, stating the facts in reference to this bill, making it unnecessary for me to answer my colleague from Fayette.

Senator Shapiro correctly stated a fact, there has been no agreement of any kind whatsoever with reference to this bill. I explained yesterday, I think, it has been kept on the Calendar because of the fact we have not agreed as to certain provisions in the bill.

Some of the members on the Republican side think there ought to be a different wording in the bill. When we get ready to pass the bill we will at least attempt to pass it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to drop the bill from the Calendar?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, before the roll call, may I interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, whether, before the session closes, this bill will be passed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the inquiry of the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, I am not a prophet or the son of a prophet, and I do not know what this Senate will do on any bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, taking the past as a guide, I would say that the Senator from Tioga knows now whether he can pass a bill of this nature because he, with his Republican disciples, can pass any bill and have passed all the bills he wanted to pass.

Mr. SHAPIRO. What is the question, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The question is shall the bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "aye" to that.

And the question recurring?

Will the Senate agree to the motion to drop the bill from the Calendar?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to know how the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, voted.

The PRESIDENT. The clerk informs the Chair the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, did not vote.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is not compulsory for the gentleman to cast his vote?

Mr JASPAN. Mr. President, I will now vote, if the gentleman from Cambria desires. I will vote "aye". I could not vote until the roll was called.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Cavalcante,	Frey,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Ruth,

So the question was determined in the negative.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, complying with the request or in order to give effect to the suggestion of the gentleman from Tioga, I now move that Senate Bill No. 267 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities, the committee from which it came, for the purpose of amendment and consideration along the lines suggested by the gentleman from Tioga.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Cavalcante,	Frey,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Ruth,

SENATE BILL No. 661 (HOUSE BILL No. 1431) RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR FOR THE PURPOSE OF AMENDMENT

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 661 (Printer's No. 90) that is lying on the table, which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the matter before the Senate at this time is the consideration of Senate Bill No. 267. The action just dispensed with was the defeat of the motion to recommit, but the bill is before the Senate right now.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Fayette is well taken.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President. I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 267. (House Bill No. 449), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one and section four of the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission defining in part the powers and duties of such commission abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania terminating the terms of the members thereof and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records employes property and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings legal or otherwise instituted before by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing that all certificates of public convenience contracts orders and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" by changing method of appointing and removing members of the Commission and making political activity a grounds for their removal.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. OWLETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Bartlett,	Farrell,	McGinnis,	Snowden,
Chapman,	Frey,	Miller,	Stevenson,

NAYS—8

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Jaspan,	Lanius,
Dent,	Jacobs,	Kilgallen,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to know if the ride on the merry-go-round is now over.

The PRESIDENT. Time alone can answer that question.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No 661, (HOUSE BILL No. 1431)

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 661, (House Bill No. 1431), entitled:

An Act for the prevention of congenital syphilis; providing for and regulating the taking of serological tests of women pregnant with child and requiring notation thereof on the birth and stillbirth certificates of their children; imposing duties upon the Department of Health and upon physicians and other persons attending women pregnant with child, and imposing penalties.

was passed finally, May 5th, 1939, which was laid on the table.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand we are considering now taking a bill from the table, which has been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment; the purpose is to amend the bill. The bill is not on the Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The bill has been recalled from the Governor, and the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, is now moving that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Then, Mr. President, the bill is not on the Calendar?

The PRESIDENT. The bill is not on today's Calendar.

Does the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, know on what day it last appeared on the Calendar?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. I cannot answer that, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The encyclopedia from Philadelphia, will now inform us.

Mr. SHAPIRO. It passed through the Senate on May 1st, Mr. President.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. That is correct, Mr. President; it passed in the House on May 5.

An the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 1, title, by inserting after the word "of" and before the word "women" the following: "certain"; amend Section 1, page 1, line 6, by inserting after the word "thereof" and before the word "and" the following: "if no specific objection thereto is made by such woman"; amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after the word "Pennsylvania" and before the word "and" the following: "if no specific objection thereto is made by such woman"; amend Section 3, page 2, line 24, by adding after the word "advisable" the following: "or because a specific objection thereto was made by such woman".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I follow these amendments it means that the plan proposed is to be made permissive instead of obligatory.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, at whose suggestion is the amendment being made?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, the amendments are mine; but I do not see that it can concern the gentleman from Philadelphia at whose suggestion the amendments were made.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I further suggest an answer to the gentleman. The bill is the gentleman's, as well as the amendments, and his bill came over in the original form and he asked us to vote for it. We did. The bill concerns me very much as to who is suggesting these amendments, because if someone who knows something about the matter is suggesting the amendments, I will be guided in my judgment; certainly, I am entitled to know who suggested the amendments, which, in my opinion, take the effectiveness of the bill away.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, the suggested amendments do nothing to the bill except soften it. It also makes it a directory bill rather than a mandatory bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman has not answered my question, which is, and I will repeat it—I am sure he has not heard it—at whose suggestion were these amendments prepared?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, they were prepared after a conference with a number of people.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman still has not answered my question.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I still maintain that the gentleman from Philadelphia is not asking a proper question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman apparently does not want to answer the question and I cannot compel him to do so, but I do want to say this; I do not agree with those who framed this amendment. It is not a mandatory bill; what it does now is to prohibit what has been done before. Before this bill became a law it was customary in all hospitals to make these prenatal examinations unless there was objection. Now, with these amendments in the bill, you have to get the consent of the patients before you make the examinations, and now you are worse off than you were before, and that is silly, to have the Senate study this, come to a definite conclusion; and then after it was passed, open up the matter, take the bill and emasculate it. Before any hospital can take any prenatal examination it must get the consent of the woman, where before it has been a matter of course; there is no objection to it, it is just a routine matter as we did it. Now, instead of having prepared a permissive bill we have a prohibiting bill. I would like to know who it was that made the change and—correct me if I am wrong—it seems to me it will produce a very obvious result.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia is still persisting in his question?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to know who is responsible for this amendment, because as it stands now I propose to vote against this bill.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia is reading things into the bill that are not there. As I see the proposition it is this: the question is, are we going to take any steps towards the eradication of this evil? Now, if we pass this bill in this form we may not take as great a step as we would have taken had the bill been signed in its original form; but if you refuse to pass it in this form, you are taking absolutely no steps towards the eradication of this evil.

For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, many of the States have directoral bills, bills of this type; and it is merely a matter of opinion as to which type of bill works best. I do not want the gentleman from Philadelphia to vote against a bill merely because his opinion is that the bill should be mandatory. If he is interested in this social problem—and I know he is—I do hope that he and all his colleagues, on both sides of the House, will vote for the bill as amended, because a vote against it as amended might be misconstrued and I am sure the gentleman from Philadelphia would not want that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am only speaking against the amendments. I am not asking anybody to vote according to what I think; but I am going to vote against these amendments to the bill, because I am convinced, from reading this bill, that this bill has destroyed the very effect we tried to accomplish. The gentleman from Indiana knows, and we discussed—when the bill was first before the Senate for action, we discussed this very question and it was admitted on the floor—one of the arguments used by the gentleman to have it passed was that these examinations were made in the hospitals every day, but they are not taken when the patients object; it is a routine matter and there is seldom any objection, it has been going on in hundreds of thousands of cases in the hospital of which I happen to be a member of the board. We have established a prenatal clinic, and for years we have been doing this work. As this bill reads now it is that the physician "shall within fifteen days thereof, submit a sample to an approved laboratory." Now, that reads if the patient "consents," and submit a sample to an approved laboratory. Under that latter provision before this patient can be examined, before a test can be made, no matter which test is applied, there must be consent of the patient.

Now, there is nothing in the bill to show how the consent shall be obtained; and any time a hospital takes such a test and sometime later some woman feels aggrieved, or her husband, she will say she did not consent; we will have to protect ourselves by getting a written consent—and we will not get it—and it seems to me the penalty imposed would make it so dangerous for any physician in a hospital to do what we have been doing that you are spoiling the purpose of the act.

I know how anxious the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, is to have this bill passed, but I think we spent a lot of thought and time on this problem and we passed this bill once before and we can pass it again. If we are right in our position—and I contend that this consent clause in the amendment destroys the purpose; and not only that it stops the proceedings which have been going on up until now without this bill; and I do not think it is proper, in a matter of such importance, that we ought to pass this amendment without giving it some consideration; and that is why I want to know who are those people who wrote this amendment.

We have some rights in this matter. Consider those children that are born with this disease, who become subjects of public responsibility. When the public assumes that responsibility it is our privilege, if we are going to have the responsibility we want to be able to prevent or govern the very thing we are trying to accomplish.

Why try to pass this bill in a rush? Why not consider this matter? Let us know who these people are. It is silly to ruin this bill.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, do I understand from the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that he objects to giving unanimous consent to consideration of the amendment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the bill has been brought back to second reading and does not require unanimous consent.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands unanimous consent to introduce the amendment has been already given.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not raising any technical objection; I do not recollect whether that was given or not. I do not think that the bill ought to be passed.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, as I understand the matter we have unanimous consent to the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. You have unanimous consent to offer an amendment. The amendment is now before us and the Chair will put the motion to a vote when the discussion is finished.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will suggest that the bill be amended and amended now. We can vote on it and the gentleman from Philadelphia will have ample time and he can cast his vote either for or against the bill in its amended form.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I was very much interested, with the Senator from Indiana, in the preparation, in the passage of this bill. I have gleaned over the amendments and I am inclined to agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in this respect, that the amendments will make it very dangerous for me in the practice of medicine to take a Wasserman in any case without the written consent of the patient. The danger of that is, or the practice is, we frequently take specimans of blood and probably say to the patient we are going to do something, some routine test, without notifying the individual; and after taking them we take it upon ourselves to do a routine Wasserman, but this bill will absolutely put the professional man under obligation to tell the patient definitely what he is going to do.

Mr. PRESIDENT I should like to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, it is one thing to be interrogated by the average lay-man member of this Senate, but it is entirely different to be interrogated by a doctor.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I do not desire to ask the Senator from Indiana a medical question, I just want to ask the Senator if he has taken this amendment up with the medical men who were originally consulted in connection with this bill.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I did not take it up with all the medical men but I did take it up with some medical men. I do not think it will have the effect the Senator from Philadelphia says it will have. At least, that is my information.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I am anxious to get a good bill for the control of this problem but I do not want to see the effect of this bill destroyed by any amendment of this type, and I am sure the Senator from Indiana does not either, because he has talked to me along these lines, and I would feel very unhappy if this bill were defeated because of this amendment, because I think it is a very excellent bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION TO LAY AMENDMENTS ON THE TABLE

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I ask that the amendments be laid on the table.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. Presidnnt, I second the motion.

On the motion,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Indiana wish the bill to remain on the Calendar.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like the bill to remain on the Calendar. It is on the Calendar now, is it not?

The PRESIDENT. No, it is not.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, let both the bill and the amendments be laid upon the table.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Indiana moves that the bill, with the amendments, be now laid upon the table.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second that motion.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 1097, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act, approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 266), entitled "An act to protect trade-mark owners, distributors, and the public against injuries and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard quality under a distinguished trademark, brand or name," by extending the provisions thereof to vending equipment used in distributing such articles.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 1098, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," establishing an additional route in the County of Fayette.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am going to report a bill at this time, but in order to explain that I am not an optimist I want to make a statement in connection with the bill.

In Philadelphia, and I think in other counties, it has been the practice for courts dealing with support orders to from time to time remit arrearages; in all Domestic Relations Courts it has been the practice to remit arrearages where orders have been made against husbands and it has been subsequently found that they can not meet the orders. Sometimes that practice has been abused and that power has been used to remit arrearages where influences other than proper facts which should have been considered were considered. The Supreme Court in a recent decision declared that the Domestic Relations Court had no right to change arrearages, and in one case reversed the court.

There was a bill presented to the Committee on Judiciary General changing the law established by that case and giving the right to the Municipal Court to remit arrearages. All of us in the Judiciary General Committee came to the conclusion that that bill should not become a law because we did not feel that is was necessary; in proper cases petitions should be filed to reduce orders, when changes in financial situations occurred.

Since then it has been called to our attention that there are a number of these orders existing where remissions were made, which now become subject to revival by some persons, for the purpose of getting money out of husbands who have gone to sleep in the belief that they are relieved of the order.

I am, therefore with the consent of the members of the Committee on Judiciary General, offering this bill now, as committed, so that it may appear on the Calendar and then amended, to confine it to validating these acts or changes prior to the decision rendered in the case to which I referred. The amendment is not in the bill. I am reporting it from the Committee on Judiciary General as committed, with the understanding that an amendment will be prepared.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. From the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 813, entitled:

An Act conferring jurisdiction upon the Courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over support orders made by it.

PROCEED TO CONSIDERATION OF CALENDAR

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the Calendar.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 315, on third reading, entitled:

An Act affecting cities of the third class authorizing the annexation of boroughs thereto under certain conditions and in connection therewith placing duties upon or affecting courts of quarter sessions county boards of election and officers of boroughs and cities of the third class and providing for the payment of the indebtedness of the various territorial units involved

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator his reason for asking that Senate Bill No. 315, go over in its order. I also would like to call his attention to the fact that this is a Senate bill.

Mr. DENT. I know that, Mr. President, but I just received a telegram from a borough in my community, that is adjacent to a larger community, and it afraid that it will be gobbled up by the larger third class city, which has been trying to get the borough in for a long time. It has a higher tax rate than the borough, and the borough does not want to go into the city; and I therefore ask that this bill go over in its order to let me become better acquainted with the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would suggest that the Senator from Westmoreland look into the matter right away, so that this bill can be called up later in the day.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to do that.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 226, special order on third reading postponed for the present, until Thursday, May 18, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T., which went over in its order.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 226, entitled:

An Act abolishing the Oil Industry Investigation Commission terminating the terms of its members and lapsing the unobligated balance of any appropriation made therefor

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am very sorry the commission is unable to report today. One of the members today is in Philadelphia, a businessman; the secretary is a lecturer at Carnegie Tech; Senator Thompson is a busy lawyer, and it has been most difficult, it has been very difficult, to get the commission together.

They are all here today, except Senator Thompson, and they have working—the secretary since seven o'clock this morning.

They do not, however, have the report in its final form and will not have it, perhaps, until next Monday or Tuesday night. Of course, I realize this is a Senate bill and must pass the House, and I want to assure the Senate that the commission is not in itself anxious to continue the work, we do not relish the job any too well.

However, in view of the importance of this bill and the precarious condition of the industry, I feel that the commission ought to continue, if only for the purpose of receiving complaints and suggestions during the recess. It is a rather serious situation, especially to a Senator from the western end of the State, if every car owner has to pay eight dollars a year more for his gas than car users down east. We could find no reason for a change of price or raising the price a penny in the west.

That concerns every car owner west of the mountains. The average wholesale price west of the mountains is a cent and a half a gallon higher than down east; the retail price runs as high as four cents a gallon and we could find no reason for that.

David E. McCraim, president of the Central Pennsylvania Oil Producers Association, stated on June 19, 1938: "A continuation of the conditions and prices that have prevailed in the Pennsylvania field during the last year would ruin hundreds of our producers, many of whom are already posse.

Here is an industry that concerns the State of Pennsylvania probably more vitally than any other industry in this State, and as I have told this Senate, according to sworn testimony the producers are losing as high as forty cents a barrel in the production. Six thousand wells may be closed, according to producers' testimony, in Butler, Armstrong and Lawrence Counties.

Then, too, the retailer is in a precarious condition and the industry is sick if there ever was an industry that was sick, and yet we are here in the Senate consuming our time on trivial bills and will not come to grips with this subject.

I can see no harm in this, in an industry of such vital concern to every person in Pennsylvania, why this commission should not be allowed to continue if for nothing more than to receive complaints, so that those people would have somebody to turn to during the recess.

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL 226 GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill 226 go over in its order.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. Did the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, put that as a motion?

Mr. REED. Yes, Mr. President, I did.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved and seconded that Senate Bill 226 go over in its order.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The "noes" appear to have it.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to have a roll call and I cannot understand why the gentleman from Tioga takes this attitude on this bill, and on a bill on which the Senator from Fayette raised a question some time ago he took an opposite position.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this is a Senate bill and the other bill is a House bill. This bill must pass the House after it passes here. We have put this bill over in its order as a special order of business, with the distinct understanding that it would be voted on today, and I ask that the Senate consider this bill now.

Mr. REED. Roll Call, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, there is a time when patience ceases to be a virtue. I think I know something about the oil industry, its manufacture, its refining, and its distribution. I have been very much amused to hear various arguments and very much interested, and I think the gentleman on this side has been very sincere in their belief.

In the first place the bill is very expensive. We appropriated something like $50,000 for the investigation and we have not got anywhere and, Mr. President, this is but a small drop in the bucket compared with the cost of the investigation if that commission is continued.

In my own city one independent refinery spent with their whole office force six months in trying to make out these various forms required by the commission, and they got just to the beginning.

We must remember, Mr. President, that the oil production, the oil industry, is not controlled by the Standard Oil Company or the Texas Company or the large companies; oil production is controlled by sixty per cent of what we call the small producer and he is the one that this bill is injuring; and the next thing is that it is useless in this oil investigation, absolutely useless.

Now, as to the price factor I am very much interested in hearing my good friend from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, talk about the difference in prices between Philadelphia and the western part of the State, the locality which it is produced. As you know, gasoline, gas, ordinary oil and gasoline are transported not so very much by railroads anymore but by pipe line systems.

These pipe lines, this underground transportation, is a 5very important adjunct that only recently has been extended to almost every hamlet in Pennsylvania, in through the west. In these lines carrying gasoline costs but a fraction of a cent a barrel to transport from one end of the State to the other, something like three or four cents a barrel, so you can see what a small difference, with forty-two gallons in a barrel, it would make in the cost of a gallon of gasoline.

Next Mr. President, I wish to emphasise that the price of gasoline and oil and various products is dependent not upon the question of supply and demand, and this investigation will have no effect upon the price of the various oils and its products, and I therefore hope that this bill is passed.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the two commissions spent about $40,000 on this investigation. The present commission has spent practically nothing; the old commission held investigations and hearings all over the State, covering a period of seven months, and got some very valuable information.

I can assure the Senate there is no thought of the present commission of going ahead and making any further investigation or spending any more money, except possibly keeping a secretary at a small salary to receive correspondence and complaints and keep in touch with the industry.

I feel it would be a good thing for the people of Pennsylvania, a good thing for the producer, a good thing for the retailer, a good thing for the user of gasoline and oil that this commission should be in existence to take care of the records. Our secretary, a lecturer at Carnegie Tech and his staff will give his time and his knowledge, his experience in the investigation practically for nothing because he is interested in this matter.

It is a matter of vital concern, I know of no other subject in the State of Pennsylvania that concerns as many people that are as seriously affected as there are in the oil industry.

The Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman, spoke about the oil producer. The oil of Pennsylvania is produced on the whole by small producers. There is only one large company that produces to a great extent; all the rest of the production of Pennsylvania is done by small producers, many of them farmers, small partnerships and corporations that have only a few wells, and they are the ones complaining.

The industry itself is complaining about the situation and would like to correct it and they are trying to correct it. It is serious to the producers, serious to the little retailer, and serious to the pocketbook of every single user of gasoline and oil in Pennsylvania. I know of no commission that could be organized or suggested that would have such an important matter on its hands as this commission.

Why, as I said before, our users and taxpayers in the western end of the State have to pay eight dollars a year more on the average than down here, when it only costs less than a cent to transport from here to Pittsburgh. They do not even transport it, they trade the gasoline, but they charge the consumer this extra price, from three to four cents more in the west, and I cannot see the necessity for abolishing this commission when I can assure the Senate that there is no thought of muckraking, there is no thought of embarrassing anybody; we do not mention a name in the report but we mention facts and figures; and it would seem to me it would give some satisfaction to those people who are in distress to know they had a commission which was not abolished, an oil commission to which they could at least submit their complaints.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, in answer to the statement of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, there is nothing in the bill which will prevent the commission from submitting its report, even after the commission is abolished.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is the motion to put the bill over in its order?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is to put the bill over in its order and a vote "aye" is to put the bill over in its order and a vote "no" will keep the bill in its present position.

Those in favor of the motion will vote "aye."

Those not in favor of the motion will vote "no."

The "noes" appear to have it.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I demand a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Dando,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sipe,

Edmonds,	Letzler,	Stevenson,	Gelder,
Eroe,	Mallery,		Pres. Pro. Tem.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Miller,	Thomas,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,

Frey,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Stiefel,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I just want to make this observation: here is a bill that vitally affects every person in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—

The PRESIDENT. Is the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed, speaking on the bill just passed?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I am speaking on a question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Referring, Mr. President, to the bill just passed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I do not intend to be gagged today.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will not be gagged, but the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has the floor.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the point of order is that we are on the Calendar and nothing else is in order but the consideration of bills. Mr. President, we took pretty nearly an hour of the time of this Senate today on a procedure which resulted, after an hour's debate, in putting the bill back on the Postponed Calendar. I think it is imposing on the patience of this Senate to discuss a bill after it is passed, even though it is done under the protection of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. Did the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, rise on a question of personal privilege?

Mr. REED. I did, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate has always been very lenient in the matter of questions of personal privilege. We have listened to them in season and I might say out of season, and I would suggest not only to the Senator from Washington but to all the Senators that when we are acting on the Calendar very often it is out of season to consider questions of personal privilege; but far be it from the Chair to deny the Senator from Washington the right of personal privilege at this or any other time.

The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, is therefore recognized on a question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I just want to call attention of the Senate to the fact that the bill just taken from the Calendar by vote of the members of this Senate was a very important one.

It is a bill that has to do with the basic commodity, a bill that affects the welfare of all the people of Pennsylvania and yet, at the will of the majority leader, the Senator from Tioga, the members on the other side voted unanimously to take this important bill from the Calendar, not giving the Senator from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, a few more days to perfect his report.

Just this afternoon, Mr. President, a bill that does not mean anything to the people of Pennsylvania, which has been on the Calendar for weeks, on motion of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, and after a long and stormy debate, was kept on the Calendar at the will of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

Mr. President, I sincerely hope that the time will come in this Senate when we will have more independent voting.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 851), entitled:

An Act to amend clause (c) of section twenty-nine of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-seven) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in boroughs towns and townships as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors requiring the county commissioners of the various counties to act as a registration commission therefor and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens parties political bodies registration commissions commissioners registrars inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commissions county election boards election officers municipal officers departments and bureaus police officers courts judges prothonotaries sheriffs county commissioners peace officers county treasurers county controllers registrars of vital statistics certain public utility corporations real estate brokers rental agents and boards of school directors and imposing penalties" by eliminating the provisions requiring certain municipal officers departments bureaus and public utility corporations to make certain reports to the registration commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 2, line 8 of title, by striking out the word: "eliminating" and inserting in lieu thereof: "changing"; amend Sec. 1 (Cl. c), page 3, line 7, by striking out: SC the light-face bracket before the word "All"; amend Sec. 1 (Cl. c), page 3, line 10, by striking out with light-face brackets the words: SC "at least once a month" and inserting in lieu thereof: "from time to time"; amend Sec. 1 (Cl. c), page 3, line 11, by inserting after the word "commission" the following: SC "upon the request of the commission"; amend Sec. 1 (Cl. c), page 3, line 15, by striking out: SC the light-face bracket after the word "them"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 630, (House Bill No. 929), entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred thirteen section five hundred ten as amended and sections six hundred and thirteen and seven hundred ten of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 648, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 1055) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" permitting the release on parole of persons convicted of other crimes than those to which parole was heretofore restricted

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the provisions of this bill. As we all know, we have now before this General Assembly a new criminal code and also a code dealing with probation and paroles.

This bill before us amends an Act that lawyers refer to as the Probation Act or an act that permits judges to suspend a sentence or to place a defendant on probation. As the act is on the books now, it gives the court the power to suspend and place on probation defendants or persons who are convicted of a crime, excepting those who are convicted of murder, administering poison, kidnapping, incest, sodomy, buggery, rape, assault and battery with intent to ravish, arson, robbery, or burglary, and I say that the act as it now stands on the statute books is a good act, but this bill gives the court the power to suspend sentence or place on probation a man who had administered poison, or who has kidnapped, or who committed incest, sodomy or arson, and those other high felonies known to the law.

Now, mark you this, this bill strikes out of the act all of those offenses and gives the court the power to place on probation persons who are found to be guilty of committing those crimes, and the only crime it excepts from the act, as amended, is murder in the first degree.

Now, members of the Senate who are attorneys, I ask you whether a court, any court in this State has the power to place on probation a man who is convicted of first degree murder. I ask you if the law is not mandatory, if the law does not say right now that a defendant who is charged with first degree murder, the fact whether he is guilty or not is a question for the jury, and the jury fixes the penalty; the jury says whether it shall be the electric chair or whether it shall be life imprisonment; but there is no other alternative, the punishment for first degree murder is either life imprisonment or death, yet this bill, Mr. President, watch how rediculous the amendment will make it—it permits the court to place on probation any defendant convicted of any crime, no matter what the crime is, except first degree murder, or a crime for the conviction of which the court has no power whatsoever to place a man on probation but must either sentence him to death or sentence him to life imprisonment.

Now, members of this Senate, I am not speaking against this bill because of any apparent differences that have already appeared here to exist between the gentleman from Philadelphia and myself on other matters. I am appealing to your fairness to consider the merits of this bill, whether you think it advisable at this time to place in the hands of the courts the power of probation given to them by this act; with, too, the knowledge we have of the rackets and those gangs who have organized arson conspiracies, poison and rape at the present time in the City of Philadelphia. The newspapers have carried the items here of a gigantic arson ring, a group of individuals who have used poison for the extermination of hundreds of individuals.

Now we are going to give to these courts, that to some degree have been condemned by the commission which Doctor Ruth was the chairman, investigating courts on probation and parole—the report shows there was laxity in that system, that the system had to be corrected, that it was too weak; and now because of this bill they will further weaken that system by giving those same courts more power. I think this bill ought to be defeated because it is a bad bill, on its merits, and not because of the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am sorry there were any personalities injected into this case. There is no difference between the gentleman from Fayette and myself, —there is complete understanding. This bill bears my name but is sponsored at the request and as a result of a hearing given on the parole question of Judge Gordon of Philadelphia.

This is a bill setting up a method of probation and parole and in Philadelphia and elsewhere judges have found their hands tied by this bill now, because even in kidnapping and even in incest and even in buggery they were obliged to send a person to jail when they felt in their own hearts he should not go to jail. In order to get around that they adopted the practice of suspending sentence, and that is what Dr. Ruth's committee turned up. It was very bad to put judges in that position, in a very difficult case where obviously a prisoner should not be sent to jail, they could not keep him on probation unless they resorted to subterfuge, and many judges did that.

As a result of this investigation it was agreed between Judge Smith of Pittsburgh and Judge Gordon of Philadelphia that this bill was necessary to set up a complete picture. I have no personal interest in the bill, I think that objective is correct; I think the proposition they are trying to accomplish is good, and their attentions are certainly honorable.

At the request of Judge Gordon, and in order to make the matter conform, I introduced a bill and there was a discussion concerning the bill, at which I think the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and myself were present with Judge Smith, when we discussed the bill, and we all felt it should follow up the system we are adopting, with the understanding of course, it is a part of the same scheme. If any gentleman here thinks it has greater effect it should be put over and time taken to consider it carefully.

I do not care what the Senate does with the bill, except I think if we are to adopt a new system we ought to go along. If you want further study and there is time to pass it in the House, all right. It is not a vicious bill and there is not anything terrible in it, but it is a bill which accomplishes a desired purpose and if a judge is no good, if he misuses his powers we do not keep him, we discharge the judge, and if judges are abusing the parole power they have in their hands that is the way to correct it. You do not send a prisoner to jail just because he does not trust a judge.

I think this is a fair piece of legislation along the line of the parole system we are establishing. I am ready to accept the suggestion of any member of Senate on the matter. I have no personal interest in the bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Philadelphia whether he agrees with me that the administering of poison and kidnapping—it seems to me that those are very serious crimes to be dealt with in this way.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would answer that by saying every crime is a serious crime and without much trouble. I can tell you of four cases of kidnapping which happened in Pennsylvania in the last five years—a judge of a United States District Court paroled the defendant—a kidnapping threat to kidnap a child, and the circumstances showed in one case a man whose mind was upset; in another case it was because it was a prank. Certainly, kidnapping is a serious crime, so is assault and battery and so is assault and battery with intent to ravish. What is the difference? This is a serious problem. We are looking at a defendant, determining whether he should be put in jail or on probation, and the theory back of this is that our judges are honest and are not allowing people to run out right and left. It is true that does not always work but for that reason should we put the defendant in jail? I think we should dismiss the judge.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, since the sponsor of the bill has announced publicly that he presented this bill by request I think I am free to give my opinion on this bill, because I do not want to be misinterpreted in objecting to the bill.

We are confronted at this moment with an affair in Philadelphia that is very vicious, and this bill—those who prepared it and handed it to Senator Shapiro forgot, or maybe it was premature when the bill was drawn up, that in Philadelphia today there is a group of individuals who have taken the law and the lives of people into their own hands.

I say that this bill is vicious, it does not consider those who, after premeditation, prepared a poisoned sandwich or a poisoned mixture for a citizen or constituents of the City of Philadelphia. It gives them an opportunity to run out on a penalty that should be inflicted on them, that of the electric chair.

I say I can not vote for this measure. I will not accuse public resentment, I will not accuse conditions that exist today, but I accuse my conscience and I say I can not vote for this bill, knowing that there are men who are being taken out for lunch in restaurants who have been condemned of murder in the first degree; there are people who have been found guilty by juries and who are being taken in Horn in Hardart's and taken for a ride through Fairmount park to enjoy the environment and the view and the scenery of the City of Philadelphia.

I say that those individuals should be treated in a way that people who would want to attempt to repeat what they did should remember what happened to the culprits.

I say I cannot vote for this bill and I wanted to make my statements first, before the Senator from Fayette. Mr. Cavalcante, made his statement, but I did not want to create a misunderstanding here.

I thought it was Senator Shapiro who was presenting the bill, but knowing it comes from another source I resent it; I resent the fact that we should not take this bill apart and study it further so as to amend parts that are not agreeable to the consciences of the members of this legislature. I say that those men and those women who have aligned themselves as accomplices with one big gang of murderers should be treated with the strongest arm of the law; and the strongest arm of the law is known by each member of this legislature.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Shapiro if he is willing to allow this bill to go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Certainly, Mr. President, anything the Senate wants. I want it made clear, in fairness to Judge Gordon and Judge Smith, that this bill was considered by the committee before the offenses discussed by my colleagues from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, were committed. I suggest to my colleagues that whatever they want to be done should be done. I have no interest in the matter.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 648 go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, it is my understanding, then, that this bill will not come up for final action until Monday evening.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator who asked that it go over in its order agree that it shall not be called up. The Chair can hardly speak for the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think this bill should not be discussed or acted upon before Monday evening.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 776, (House Bill No. 389) on third reading, entitled:

An Act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth go over in its order until Monday.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it is the criminal code, the penal code, and there have been some errors already discovered in the printing. It seems to me the bill should be examined over the weekend, in order that the bill may be perfect.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 815, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section three of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 1024) entitled "An act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecution and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof" regulating the hours of labor for female employes of non-profit charitable or welfare institutions

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, this is a very serious piece of legislation. This bill takes the hospitals and charitable institutions out from under the provisions of the forty-four hour law as applying to women in Pennsylvania. There is no need for this legislation at this time; there has been no complaint against the provisions of the women's forty-four hour law in Pennsylvania.

Hospital and charitable institutions are specially provided for under the provisions of that act. This bill does not do anything that is not being done today for hospitals and private institutions.

Under the act passed in 1937 the Industrial Board, together with the Secretary of Labor and Industry, was given the express right to set up special rules and regulations governing the hours of employment of females in that type of institution. Under the former Secretary of Labor, and the Industrial Board, special rules and regulations were made up that conformed with the provisions of this Act.

Now, you say, "why, then, is that Act necessary?" I will tell you, in my own humble opinion why this bill is supposed to be necessary. We have a new Secretary of Labor and Industry. It is well-known that the present Secretary of Labor and Industry is a member of a certain union. Along with the females in charitable institutions, who are exempted under the forty-four hour act, we have the summer hotels, we have the canning industry, we have various types of female labor that are exempted by provisions which allow the Secretary of Labor and Industry to set up rules and regulations.

There has been a drive on in certain lines of endeavor, such as hotel work and so on, and certain persons in the State are driving this Secretary of Labor and Industry into the position that they want him to enforce the act without the exemptions to the summer hotels and other private enterprises.

He says—I would say this is not a conversation that is in reality, a conversation; it is just the words that I will put into the mouth of a Secretary of Labor; he must say to them, "I cannot excuse the hospitals, on one hand, and enforce the law on the summer hotel," and so, a little scheme was devised. They said, we will put in a special act of legislation and we will exempt hospitals and charitable institutions specifically; and then, after that is done, we will go in and put the hammer down upon summer hotels and other enterprises.

I say to you that if you pass this bill you are going to force a situation that the last Legislature in its wisdom, knew could not be enforced in the State of Pennsylvania because it is seasonal business, in summer hotels, in the canning industry, and so forth.

I say this is not a proper piece of legislation, because the exemptions that are asked for under this act are already granted to the hospitals in Pennsylvania; they are already granted to the charitable institutions in Pennsylvania; but along with them are other private enterprises which would find it difficult to live under the stringent forty-four hour law. So I say to you, gentlemen this act should not be passed.

It also goes a little further and takes in not only professional and semi-professional employes of hospitals and private institutions but it takes in chambermaids, laundry workers and the rest of the employes around a hospital.

I know my argument will not change any votes; I only want to give you the right picture; then you can suit yourselves on your vote.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this bill was introduced at the suggestion of the Secretary of the Hospital Association of the State. It is perfectly true the Industrial Board made an exemption of hospital workers, but that was an administrative action and not a law; and there has been a good deal of doubt whether or not it might be enforced. In order to settle the question, particularly as the hospitals at the present time are working at high speed and under great and serious difficulties, it seemed best to introduce legislation which would make the exemption clear as far as women employes were concerned.

You will readily understand that there are many small hospitals in the state, and many large ones. I happen to be a trustee of one hospital, which I think is the largest in the State, the Jefferson Hospital down in Philadelphia, and we found it impossible to apply that forty-four hour law under the conditions under which we were obliged to work; and I am told in the smaller hospitals, they have only a very few nurses, they have the same difficulty.

It is not with any desire that they should be worked unduly, but with a sincere desire that there should be enough elasticity for them to do their work.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr President, if there is a doubt as to the legality of the exceptions granted to hospitals, then is there not also a doubt as to the legality of exemptions granted private enterprises which cannot live under the forty-four hour law, in its present form?

Mr EDMONDS. Mr. President, I cannot answer that question, because I am not familiar with cases of private enterprise; but I know any private enterprise so interested may appeal to the Industrial Board, and there is always the possibility of some situation developing which will get the hospitals into serious trouble; and, naturally, they want it settled on some basis.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say, not being legally trained my mind might not function along the same lines as that of the Senator from Montgomery; but if the same law covers specific cases in one industry, it covers specific cases in another; and there is no question as to the legality on one, there certainly should not be on the other. I am going to be frank and say this is another piece of kindling on the bonfire; the flames go higher as the time grows near for the end of the session; and sooner or later the embers will glow, and we will leave here with the ashes of labor legislation we passed after forty-four years of hard work.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I was under the impression, from my hospital attachment, from my attendance around hospitals, that from the standpoint of economy and hospital management, this bill is necessary. This labor angle has never been injected until Senator Dent brought it forward today; but from the standpoint of hospital management and economies this is a bill that is necessary for them to carry on, particularly now with budgets reduced, they have to stay within expenses within the restrictions of their expenditures. Something will have to be done to help the problem of labor around the institutions; and if we can confine it to that and not step out, as Senator Dent says, into other fields I believe it would be an excellent bill.

I might ask, if it is not too late to do so, that the bill go over in its order, so that we may study both angles of it.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, this is a Senate bill, and I am afraid if it goes over in its order it will not pass. The bill was considered by my committee, and the Hospital Association tells me it would be impossible to keep the hospitals open unless the exemption is granted to the employees of hospitals.

There have been some questions raised about exemptions, it is true, since the act was passed in 1937, when the hospitals were included by mistake. If Senator Dent raises the question as to what is the difference between summer hotels and the canning industry, for instance, the difference is, largely, hospitals are non-profit institutions. There is no way in the world any hospital can make up a budget unless they are assured they can be exempted from this forty-four hour act.

I think it is necessary, Mr. President, in order for the hospitals to remain open, that they be excluded from the provisions of this act.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, as I read this bill, with reference to exemptions of hotels and boarding houses, the amendments read: "and provided, further, that females employed in charitable or welfare institutions operated on a non-profit basis shall be permitted to work for not more than ten hours any one day, which ten hours shall be all within one period of thirteen consecutive hours, and not more than forty-eight hours in six days of any calendar week."

That is the amendment, and that is what we are thinking to be put in the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is the very trouble with this bill. It seems to me it was under the act of 1937 that we gave to the Department of Labor and Industry discretionary power to increase the hours of labor in certain industries, both as to female and male employees. The act relating to male employees, to my recollection, was declared unconstitutional; and in so far as female employees were concerned it has not been affected by that decision.

This act amends the Act of 1913, which does not relate to the Act in question, and it seems to me there is confusion; we do not really need this act. I think the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, is perfectly right in his position that the effect of this act can be obtained within the discretion they now have.

If you pass this act I do not know whether you are really not removing the power and confirming it to other persons. I do not know what a welfare institution is either—as it is defined here. It might be, the way it is set up, that any institution may be a welfare institution and come within the terms. You are defining and restricting, and where you have a flexibility under a department, I think the department head ought to take the responsibility. There are some institutions where maybe the hours should not be as much and in sime maybe there should be more. You have the discretion, why disturb it; and I think the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, will agree as to whether or not you are not amending the wrong Act.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that this amends the Act of 1913 as amended in 1937.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I know.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the amendment simply relates to females in charitable and welfare institutions which today, because of action of the Industrial Board or Secretary of Labor and Industry, I forget which, are excluded, and he knew that that left them without regulation except so far as the old act provides; and now we are bringing it in again.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the objection to giving department heads administration of this bill is, as the Senator from Delaware stated, the uncertainty in administration in so far as preparing a hospital budget is concerned.

If this were fixed by law they would have some standard to go by. I have heard complaints, on the floor, about turning over legislative power to the heads of departments; and I think this is one of the things they have been obliged to do in the past, delegate the powers to the department heads; and I think the hospitals in all fairness should know by law what they are permitted to do.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the debate; I only want to say this: once you remove hospitals from any jurisdiction of the Labor Department of the State, specifically exempt them, with the arguments given here today—based on arguments always given when we come to the point of regulating hospitals and charitable institutions, I say to you you are writing off the books for many years to come any legislation restraining female help in hospitals—female help whether in a hospital or in a factory, or in a restaurant, or in a shop, it is still female help.

You pass these laws under the pretext of public health, in the interest of public health and safety. You turn around and say it is all right to pass legislation in the interest of public health and safety, for women working in private institutions, except the class that work in hospitals; it is all right for a chambermaid to work in a hospital, she is a different kind of worker, but you are regulating the woman in the restaurant; and I say you are writing off the books a humane piece of legislation. I repeat my charge: this is another piece of kindling in the bonfire.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1031, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health for use in research work dealing with human nutrition for children

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I want to ask the Senator if he knew in the 1937 Session, that such a bill, exactly the same bill, was passed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I believe so.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, is the Senator aware that there was $40,000 contributed by the State and $40,000 contributed by the Federal Government for such a study.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did.

Mr. MUNDY. And, Mr. President is the Senator aware that such a study was carried on very successfully, and excellent work was being done when that program was called off by order of the Governor on the basis of economy.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as to the latter inquiry I am not sure; I know it was called off, and I think the statements are true.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I wish to assure the Senator that there was left in that fund some $40,000—between $35,000 and $40,000—of unexpended funds, and I would like to know from the Senator what became of that fund that was left.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator—perhaps he knows more about it than I do, but my understanding is that the money was appropriated to the Department of Health for carrying on this research work. As to the nutrition of children, the Department of Health, I understand, made arrangements with State College to do the actual work, and I believe people in State College did conduct the entire work.

When it was found, at the beginning of this session, that we had a $45,000,000 deficit I believe the balance of the fund lapsed, because the people in charge of this work at State College succeeded in getting an appropriation from either the Rockefeller Foundation or some other institution in New York; and they had with very hard work, and some slight curtailment, completed their program of nutrition among the school children.

I understand arrangements have been made, through some of the bureaus in Washington, that if we appropriate this $20,000, with what they can get from Washington, and some private donations, they will be able to continue this study for the benefit of school children. I am informed a very fine piece of work has been done, and those who have been engaged have been very self-sacrificing in their efforts to continue.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I add I importuned the Department of Health, and impressed upon them the necessity, and the excellent type of work being conducted in this research, and we submitted to them partial reports of the work that was being done—and that was also presented to the Governor, but he thought, and so decided, that economy prohibited the carrying on of this work.

As I was the author of the original bill and was very much interested in it, I was just wondering whether the fact that this was resumed so suddenly and so soon after the decision was made, whether the interest of myself had anything to do with the suspension of this program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am sure the active interest of the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, has been a great help in this matter; and I think we have all been exceedingly interested in it because of his interest in it. We all recognize his great ability as a physician, and his interest in this work, and that is one of the reasons I am interested in it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, first of all I am a little bit worried about this interest he is taking in one of our Senators.

Mr. OWLETT. Well, Mr. President, he is a very fine physician.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Secondly, Mr. President, if we appropriated $40,000, and the money was not spent, who do we have to appropriate $20,000 now?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the money was used for relief.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, how could the money have been used for relief without the Senate knowing anything about it

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think it was one of the funds that lapsed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, how could it lapse?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it was appropriated to the Department of Health.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the biennium is not finished yet. This fund could not lapse before the end of the biennium. I am wondering how anybody got the balance of this money, and lapsed it without our knowing anything about it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know that I can answer that question, except I do know the work was curtailed because of lack of money. It may be the money ran out, but my understanding was they curtailed this on account of the economy program; but they were able to continue it because of private subscription; and I understand they can continue the program for the next two years with this appropriations, plus private contributions.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Well, Mr. President, we find ourselves here with an appropriation already made for $40,000, and unless this appropriation has lapsed it could have been spent. It has not lapsed because the 31st of May has not arrived. If we pass this bill it means we will have $60,000. If the money has been lapsed without legislative action I would like to know about it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, my understanding it that all unexpended balances of appropriations made to the departments automatically lapsed at the end of the biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Well, Mr. President, the end of the biennium has not arrived yet.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if it has not already been lapsed by act of the Legislature it will lapse at the end of this biennium and go back into the general fund; and, of course, it requires an appropriation, as the Senator well knows.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill was not sent to the Committee on Appropriations or I would have inquired more as to the details of this work; but, as I understand from the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, and as is borne out by the budget of 1937-39, $40,000 was appropriated for this work.

As the Doctor says, the work was carried on during the past biennium. Certainly there could not be $40,000 in the fund any more; I doubt whether there is $20,000. I am not able to say now but perhaps the balance there is very small.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Doctor has said that the $40,000 was not spent, it was taken away from the institution; that they had money from the Federal Government and money from the State, that the money was given by the Federal Government on the basis of a State contribution; and that somebody in the State Government took that money away from them and I want to know who that was.

Mr. EALY. Well, if the money was taken away it was taken away during the past biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the money was taken away by the present administration. We are still in the biennium of 1937-39, and no money can lapse automatically until the end of this month.

Mr. PRESIDENT, we are not on the question of lapsing funds now. That can be done, and will be done, I assume. by a separate act; but if $40,000 was appropriated during the last biennium and was not used why then, that certainly is evidence it is not necessary now.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests the gentlemen are debating a question of the last two years, and this concerns the next two years.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am debating the question whether the Governor says he does not dictate to the legislature, what the legislature shall pass; yet he is taking away monies which the legislature has appropriated, without consulting the legislature. That is what I am trying to inquire about. And, as the gentleman from Luzerne has said, there was $40,000 appropriated. If there was $40,000 appropriated, how did anyone in the department, with or without consent of the Governor, take that money away from this institution, and for what purpose?

Mr. EALY. Well, certainly, Mr. President, if the money was not spent in the last biennium it cannot be spent in the next biennium.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the bill as originally drawn, as I remember it, earmarked this money for a specific purpose—to be given as a State grant to State College for this particular type of work, with the understanding that $40,000 having been provided by the State a like amount was to be contributed by the Federal Government. What I would like to know is, if this money was originally earmarked for this particular purpose, what became of that money, and what became of the equal Federal contribution made on that basis? We have nothing before us to show whether the Federal money was given back to the Federal Government. or what was done with this earmarked money.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think we can solve this in the Senate. One man says the money was allocated —which we all know it was; another says it was lapsed. We all know there were no lapsed funds. No one seems to know where the money is.

I will tell you frankly, with far less information than this, they have a lot of indictments against a lot of Democrats. I suggest we turn it over to Shelley and let him find the money.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitotion, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 969, (House Bill No. 1036), on third reading, postponed for the present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 969, (House Bill No. 1036), entitled:

An Act to regulate and restrain the sale purchase exchange pledge and dealing in distillery bonded warehouse certificate for whiskey or any other potable distilled spirits except ethyl alcohol conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board authorizing the granting of permits and registration of agents to deal in such certificates and the suspension and revocation of such permits and registration of agents providing for hearings and appeals to the court of common pleas forbidding transactions in such ceritficates in this state except as herein provided prescribing and imposing penalties and providing for the disposition of filing registration and permit fees

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this is a bill that was referred to yesterday in discussion, which provides for the regulations of the trafficking in liquor certificates. I dare say the discussion yesterday has fuly educated the members as to the principles that are involved in the bill.

The point is simply this: under the law as interpreted last year by the Attorney General these liquor certificates are not securities, and consequently trafficking, or buying and selling them, is not under the supervision of the Securities Commission.

There has been, as I found out, during the past year a most wicked traffic, which has gone to such a length that it has brought a great deal of sorrow into some of our Pennsylvania homes, and in order to prevent that, the idea of this bill is to keep the sale and trafficking of these liquor certificates under the control; and it is placed under the control of the Liquor Control Board, because they have the greater facilities for examining into this kind of work.

It provides for the registration of those that deal in them and provides for the registration of the sale of them. The idea is to prevent thet series of frauds in which innocent people holding securities have been asked to exchange the securities, with the hope of obtaining something of more value than really exists.

If there are other members of the Senate more familiar with these evils that have developed than myself, and I ask my colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments——

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask that they be read for the information of the Senate.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, there is no objection to that.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments for the information of the Senate.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend Section 401, page 14, line 26 by inserting after "Trust Companies" and before the word "Bank" the words: "and other persons" Amend Section 401, page 14, line 27 by striking out the words: "to do business" Amend Section 401, page 14, line 27 by inserting after the word "companies" and before the word "duly" the following words: "and other persons" Amend Section 401, page 14, line 28 by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" and before the word "may" the following: "to engage in the business of lending money to licensed distillers, rectifiers, importers and distillery certificate brokers" Amend Section 401, page 15, line 3, by inserting after the word "companies" and before the word "may" the following: "and other persons"

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I have objected to the offering of the amendments, and I want to take a moment to explain my objection.

In this bill it is provided, in Section 401, that banks and trust companies which are authorized to do business within this Commonwealth, may, without the permit required under the provisions of this act, accept distillery bonded warehouse certificates as security or collateral for any loan and may liquidate such collateral by sale only to licensed distillers, rectifiers, importers or distillery certificate brokers.

Now, the object of this amendment is to see that other persons who are also engaged in the business of financing whiskey may engage in this same business without a permit. I have discussed this matter in great detail with representatives of the Liquor Control Board. I thought yesterday, when the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, first made his suggestion, that there was merit in it, that people engaged in the brokerage business should have the right to engage in that business. However, the only requirement is that they should take out a permit which cost one hundred dollars; and if they are extensively engaged in the business the cost is not very great; but, by taking out a permit they bring their business under the supervision of the Liquor Control Board, whereas if they do not take out a permit their business would not be under that supervision.

If a man lends money to a liquor manufacturer and gets liquor certificates as collateral, and then forecloses on his collateral, it is important that the Liquor Control Board should know where that collateral goes; otherwise it might appear in the hands of those who have been engaged in traffic along these lines. I therefore, Mr. President, have reached the conclusion that the Liquor Control Board is right, and the bill should not be amended if the purpose of the bill is to be carried into effect, and that is the reason I object to the amendments.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to see a man as intelligent as the gentleman from Montgomery read a bill and then explain it to the Senate in such an untrue light.

This bill started out to regulate the peddling of whiskey certificates, and legitimate business men in the State are agreed to that proposition; but what happens when the bill is written?

You say that a person or a business, say a brokerage firm or a discount firm, takes these whiskey certificates as collateral, and then the Liquor Control Board does not know where they are going to dispose of them. Read Section 401 of the act, and what does it say? It says, under the provisions of this act; banks and trust companies that accept distillery bonded warehouse certicates as security or collateral for any loan made in the regular conduct of their business may liquidate such security or collateral by sale only to licensed distillers, rectifiers, importers or distillery certificate brokers.

All we ask in the amendment is that you do not put out of business small distilleries in Western Pennsylvania; that is all we ask in this act. We go along with the proposition that peddlers of whiskey certificates should come under the jurisdiction of the Securities Exchange Commission. We go along with the proposition that anybody who sells these certificates must come under the jurisdiction of the Liquor Control Board, but it is unfair to say to a small distiller that he cannot go to a neighbor, he cannot go to a trusted friend, and say to him, "I need $10,000," and he cannot get the $10,000 unless his friend first goes to the Securities Exchange Commission and spends a hundred dollars—and maybe three months—in trying to get a brokerage license.

I say to you gentlemen that is not the true light of this picture. The picture you try to paint is one where widows and orphans will be saved and no fraudulent certificates will be sold. We agree on that; there is no argument on that phase of the bill; that is what the bill started out to be. I am suggesting, Mr. President, that the whiskey distillers are the ones who asked for this bill for their own protection, because their certificates are bona fide, and those which were being sold were fraudulent certificates; and in order to uphold the value of their own certificates they asked for this piece of legislation; but somebody on the Liquor Control Board insists on looking into the books of companies like the Commercial Credit Company or the Philadelphia Acceptance Corporation or the C. I. T. and many other large companies which make a business of discounting paper of small distillers who are not big enough, and who will be put out of business if you pass this law.

I want to say to you there are three distillers in my county, and they are legitimate businesses today, and they are entitled to the privilege and protection of doing business in the Commonwealth, and I do not see why a snooping lawyer from the Liquor Control Board should want to stick his nose into the business of other people who are doing business discounting paper. What he wants to do is his own business, but if you want to do that, do it in a separate bill, so that the true light can be shown to the people of Pennsylvania and the Senators of this Senate; and not in a bill designed to do a good thing.

We do not ask any special privileges in this business; all we ask is that you allow them, when they need money, to be able to get money without forcing them to go to banks and trust companies which, in many instances, will not lend the money because they lack the financial backing.

I say, gentlemen, this is a most serious situation; and when I discovered today that some one on the Liquor Control Board was very much interested I called up the chairman of the Liquor Control Board, one Walter H. Hitchler, I think, whom we recently confirmed, and I spoke to the gentleman and he was very courteous to me. He said, "That is not the amendment that was discussed with me; there is no opposition to such a proposition as you give it to me." He said, "We object, of course, to opening it up without any restriction, but when you specifically say in the amendment that only those persons authorized to do business, and who are customarily doing business, lending money to distillers, rectifiers and importers;" those people have done that business for years; and now you say they can not do it you say, oh, yes, they can get a hundred dollar certificate. Do you think that a big acceptance corporation, the Commercial Credit Company, that does millions of dollars worth of business a year, of which this is probably only a small percentage of their business, is going to lend money to the small distiller for the little profit there is in it, and subject their books to the scrutiny which may not hurt them, but subjects them to the annoyance of people who know practically nothing about it coming in and going through loans they have on automobiles, and other collateral.

I say, gentlemen, it is unfair. Take a non-partisan viewpoint on this. This is a serious problem—I do not desire to hold up the Senate in long debate; but to me it is serious. There are three distillers operating in my county, who are very small and can not borrow money through the channels that are laid out in this act, but who have banded themselves together and now, with their combined assets in a little corporation, can discount their paper; but they cannot do that with this act in force. I want to say that when I talked to the Chairman of the Liquor Control Board he promised that he would send to me this lawyer in the Liquor Control Board, one Segelbaum, and tell him to come up here; and I have waited patiently five hours for Mr. Segelbaum. He does not want to come up here because his arguments do not hold the logic of good common sense. There is no argument that they have yet faced me with that destroys my conviction in the fact that this bill, which originally was designed to do good, is going to do evil.

I do not suppose that it means anything to some of you, because I understand it is the orders of the department; but I do not believe the department should have the say of the Senate of Pennsylvania on a serious thing such as this.

No one is arguing against supervision and regulation of peddlers, of men who deal in certificates; and remember, the men who loan this money to the distillers are not permitted to resell the certificates; they can not peddle them to the public; the public is not being protected by that provision in Section 401; there is nothing in that provision which would take away from the public the protection we want to give to them. All you are doing here, as I have said before, is saying to a group of small distillers, rectifiers and importers, legitimate business men, that they are to be strangled and driven out of business by the large corporations that have the ability to discount their paper. I plead with you not to vote against these amendments.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may we have a vote on the motion?

The PRESIDENT. Was the motion seconded?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, since unanimous permission was not granted, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered, in order that we may get the bill back in a position where the amendments may be considered.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the bill has passed third reading and therefore the gentleman's motion is not in order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I said second reading.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it is on third reading now.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 969, (House Bill No. 1036), passed second reading be reconsidered. Are you ready for the question?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

There being uncertainty as to the vote, a decision was called for.

Mr. DENT. Roll call, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. A standing vote will be taken. Those in favor of the motion will so signify by standing.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is, shall the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered? Those in favor are standing, and will stand until they are counted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I suggest a roll call may be a time-saver.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks we had better have a roll call. The Clerk will call the roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to know what is before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is as to whether or not the vote by which Senate Bill No. 969 passed second reading be reconsidered; and a vote "aye" will be to reconsider the vote by which it passed second reading.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Coleman,	Heyburn,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Dando,	James,	Mundy,	Tallman,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Reed,	Walker,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rice,	Wolfenden,
Gilson,	Lanius,	Ruth,

NAYS—20

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Snowden,

Crowe,	Frey,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Geltz,	Pierson,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Gelder,
			Pres. Pro. Tem.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 969
(HOUSE BILL No. 1036)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the title was agreed to.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Articles eight to five of the bill were severally reconsidered.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the fourth article was agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the fourth article of the bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 401, page 14, line 26 by inserting after "Trust Companies" and before the word "Bank" the words: "and other persons"; amend section 401, page 14, line 27 by striking out the words: 'to do business"; amend Section 401, page 14, line 27 by inserting after the word "companies" and before the word "duly" the following words: "and other persons"; amend Section 401, page 14, line 28 by inserting after the word "monwealth" and before the word "may" the following: "to engage in the business of lending money to licensed distillers, rectifiers, importers and distillery certificate brokers"; amend Section 401, page 15, line 3 by inserting after the word "companies" and before the word "may" the following: "and other persons."

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth articles of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

ARTICLE V

ARTICLE VIII

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

Section 801 Effective Date This act shall become effective thirty days after its final enactment

Section 802 Repeal All acts and parts of acts including special or local acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

An Act to regulate and restrain the sale purchase exchange pledge and dealing in distillery bonded warehouse certificate for whiskey or any other potable distilled spirits except ethyl alcohol conferring powers and imposing duties

upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board authorizing the granting of permits and registration of agents to deal in such certificates and the suspension and revocation of such permits and registration of agents providing for hearings and appeals to the court of common pleas forbidding transactions in such certificates in this state except as herein provided prescribing and imposing penalties and providing for the disposition of filing registration and permit fees

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask a roll call on the amendments, but before that I would like to say my feeling is that the amendments as prepared will defeat the purpose of the bill. Now, consider there is no objection to the small distiller going to his bank to borrow; there is no objection to his going to a trust company to borrow; there is no objection to his going to a note broker, if the note broker will register. Several of those note brokers are large and successful firms, and I think the gentleman from Westmoreland referred to one of them as having millions of dollars. There is no penalty, I think, in asking for a small registration fee in comparison with their business, and in so doing they bring themselves and the disposal of the certificates under the supervision of the department, and that is the object of the bill.

It seems to me that those who are in sympathy with the plan that the bill sets up ought to vote against the amendments, because they strike out the heart of the bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Montgomery whether this bill would require me to have a permit if a distiller who might be a friend of mine would come to me to borrow money, and I would be fortunate enough to have the money and I loaned him the money, and the distiller, my friend, would leave with me as collateral the distillery warehouse receipt to secure me for the loan.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, under those circumstances, if the Senator from Fayette is going to come into possession of warehouse receipts he ought to be obliged to register.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Then, Mr. President, under the act I would be required to register,

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, under those circumstances would that be a violation of the provision of the constitution which has to do with an apparent contract.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would say no, because this is under the policing power of the State; it is for the purpose of preventing wrongdoing.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand well then from the gentleman from Montgomery that the only persons that are permitted to take distillery warehouse receipts without a permit are banks and trust companies, and they are completely exempted from this act, and they may liquidate these distillery warehouse receipts without any interference from anybody.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, that is because they are under the supervision of the State. That is their business the Senator referred to and the Senator himself, if he were in that position, would not be under that supervision.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I submit that those organizations I spoke about are under the supervision of the State but they are not under the scrutiny of the Liquor Control Board. Why did you not include banks and trust companies and let them be investigated?

Mr. EDMONDS. They can be, Mr. President; they are under registration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to inquire whether the Senator from Montgomery read the amendments?

Mr. EDMONDS. No, Mr. President, but the Department of Banking has knowledge of what the banks do. Who has knowledge of what the brokers do?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, who could lose money in a transaction between a distiller and his own broker?

Mr. EDMONDS. That is not the question, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. It is the question, Mr. President, I beg your pardon. I will read it again for the information of the Senator from Montgomery.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the question is what happens to the securities after they leave the possession of the broker?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will read it again: ". . . may liquidate such security or collateral by sale only to licensed distillers, rectifiers, importers or distillery certificate brokers." That is all they can do; they are not allowed to sell them to the public. What protection does the public get from that?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, we are putting into the hands of the board the power to see that that is done.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I submit maybe I cannot read law, but I think the gentleman from Montgomery is just evading the situation. He agreed with me yesterday and agreed with me this morning but he does not agree when Segalbaum gets his "bum" in.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland had some friends with him yesterday who made the statement that if this bill goes through they would be out of business. Obviously that appealed to me and I said to the Senator I thought there was merit in the contention. I found the "out of business" meant they did not want to pay one hundred dollars for registration. If that be the case then it does not seem to me the situation is as meritorious as I thought it was.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I inquire from the Senator from Montgomery whether this bill would prevent me from loaning money to a distiller friend if I so desired, using whiskey certificates as collateral.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, as soon as the whiskey certificates come into the hands of the Senator from Westmoreland then he must register.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if I should want to loan five or six hundred dollars to a distiller friend so that he could pay Federal taxes in order to get whiskey out of a bonded warehouse and sell it to a State store, which might take ninety day, would I have to come down here and pay a hundred dollars for trying to help a friend?

Mr. EDMONDS. Certainly, if you are going to deal in certificates.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would suggest that the Senators address the Chair. If the Senators will address the Chair, the Chair may succeed in keeping order so that we may all understand.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to know whether interrogations are being conducted or conversations.

The PRESIDENT. That is what the Chair is trying to regulate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I submit that under this law, even if I loaned money to my friend, I could not dispose of those certificates—that is the law.

The public is amply protected by the provisions of the act, but you are going too far when you say he can not borrow money from his friends: many distillers can not borrow money from banks but they have friends who will lend them money.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FREY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius.	Ruth,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Dando,	Heyburn.	Miller,	Stiefel,
Dent,	James,	Mundy,	Tallman,

Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Gelder,
			Pres. Pro. Tem.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE OBJECTS AND PURPOSES OF THE NATIONAL CONFERENCES OF JEWS AND CHRISTIANS

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resoultion at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 18, 1939.

Whereas, The promotion of a feeling of good will amongst all peoples that share the common heritage which we Americans have received from our fathers and of which we are so justly proud, is a fundamental concept of American liberty;

Whereas, The United States of America is dedicated to the truth that all men are "endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness"; and

Whereas, The National Conference of Jews and Christians was created for the avowed purpose of furthering the cause of amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews; and

Whereas, Under the American tradition of liberty, we are blessed by a land wherein people of different religious convictions and differing cultural traditions may live together in amity and mutual respect; therefore

Be It Resolved: That the members of the Senate of the 133rd General Assembly of Pennsylvania endorse the objects and purposes of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, consecrated to the cause of religious tolerance and good will among persons of all faith, for whom civil liberties and religious rights are based upon the principles of loyalty to these fundamentals of just government, and to the support of the traditions of American life which is the truly American ideal; and

Be It Further Resolved: That properly authenticated copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Clerk of the Senate to the director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians in New York City.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KILGALLEN, from the Comittee on Municipal Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 856, entitled:

An Act providing a method whereby boroughs may collect over a period of years from owners of property benefited thereby assessments for permanent paving and improvement of streets, alleys, sidewalks or other highways or parts thereof; prescribing the effect of filing municipal claims for such assessments, the interest to be charged thereon, the length of time the lien thereof shall run, and the procedure for collection upon default in such payments.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 707, (House Bill No. 95), entitled:

An Act authorizing the sale of real estate under a judgment obtained on a tax claim or claims to be made by the sheriff, free and clear of tax and municipal claims, for a sum less than the total amount of delinquent tax and municipal claims, under certain conditions, and providing for the distribution of the sum realized upon such sales and for the procedure in such cases.

He also, from the Committee on Finance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1094, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 794), entitled "An act providing that estates in buildings, ground, books, curios, pictures, statuary and other works of art, passing by will to any municipality, corporation, or unincorporated body, for free exhibition within Pennsylvania, shall not be subject to collateral inheritance tax, and, in certain instances, the date when such tax shall become due," by extending the exemption to include such estates passing through the exercise by any person of a power of appointment with respect thereto, whether the donor of such power died before or after the date of the said act, and to estates in any moneys and funds given in connection with any of the estates described.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. PIERSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PIERSON, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1099, entitled:

An Act requiring all employable persons receiving public assistance, with certain exceptions to perform certain work or be refused further assistance; conferring powers and imposing duties on county boards of assistance, and on certain State and local officers and employes, and on charitable institutions, persons, copartnerships, associations, corporations, and State and Federal employment officers; and requiring payments to the Commonwealth on account of certain work performed.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 321, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1595) entitled "An act relating to peace officers providing for the qualifications and appointments of deputy sheriffs regulating the manner of their selection and compensation regulating the source of compensation for other peace officers declaring void certain contracts inconsistent with the provisions hereof providing penalties and repealing inconsistent acts" by providing for the appointment of deputy sheriffs to serve during emergencies go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not find, Senate Bill No. 321 on my desk. The bill is not on my desk and I do not know what it is.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman object to the bill passing second reading?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I only want to see what the bill contains, as reported out from the committee, but I do not find it in my folder.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 379, (House Bill No. 104), entitled:

An Act validating certain tax liens in counties having a controller when the claims whereupon the liens were filed were not signed by and did not have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the controller of the county as required by law

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 407, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section five hundred and thirty-six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by allowing a change of the fiscal year of school districts of the second class be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President. I should like to ask the reason for recommitting this bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have asked to have this bill recommitted because it was not considered by the committee.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, may I ask why it was reported out of committee.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am told it was reported out by the chairman of a sub-committee on the statement of the Senator from Lackawanna that it had been agreed upon, which I do not understand now is true.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga please repeat that, I did not understand him.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am told that the bill was reported to the floor by the chairman of a sub-committee that had it in charge for study, on the understanding that it was now satisfactory to all the parties in interest, and to the committee, without that fact being correct.

Mr. COLEMAN. In answer to that, Mr. President, I had no agreement, conferred with no sub-committee, and had no idea that the bill was referred to a sub-committee. I understand the bill will affect some twenty-odd second class districts in the Commonwealth, so I prepared an amendment affecting only Scranton, without limitations to other second class A cities, and I asked the chairman of the committee to report the bill out and give some favorable consideration to my amendments.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. COLEMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna if he is not a member of the Committee on Municipal Government.

Mr. COLEMAN. I am not, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs, Mr. Stevenson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEVENSON. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to inquire from the Senator from Clinton whether this bill was ever considered by the Committee on Municipal Government.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I understand that the bill was in the hands of a sub-committee.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, if the gentlemen will suspend the interrogation, I think the Senator from Clinton is confused as to the bill. This bill was never before the Committee on Municipal Government and never considered. I think the gentleman has in mind an entirely different bill, and I ask that the membership of the House vote down the motion to recommit this bill. This is a bill which vitally affects the interests of the people of the City of Scranton. We are going down the home stretch of this legislative session and I see no purpose in recommitting the bill. I ask the members of the House to oppose the motion to have it sent back to committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT, and were as follows, viz;

YEAS—23

Bartlett,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Walker,
Deitrick,	James,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Snowden,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Gelder,
Geltz,	Miller.	Tallman,	Pres. Pro Tem.

NAYS—16

Cavalcante,	Dent,	Jaspan,	Reed,
Coleman,	DiSilvestro,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,
Crowe,	Eroe,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Dando,	Gilson,	Mundy,	Stiefel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The second, third and fourth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 2 Section five hundred four of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 504 Refund of Money Subject to Escheat Paid Into the State Treasury Appeal. The owner of any moneys which shall have been paid into the State Treasury by order of court, entered upon petition of the Attorney General alleging that such moneys were subject to escheat, or the legal representatives of such owner, may at any time apply to the Board of Finance and Revenue for a refund of the same, and, upon his making proof of his ownership or right of possession to the satisfaction of the board, such moneys shall be paid him, on the requisition of the board, and the warrant of the Auditor General drawn on the State Treasurer in conformity therewith, out of any moneys in the State Treasury appropriated for the purpose, with interest thereon at the rate of two per centum per annum from the date when said moneys were paid into the State Treasury to the date of the refund thereof, and any moneys escheatable under the provisions of any act of Assembly, which have been heretofore voluntarily paid into the State Treasury, or which may be hereafter so paid, shall be likewise refunded in the same manner in which moneys so paid pursuant to an order of court are refunded under the provisions of this act. Any corporation or association, its successors or assigns, which shall have transmitted or delivered any shares or certificates of stock or other securities or the proceeds thereof to the State Treasury, or which shall have paid any moneys into the State Treasury, either voluntarily or under the provisions of an order of court entered upon petition of the Attorney General asking for payment of such moneys or property into the State Treasury without escheat, may, at any time, apply to the Board of Finance and Revenue for a refund of the same, and, upon making proof to the satisfaction of the board that such moneys or property were legally subject to escheat in any other state or territory of the United States and not legally subject to escheat by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to payment into the State Treasury without escheat, such moneys or property, or the proceeds thereof, shall be paid to such claimant, on the requisition of the board and the warrant of the Auditor General drawn on the State Treasurer in conformity therewith, out of any moneys in the State Treasury appropriated for the purpose, with interest thereon at the rate of two per centum per annum from the date when said moneys were paid into the State Treasury to the date of the refund thereof, or, if moneys so appropriated are inadequate or if no such appropriation has been made, the amount to be refunded, together with interest as aforesaid to the date of the allowance of the refund shall be entered by the Department of Revenue as a credit to the account of the claimant. Such credit, or any part thereof, shall be assignable to any other person, firm, association, or corporation, and may be used by any such assignee in payment and satisfaction of any obligation or liability then or thereafter due by such assignee to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The determination by the board or the court, in the event of an appeal as hereinafter provided, whether such moneys or property were legally subject to escheat by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to payment into the State Treasury without escheat, shall be made irrespective of whether said moneys or property were paid voluntarily or pursuant to an order of court entered upon petition of the Attorney General asking for payment of such moneys or property into the State Treasury without escheat.

Any claimant for any such refund may appeal, by petition to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County, from an adverse decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue, which court shall thereupon hear such testimony as may be offered in support of the claim and determine whether or not the claimant is entitled to any refund, and, if so, the amount thereof. If the court find that he is so entitled, it shall report its findings to the board, and order the making of a refund of the proper amount. Thereupon the refund shall be made in the manner hereinbefore provided, with interest as aforesaid. No such appeal shall be ascertained, however, unless the claimant shall file with his petition an affidavit that all the proof which he proposes to offer in support of his claim had been presented to the Board of Finance and Revenue before that board acted adversely upon his claim.

Any depository, or trustee, or other fiduciary, or any debtor who or which shall, through mistake or compulsion of law, pay the amount of any unclaimed deposit, trust fund, or debt, subject to escheat under the provisions of any act of the General Assembly, to the depositor or beneficiary thereof, or person to whom the debt is owing, after such amount shall have been paid into the State Treasury, either voluntarily or pursuant to an order of court, may make application for and obtain a refund thereof from the State Treasury in the manner and subject to the conditions hereinbefore in this section provided

Section 3 Section 505 of the said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred thirty) and by the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-three) and in part by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand seventy-five) is hereby further amended to read as follows

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I have no objection to these amendments, only I think they do not go far enough. On page 15, you will find the treasurer is required to hand a set of blank checks over to people outside of his department, and I do not think this State wants to depart from our custom and hand blank checks out to any person to fill in. I think this bill should go over in its order until that can be corrected.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if there are going to be more amendments, I suggest that the vote by which the bill passed second reading be reconsidered Monday night. I ask that the amendment be adopted as submitted.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I should like to be in favor of these amendments because they require the State treasurer to hand over blank checks to a department over which he has no control. I would be in favor of that kind of amendment if I followed that practice myself, to hand out blank checks to people, and I assume the Senator from Tioga practices what he preaches and probably he hands out his checks that way.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 945, (House Bill No. 1310), entitled:

An Act authorizing county commissioners to prepare and issue to justices of the peace and aldermen at the cost of the county forms used in criminal proceedings before them.

Section 7 The provisions of this act shall not apply to or in any manner effect any assessments which are the sole basis of improvement bonds issued by any political subdivision and which are the security for the payment thereof or to any assessments which have heretofore been assigned by any political subdivision to any contractor in payment of the amount due him under terms of the contract for the improvement for which the assessment was levied

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 9 All acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby suspended during the time this act shall be in effect

Section 10 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act authorizing cities of the third class boroughs incorporated towns and townships to abate certain interest charges and penalties, added to municipal claims imposed or assessed for certain improvements prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of such claims for a certain period preserving the liens of such claims and providing for the extension thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (Pamphlet Laws 218 1933-34) entitled "An act authorizing counties cities boroughs townships incorporated towns poor districts and school districts to issue bonds for the purpose of refunding or retiring outstanding bonds and to exchange said new bonds for such outstanding bonds without payment of cash or public bidding and limiting any compensation payable therefor" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any county city borough incorporated town township poor district or school district of this Commonwealth shall have issued bonds which have matured and remain unpaid or which may hereafter mature and remain unpaid or whenever any such county city borough incorporated town township poor district or school district of this Commonwealth shall have issued bonds which have not matured but which the holders thereof have consented to surrender it shall be lawful for such county city borough incorporated town township poor district or school district for the purpose of refunding or retiring such outstanding bonds either at or subsequent to maturity or in advance of maturity where the holders of such outstanding bonds have consented to surrender the same to issue new bonds bearing interest not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum except in the case of bonds whose holders are willing to surrender the same in advance of maturity in which case the new bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding the rate of interest borne by the bonds to be refunded and payable not more than twenty years from the date thereof except in the case of cities of the first class where said bonds shall be payable no more than forty years from the date thereof and to exchange such new bonds for such outstanding bonds Provided however That the face value of the new bonds so authorized to be exchanged shall not exceed the face value of the outstanding bonds to be refunded or retired And provided further That such municipality shall not pay any compensation or commission for obtaining such exchanges in excess of one per centum (1%) of the face value of any new bonds actually exchanged as aforesaid

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 985, (House Bill No. 543), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" by further regulating the lien of such taxes removing the right to revive extend or continue such liens extending the provisions of said act to institution district taxes authorizing the return of certain taxes after the time limit for such returns has expired validating preserving and extending liens in certain cases prescribing the time for selling properties for the nonpayment of such taxes and the effect of such sales upon mortgages and other liens changing the period of redemption on properties purchased at such sales by the county and requiring the county commissioners to sell such properties within a certain period of time

The first, second, third and fourth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That from and after the passage of this act it shall be the duty of each receiver or collector of any county city borough town township school district poor district or institution district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such taxes which are assessed and levied on seated lands and which are unpaid and for which no liens have been filed not later than the first Monday of May in the year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes were assessed and levied filing therewith a description of said real estate by adjoiners or otherwise sufficient to identify said land with name of the owner or reputed owner against whom such taxes were assessed and levied and the amounts of taxes unpaid and the year during which the said taxes were assessed or levied In addition to penalties under existing laws interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be added beginning on the first day of May of the year following the levy and assessment of such tax until such taxes are paid or the seated lands responsible therefor are sold as hereinafter provided

Where the receiver or collector of any such taxes shall have failed to make the return thereof as provided by this section and the time fixed for making such return has expired such receiver or collector of said taxes or any delinquent tax collector or taxing authority in whose hands such taxes now repose for collection is hereby authorized to make return of any of said taxes which are unpaid and for which no lien has been filed within six months from the effective date of this act and the liens of any taxes so returned shall be valid and are hereby ratified and confirmed and a county treasurer's sale may be had for such taxes at the time when a county treasurer's sale is held under the provisions of this act in the same manner as if such returns had been made at the time heretofore required by this section Provided however That the return of any tax under this amendment shall not establish revive or reestablish any tax lien against real estate which was transferred to any bona fide purchaser during the time before such return was made or when any such lien was lost

Section 2 Sections four and five of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 940) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 All taxes unpaid and so returned and docketed as aforesaid shall be a first lien subject as hereinafter stated on said real estate liable for the payment thereof together with all charges interest expenses and fees added thereto for failure to pay promptly and such liens shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any judicial sale of said property before any mortgage obligation claim lien or estate with which said property may have or shall become charged or for which it may become liable save and except only the costs of the sale and of the writ upon which it is made and liens in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which shall have priority to such tax liens All taxes returned under this or any previous statute supplied hereby shall be first liens until sold as hereinafter provided or unless sooner discharged

Section 5 Such tax so returned and filed and entered upon said docket shall remain a lien upon said property until fully paid and satisfied or until the property shall be sold in accordance with provisions hereof except as hereinafter provided

Section 3 Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 The county treasurer shall advertise the fact of holding such sale once a week for the three successive weeks prior to the holding of such sale in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which such seated land is located if there be two newspapers so published if there be only one then in such newspaper so published in the county

Such advertisement shall set forth

(a) The purpose of such sale

(b) The time of such sale

(c) The place of such sale

(d) The terms of such sale

(e) A list of the seated lands affected and their location and the owner or reputed owner of each

(f) Amount of taxes and interest

In addition to such advertisement at least ten days before any such sale written notice thereof shall be served by the county treasurer by registered mail upon the owner of such land and if the whereabouts of the owner is unknown such notice shall be served by registered mail upon the terre tenant if any Provided however That no such sale shall be prejudiced or defeated and no title to property sold at such sale shall be invalidated by proof that such written notice was not served by the treasurer or that such notice was not received by the owner or terre tenant as herein provided

The cost of such advertisements notices and the service thereof shall be taxed as part of the costs of such proceedings and shall be paid the same as the other costs

Section 4 Section eight of said act as last amended by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 239) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 8 (a) No such sale shall be made before the first Monday of August in the second year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes are assessed and levied but in every case except as herein otherwise provided sale shall be made within a period of five years from the date such taxes have heretofore been entered on the tax return docket or from the date the lien thereof has last been extended or continued by filing the same in the office of the prothonotary or from the date such taxes shall hereafter be entered on said docket except in cases where such sale has been or shall hereafter be adjourned or readjourned beyond such period of time or prohibited during such period of time under the authority of this or any other act of Assembly In all cases of adjournment or readjournment of any such sale and in all cases where the lien of any tax would under the provisions of this act expire or be lost prior to the sale of such property under the provisions of this act such liens are hereby revived preserved and extended and shall remain in full force and effect until the property against which such taxes are a lien is sold under the provisions of this act or the lien otherwise discharged

(b) For all taxes assessed and levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty or any year prior thereto and returned under the provisions of this or any other law the sale shall be held on or before February first one thousand nine hundred and forty and for the taxes assessed and levied for the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two the sale shall be held on or before May first one thousand nine hundred and forty and for taxes assessed and levied for the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four the sale shall be held on or before the first Monday of August one thousand nine hundred and forty

(c) No property shall be sold under the provisions of this act at the times herein prescribed when the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against such property are being paid upon the installment plan authorized and provided by any law abating penalties interest and costs or any of them imposed upon unpaid delinquent taxes or when any payment shall have been made under such plan and even though a default shall have been made in the required payments if the taxpayer has an opportunity under the said act to continue the installment payments at the subsequent installment period and secure the remaining benefits of said act In all such cases the liens of such taxes are hereby fully preserved and extended for the entire installment period if there is no complete default under the terms of the said act and if there shall be such a default the said liens are hereby continued preserved and extended until sold under the provisions of this act Provided however That if the time for selling such property or properties under the other provisions of this act shall have expired at the time of such default said property or properties shall be sold within six months after the date of such default

(d) The county treasurer when requested by any taxing authority who deems it to their advantage shall hold a sale of the property or properties of one or more taxables for the unpaid taxes assessed and levied against such property separate and independent of any general tax sale of properties as provided by this act The purpose of this clause is to provide a method whereby the property or properties of one or more delinquent taxables may be sold by the treasurer within the time limits prescribed by this act without the necessity of selling other properties against which taxes for the same year have been assessed and levied and returned as herein provided and which are unpaid

(e) After the date has been fixed for any such sale it may be adjourned or readjourned from time to time and in such case the advertisement and notice of a sale as required by this act may be given preceding the date of any adjourned or readjourned sale in which case no prior advertisement or notice shall be required and in case the sales for different years' taxes be held on the same date the advertisements and notices may be consolidated Provided further That if any such sale be adjourned or readjourned after advertisement and notice by public announcement at such sale adjournment or readjournment no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for such adjourned or readjourned sale Provided further That no such adjournment or readjournment shall be for a longer period than thirty days unless the county treasurer with the consent in writing of the county commissioners and the approval of the judge of the court of the county in which the sale is pending shall declare at the time fixed for a sale of any adjournment or readjournments thereof that because of widespread economic and business depression and usual unemployment incident thereto a sale would be inadvisable in which case any such sale may be adjourned or readjourned at any one time and from time to time for a longer period but in no case beyond the expiration of the period fixed for such sale by this amendment or beyond the date of the actual holding of the first subsequent sale for any other year's taxes provided that when after advertisement of a sale it has been determined as aforesaid to adjourn any sale for taxes the county treasurer shall publish at the expense of the county in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county if so many be published in the county a brief notice or advertisement announcing said adjournment and the actual new date to which such sale for taxes has been adjourned

(f) For each tract of land so disposed of the county treasurer shall be entitled to the following fees which shall be taxed as part of the costs of such proceeding and shall be paid the same as other costs

Advertising each tract including printer's charge the actual cost

Selling each tract or part thereof	$ .25
Writing and signing each deed	1.50
Acknowledging every deed	.50
Writing and filing every bond to acknowledge the purchase money	.25

The county shall in the first instance be liable for the cost of advertising treasurers' sales and the fees collected for such advertising shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county

For receiving and paying over the purchase money or taxes collected by him the county treasurer shall be entitled to a commission of two per centum (2%) thereof such commission to be deducted from the amount to be paid to the taxing district upon any settlement with the taxing district and upon presentation to the taxing district of a transcript of the information required to be compiled by the county treasurer by section eleven hereof

The fifth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 5 Section nine of said act as amended by the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 661) and by the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws 1321) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 9 No sale shall be valid where the taxes and interest have been paid prior to said advertisement or where the taxes interest and costs have been paid after advertisement and before sale or when such taxes are not legally due and collectible Every such sale shall discharge the lien of every obligation claim lien or estate with which said property may have or shall become charged or for which it may become liable including ground rents except no such sale shall discharge the lien of any municipal claim or tax remaining unpaid or mortgage which shall have been recorded before such taxes became liens by return and docketing as herein provided and which is or shall be prior to all other liens except other mortgages Any real estate sold under this act may be redeemed by the owner his heirs or legal representatives or by any lien creditor or his heirs assigns or legal representatives or by anyone interested in said real estate for the benefit of the owner thereof at any time within two years after such sale if such real estate has been purchased within two years after such sale by the payment to the county treasurers of the full amount which the purchaser paid to said treasurer for taxes interest and costs and fifteen per centum of the amount of tax in addition thereto In case the purchaser has paid any taxes of any kind whatsoever assessed and levied against said property the same shall be reimbursed to said purchaser before any redemption shall take effect No sale of seated lands for taxes under the provisions of this act shall be prejudiced or defeated by proof that there was personal property to be found on the premises sufficient to pay the taxes assessed thereon nor shall such sale be prejudiced by reason of the fact that such lands so assessed as seated lands were at the time unseated

When any real estate is so sold no lien whatsoever against such real estate shall be deemed to be discharged during the period for redemption but if such real estate is not redeemed then all liens against the same except such liens as are hereinbefore specifically saved shall be deemed to be discharged from the date that the right of redemption expired

When any real estate is so redeemed by a lien creditor or his heirs assigns or legal representatives or by any person interested for the benefit of the owner the county treasurer shall issue to the person redeeming such real estate a certificate stating the fact of such redemption a brief description of the real estate redeemed and the amount of the redemption money paid which certificate may be entered in the office of the prothonotary of the county as a judgment against the owner of the real estate for the amount stated therein The lien of any such judgment shall have priority over all other liens against such real estate except such liens as would not have been discharged had no redemption been made

THURSDAY, May 18, 1939

The House met at 12 noon.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Harold C. Eaton, Columbia Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, offered the following prayer.

Let us unite in prayer. Our Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we give Thee our hearty thanks for the blessings that attend our gathering this day. We praise Thee for the outstretched hand of Thy providence that guards the security of our nation. We ask that in this hour Thou wilt be with us and minister Thy spirit to our lack of knowledge and judgment. Quicken within us a holy disposition to serve the true needs of those whom we represent. Save us, O God of Justice, from that form of selfishness that secures its own immediate gain to the sacrifice of the ultimate profits of our State and nation. Bless every institution that sponsors verity, integrity and brotherly kindness in our Commonwealth and in this hour attend us, grant us Thy peace, Thy power and Thy blessing in the name of Christ, the Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. TIEMANN, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS

THANKING SPEAKER

Mr. HABBYSHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimosuly adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 18, 1939.

Our genial Speaker is a host in himself.

To be with him is to feel oneself an honored guest, and food and entertainment are superfluous.

His generous hospitality makes for happiness and contentment.

When to this, is added the deep satisfaction that comes from heavily partaking of rich brown buckwheat cakes swimming in delicious maple syrup and savory sausage made from the choicest pigs in Delaware County, one's inner life seems to have been made complete.

All of the Members of this House and our friends of the Press have on some Tuesday morning during this Session, appeared in this House drowsy and dopey but happy and satisfied as the result of our Speaker's bountiful hospitality; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that

Our Speaker has just what it takes
To win and hold our friendship;
His table filled with luscious cakes
Is just the thing to please us,
He makes these strenuous days a treat
By filling us with sausage;
He knows full well that while we eat
We'll have less mind to squabble.
We thank you Speaker for your fare
And for your smiling welcome;
Your hospitality is rare
And so too is your sausage.

THANKING SPEAKER

Mr. DENMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 18, 1939.

Even a last minute filibuster could not take the blue out of yesterday's skies, the sparkle out or its sunshine, the smile off the Speaker's face or the warmth out of his hospitality.

The late start had no effect upon the delight of those who golfed, the joy of those who tried to play baseball, the skill of those who pitched quoits or the ardor of those who partook in other ways of that rare hospitality.

The wants of those who were too old, too young, or too tired to cavort upon the fairways, to race wildly around the baseball diamond or to throw ringers, were amply and fully taken care of by the thoughtfulness of our host while they reclined in comfortable chairs and watched the antics of the more ambitious guests.

To mention the abundance and richness of the refreshments is to start a craving for more so it is best to state only that they were all that the mind could conceive or the appetite could crave.

It was a wonderful afternoon (after it was permitted to start by Cohen and Company) and when the last guest dragged himself away from the scene of the party, his passing marked the end of such a glorious stretch of conviviality as this House has never known, therefore be it

Resolved, by the well-fed and gloriously entertained guests of yesterday and by those members of this House who have sufficiently recovered to be here today, that this last gracious act of our Speaker, the Honorable Ellwood J. Turner marks an epoch in the legislative history of the Commonwealth, that we extend to him our fullest and most sincere thanks for what he did to make the day unforgetable and the session itself a memorable one and as a lasting evidence of our gratitude we direct the Chief Clerk of the House to transmit a copy of this resolution to our Speaker, the Honorable Ellwood J. Turner.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have a little poem I want to read.

"ELLWOOD, HE'S IN TROUBLE"

"I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West,
An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast,
To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned,
Should wander from the path o' right an' come to sich an end.

I told him when he left us, only three short years ago,
He'd find himself a plowin' in a mighty crooked row—
He'd miss his father's counsels and his mother's prayers, too,
But he said the farm was hateful, and he guessed he'd have to go.

His letters came so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed
That Ellwood was a-trampin' on a mighty rocky road,
But never once imagined he would bow my head in shame,
An' in the dust 'd waller his ol' daddy's honored name,

He writes from out in Denver, and the story's mighty short,
I just can't tell his mother; it'd crush her poor ol' heart;
An' so I reckoned, parson, you might break the news to her—
Ellwood's in the Legislatur', but he doesn't say what fur."

In view of the little poem and after the good time we had yesterday I think possibly Ellwood can now say that he is in the Legislature, doing all for the good of the Commonwealth. He gave all of us a darn good time yesterday.

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. The Chair appreciates the sentiment expressed by the gentleman from Westmoreland, and reminded by the resolution recalls the baseball game yesterday afternoon, and was rather impressed by the fact that on the Democratic side he believes the whole Democratic caucus was in the outfield.

THE SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Bucks and also the poets, orators, and scribes who wrote and prepared this resolution.

The only thing I have to say is that if you had more fun yesterday than I did you had a grand time. I do not like to sound a sort of critical note, nevertheless I do take exception to the fact that in this resolution it says, "the last act of the Speaker." The Speaker trusts that he may be able to sit in the Chair until the end of next week, although sometimes he has had a hard time staying there, as some of his Democratic brethern have tried to take him out of the Chair at times. Nevertheless he does hope they will let him stay another week until the session is ended and the gavel falls.

At times like this I always like to tell a story which has been told perhaps a thousand times but which seems so apropos that I love to tell it.

Mrs. Flaherty had lost her husband and Mrs. Flanagan came around to visit her.

Mrs. Flaherty said to Mrs. Flanagan. "Oh, he was such a wonderful husband. He was a wonderful man. Every Friday night he came home and put his pay envelope right on the table in front of me, not that there was a damn thing in it, but it was the spirit of the thing." This is in the spirit of the thing. Now let us get down to work.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise not to oppose this motion, but I rise to ask the House to do what it has already signified it's willingness to do. I believe this is a very good opportunity and a very good time to put on the record objections to this particular constitutional or proposed constitutional amendment.

It may seem odd for a member of the minority party to stand here and say, "It seems to me that it is not only good judgment to recognize the fact that the incoming Governor of a new administration should have some measure, not of political control, but some measure of control over the Department of Public Instruction or at least over the selection of the Superintendent of Public Instruction inasmuch as the Governor is the man who will be held responsible in the event this Department does not function properly."

It seems to me, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in sending this proposed constitutional amendment back to committee we are indicating that we believe the Governor should have the right to choose the members of his cabinet, especially inasmuch as in this case it is a constitutional officer, and his selection would have to be ratified by a two-thirds majority of the Senate, and also inasmuch as the removal of this officer would have to be concurred in by a two-thirds majority of the ratifying body, namely, the Senate.

Further, I want to give notice, as far as I am concerned, not to the majority party, but rather to those educators who more or less feel that after they have determined that a certain solution is the only solution to a problem, after all not only the members of the Legislature but also individual citizens who are taxpayers, may have different ideas upon some of these educational problems. I also want to call to their attention the fact that perhaps the ideas of the taxpayers after all are not so far wrong. I thank you.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 702, Senate Bill No. 134, Printer's No. 195 was passed over at the request of Mr. ACHTERMAN.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1362, (Senate Bill No. 135), entitled:

An Act to define the manner of making affidavit to appeals from awards by Boards of Viewers to common pleas courts in all counties of this Commonwealth.

And said bill having read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1372 (Senate Bill No. 129), entitled:

An Act regulating marriages and the issuance of licenses to marry imposing duties upon the clerks of the orphans' courts and persons who perform marriage ceremonies providing for the annulment of marriages for certain violations of this act and fixing other penalties

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Marriage License Act".

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be permitted to go over in its order.

Mr. STOCKHAM. I may be out of order, but I proposed moving, that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETHERICK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware, permit this bill to be recommitted?

Mr. BRETHERICK. I am perfectly willing, Mr. Speaker, to recommit the bill.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman withdraws his request in favor of my motion?

Mr. BRETHERICK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STOCKHAM. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STOCKHAM. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Bucks for what purpose he wishes this bill recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General?

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, we are rather of the opinion that there are some phases of this bill that are rather loosely drawn and need further consideration in Committee.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose the recommitting of this bill to the Committee on Judiciary General, for this reason: the Committee on Judiciary General had this bill in its hands for some time, probably about a month. It was referred to a sub-committee. They gave it serious consideration, and brought it out of that Committee and committed. A few more amendments are waiting to be offered as soon as the bill is called up. The bill was drawn and prepared by certain judges from Allegheny County who worked very hard and studiously on it. We are of the opinion that the bill should not be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General, and I ask the members of the House to oppose the motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

(b) If such inspections disclose the necessity for adjustments corrections or repairs in order to bring the motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer in conformance with the provisions of this act it shall be compulsory upon the owner to have such adjustments corrections or repairs made within the periods required in this act

(c) The secretary is hereby authorized to designate furnish instructions to supervise and issue inspection certificates to and collect the fees therefor from the official inspection stations as provided in this act for the purpose of such inspections

(d) Such official inspection stations when duly authorized shall issue official certificates of inspection for every motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer so inspected on a form furnished by the department but no such certificates of inspection shall be issued or displayed on any motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer or by the owner or operator of any motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer until and unless the motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer for which it is issued has been brought into conformance with the requirements of this act

(e) It shall be the duty of such designated official inspection stations to report all such inspections to the secretary on forms furnished by the department and in the event of refusal on the part of any owner or operator to have the necessary adjustments corrections and repairs made the secretary after investigation may invoke the provisions of this act relative to vehicles unsafe or unfit for operation

(f) If the secretary finds that the provisions of this act or the directions of the secretary are not being complied with or that the business of such stations in connection with such inspections is being improperly conducted he may suspend the designation of any such stations

(g) Any peace officer who shall be in uniform and shall exhibit his badge or other sign of authority may stop any motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer and require the owner or operator to display an official certificate or other satisfactory proof of inspection for the motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer being operated It shall be unlawful for any such certificate to be displayed on a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer or by the owner or operator unless an official inspection of its mechanism or equipment shall have been made and the motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer conforms to the provisions of this act

(h) It shall be unlawful to operate any motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer on a highway (1) during an inspection period unless the motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer has been inspected during the present or [previous] last preceding inspection period and (2) after the close of any inspection period unless it has been inspected during the last preceding inspection period and (3) a certificate for the proper period furnished and displayed [or other satisfactory proof of inspection furnished]

(i) The secretary is hereby authorized and required to issue a certificate of school bus inspection for every vehicle owned by or used under contract with any school or school district which conforms with the provisions of this act and with the regulations of the State Council of Education of Pennsylvania Such certificate shall bear the approval of and be counter-signed by the Commissione or the Pennsylvania Motor Police

(j) The owner of every vehicle which is to be used for the transportation of school children shall in addition to any other inspection required by this act submit such vehicle to the [Highway Patrol] Pennsylvania Motor Police some time during every August or prior to operating such vehicle for the transportation of school children during the school year to determine whether such vehicle conforms with the provisions of this act and the regulations of the State Council of Education of Pennsylvania

(k) No vehicle required to obtain a certificate of inspection under the provisions of subsection (j) of this section shall be operated without prominently displaying such certificate as may be directed by the secretary in addition to any other certificate now or hereafter required by law on any of the highways of this Commonwealth

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of subsections (d) (e) (g) (h) [(i)] (j) or (k) of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

Section 824 Danger and Caution Signals

Every such flare lantern electric flashing signal or other signal shall be of a type approved by the secretary and he shall publish lists of those devices which he has approved as adequate for the purposes of this section

* * * *

Section 825 Unlawful to Operate Certain Trailers or Semi-Trailers Unless Equipped with Fire Extinguisher It shall be unlawful for any person to operate on the highways of this Commonwealth a vehicle towing a trailer or semi-trailer designed for the living quarters or carriage of persons or to operate any commercial motor vehicle engaged in transportation of inflammable liquids inflammable or combustible chemicals explosives or cargoes of a combustible nature unless such trailer [or] semi-trailer or commercial vehicle be equipped with at least one (1) fire extinguisher of approved type in good condition and ready for use [of a type inspected and labeled by the Underwriter's Laboratories Incorporated under Classification "B" and utilizing] which utilizes an extinguishing agent which does not need protection from freezing Such fire extinguisher shall not be smaller than one (1) quart if the carbon tetrachloride type is used and not smaller than two (2) pounds if the carbon dioxide type is used

Penalty Any owner or operator who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

Section 828 School Buses Safety Requirements (a) "School Bus" for the purpose of this section is any vehicle registered as a commercial vehicle motor-bus or motor omnibus or any vehicle having a lineal seating space including the space for the operator of more than one hundred (100) inches and owned by or used under contract with any school or school district for the transportation of school children Provided That said school bus shall not include motor buses operated by common carrier holding a certificate of the Public Utility Commission who also operate such motor buses over routes approved by such commission And provided further That such buses comply with the safety regulations of that commission and the State Council of Education of Pennsylvania

(b) No person shall own or operate a school bus carrying school children on the highways of this Commonwealth in a school bus that in addition to the other requirements of this act does not conform with the following

(1) The body of the vehicle shall be of all metal construction and of the closed type and shall provide only one compartment for the operator and school children

(2) The exhaust system shall be so constructed that exhaust gases will be kept out of the body of the school bus and adequate ventilation shall be provided in all school buses

(3) There shall be an entrance door located to the right of the operator and at all times controlled only by such operator The door shall be at least twenty-four

(24) inches wide and shall be [of the jack-knife or safety-split type and shall have hand rails on its side] an approved safety type with suitable hand rails

(4) There shall be an emergency exit door in the rear or on the left side near the rear of the vehicle equipped with an emergency lock operated from the inside of the vehicle which may be quickly released and which shall be protected against accidental release The emergency exit door shall open outwards and shall be at least [twenty-two (22)] twenty (20) inches wide and shall be labeled in black letters at least three (3) inches high on both the outside and inside "Emergency Door"

(5) All windows shall be so constructed and installed that they shall readily slide up and down only except that the windows in the rear of the bus shall be stationary All side windows in the bus shall be provided with removable heavy wire mesh or other removable guard of a sufficient height to prevent the extension of hands

(6) There shall be at least [twelve (12) inches of seating space provided for each elementary school child carried and at least fourteen (14)] thirteen (13) inches of seating space provided for each [high] school child carried And there shall be a measurement of at least twelve (12) inches from the front of every seat to the back of the seat next to the rear All seats shall have spring cushions and all back rests shall be well padded and shall be securely fastened to the bus There shall be no longitudinal seats opposite to and facing each other within a distance of eighteen (18) inches and in all new buses purchased after the effective date of this act there shall be no longitudinal seats

(7) Every school bus shall be of a uniform color which shall be orange and every such bus shall be labeled both in the front and in the rear with black letters not less than six (6) inches in height with the words "School Bus" showing to the outside

(8) Every school bus shall be equipped with at least one (1) fire extinguisher of approved type in good condition and ready for use as prescribed by the secretary [which] and shall be so placed that it can be readily reached from the operator's seat

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall make unlawful the use before August first one thousand nine hundred forty-two of any vehicle as a school bus for the transportation of school children if such vehicle was used in this Commonwealth under contract with any school or school district for the transportation of school children before the effective date of this [act] section

The secretary shall have the authority to make regulations not inconsistent with this act for the efficient administration of this section

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars and not more than twenty-five ($25) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not less than five (5) days and not more than ten (10) days

The twenty-first section was read as follows:

Section 21 Article eight of said act is hereby amended by adding thereto after section eight hundred twenty-eight which was added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2329) two new sections to read as follows

Section 829 Requirements as to Condition of Tires (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate any vehicle or combination of vehicles upon the highways of this Commonwealth with tires or a tire showing breaker strip cushion gum or fabric

(b) The owner or operator of any vehicle who is notified by a peace officer that his tires or tire does not conform with the requirements of this act or are unsafe or unfit or in need of correction adjustment or repairs shall be allowed forty-eight (48) hours within which to adjust repair or replace such tires or tire to conform with the requirements of this act The submission of a certificate to such peace officer issued or executed by an official inspection station or by a reliable tire dealer showing that within forty-eight (48) hours after such notification the tires or tire have been corrected adjusted repaired or replaced as required in this act shall relieve the owner or operator from arrest or prosecution Unless such certificate is received by the peace officer within five (5) days from the date of notification showing that the tires have been corrected adjusted or repaired as required in this act information for arrest will be made

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of ten ($10) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

Section 830 Transportation of New and Used Automobiles

(a) No person shall operate a vehicle over the highways of this Commonwealth carrying any other vehicle the weight of which is directly above the cab of the carrier vehicle or directly over the head of the operator of such carrier vehicle

(b) No person shall operate a vehicle on the highways of this Commonwealth engaged in the transportation of new or used automobiles until such vehicle has been submitted to an agency of the Commonwealth designated by the Secretary of Revenue for the purpose of mechanical inspection and approval at such reasonable intervals throughout the registration year as the Secretary of Revenue may provide

(c) Vehicles being transported on other vehicles over the highways of this Commonwealth shall be substantially secured to the carrier vehicle with at least two chains bolts or other approved device and shall have the hand brake of the carried vehicle set

Penalty Any person violating any provision of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of $25.00 and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five days

Sub-section (a) shall be effective January 1 1942 Sub-sections (b) and (c) shall be effective upon the approval of this Act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 21, line 27, page 47, by striking out the brackets before and after the words "a new section."

Amend Section 21, line 27, page 47, by striking out the words "two new sections."

Amend Section 21, page 49 by striking out lines 1 to 28 inclusive.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, in addition to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, there are other amendments to other sections. I would ask, Mr. Speaker, that all of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny be considered at one time, for the reason, that in the bill as presented to the House, if I may explain, Section 1033, as contained in the Motor Code of 1937, has been repealed. The committee presented in lieu thereof a modification in Section 830 on page 49 of the present bill. The amendments as presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, amend Section 830 on page 49 of the bill and reinstate Section 1033. This applies to the transportation of motor vehicles by transports, and therefore to act upon the matter intelligently and properly I think, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, all the amendments should be voted upon at one and the same time.

The Committee considered this matter for a long time and presented this Section 830 on page 49. The Fleming amendment as I said reinstates Section 1033, effective January 1, 1940.

The Section as introduced, 830 on page 49, Section A, reads:

"No person shall operate a vehicle over the highways of this Commonwealth carrying any other vehicle"—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield? The Chair understands that the gentleman is asking that all amendments be considered at one time.

Mr. TROUT. That is right, Mr. Speaker, all the Fleming amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that there will be no objection to debating all of these amendments at one time. However, it is impossible to submit all of the amendments to a vote at one time because of technical difficulties at the desk. If all the amendments apply to one subject the Chair would presume, if the original amendment is not agreed to, the sponsor will withdraw the rest of them.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, that is perfectly satisfactory to me. The only thing I had in mind was to make an explanation of what the gentleman from Allegheny had in mind in the series of amendments he presented.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will have the clerk read all the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Allegheny, with the exception of the amendments to the title.

Debate will be permitted on all the amendments. We are on Section 21, and the Chair will inquire of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, whether he will yield to Mr. Fleming, the sponsor of the amendments.

Mr. TROUT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to ask support of the members of the House for these amendments.

My amendments do only one thing. House Bill No. 1423 as presented to the House would repeal Section 1033 of the Vehicle Code. To those of you who are not familiar with Section 1033, it provides that the carriers of automobiles on double deckers shall be forbidden the use of the highways. The Committee reported the bill out and I would say, not in its entirety, but generally it is very good. They have inserted an amendment which would take Section 1033 out of the law. In other words, we are going to open up our highways again to these double deckers. I submit to the members of the House if we were to make a house to house canvas throughout the state of Pennsylvania ninety percent of the people would say it is a good thing that the double deckers be taken off the highways. For that reason I have submitted these amendments which would keep Section 1033 in the Vehicle Code. I do not want to take up your time but I ask you to support my amendments and keep the law as it is now in regard to Section 1033.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1423 as now presented has the unanimous accord of the Committee on Motor Vehicles, after three months' of study, and we ask that the members support the bill as submitted to the House and vote down the amendments.

I now yield the floor to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Curran.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether his amendments as drawn effectively reinstate the provisions of Section 1033 in the present law?

Mr. FLEMING. I would say they do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether Section 830 as amended, would effectively drive off of the highways as of January 1, 1940, those vehicles which are now engaged in the transportation of motor vehicles over the highways.

Mr. FLEMING. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I would say Section 1033 certainly would.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether Section 830 as amended or as suggested to be amended by his amendments, would have the same effect as Section 1033?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I have not suggested Section 830. I am not in favor of it.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman still does not answer the specific question as to whether the effect of his amendments would, for all practical purposes, drive off the highways by January 1, 1940, those vehicles which are now engaged in the transportation of automobiles.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to prolong this, but I would say that I am very much interested in the safety feature of Section 1033, and also that public opinion is predominantly in favor of the retention of that Section. That is the only reason I am submitting the amendments. I am in no way connected with the industry and they are not the amendments of any industry; they are my own personal amendments.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that the Committee of which Mr. Trout is Chairman has studied this problem during the last two months and that House Bill No. 1423 represents the unanimous decision of the entire Committee so far as the regulation of this particular type of vehicle is concerned?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I recognize the fact that they have done a very fine job. House Bill No. 1423 has some very, very excellent features in it. The only objection I have to the entire bill is to this one section which I would draw to the attention of the members of the House and ask them to use their own imagination.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I must respectfully ask that the gentleman from Allegheny answer the question specifically.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I think with the exception of this section that I am attempting to amend, they have done a very fine job.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the evidence that was called to the attention of the Committee on Motor Vehicles regarding the safety feature which he refers to?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I cannot be familiar with all of it, no sir.

Mr. CURRAN. Which are now included in the regulatory section 830?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, the only answer I can give is that I do not have at my command the information which has been given to the Committee.

Mr. CURRAN. Is the gentleman then attempting to state to the members of this House that we should take his opinion regarding the safety features, despite the fact that he has no reasons to present, and has no information regarding the matters which were called to the attention of the Committee, as a result of which the bill was prepared?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I am respectfully asking the members of the House to support my amendments, yes, sir.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I think it is very clear to the members of the House that if we concur in the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, we effectively destroy the very purpose of this bill as prepared by the Committee on Motor Vehicles.

It is very seldom, Mr. Speaker, that I have arisen during this session to talk on a particular subject, but I feel certain if Mr. Fleming's amendments are concurred in, murder will be committed by the members of this Legislature today. Perhaps I should not call it murder although it is willful, premeditated and deliberate. Rather I should say it comes under the category of assassination, because some three thousand five hundred men who are now employed in the operation of these carriers will be driven out of work January 1, 1940. Not only will these men be driven out of work but all of this equipment will be junked. The small men who have practically all of their money invested in this equipment in every section of the state of Pennsylvania, have called to the attention of our Committee facts and figures, as the result of which the regulatory provision was inserted in this bill giving the Department full rights to limit the type and kind of carrier that shall be used in this business. In my district alone there are one hundred and forty men who are employed by a company engaged in this business with a payroll of a million dollars a year, which company is paying into the State Treasury taxes approximating three hundred thousand dollars a year. Now, that business, as well as all the other men throughout the state of Pennsylvania who are engaged in the same business will be driven off the highways if these amendments are concurred in, and I would therefore expressly ask the members of the House to vote "no" on the amendments offered by Mr. Fleming.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with the greatest regret that I take issue with the two gentlemen who have just spoken on behalf of this bill. It is with a good deal of pleasure, however, that I rise to support the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

You don't need to have anybody present an argument to you in favor of these amendments, all you need to do is to take a trip in your own car on a busy afternoon, on a sunny day on any main highway in Pennsylvania. I am glad that one particular operator paid three hundred thousand dollars to the state of Pennsylvania, because they on one or two occasions have exacted a part of that money from me in the form of repaired fenders, which cost me eighty-six dollars and made me miss one session of the Legislature this winter.

There will be other amendments offered by Representative Holland and myself which deal with these and other commercial vehicles which we will take up a little later. I want to say it is a case of pitting the rights of the Sunday drivers, the poor little fellows who work all week in a factory and want to get out in their little cars and take their wives for a drive in the afternoon, against big industry that pays three hundred thousand dollars in taxes. Those people who have a big financial interest at stake, they protest vigorously and they send wires and send letters and prepare statistics. The thing you want to consider today is whether your wives and children, you and your neighbors, are safe on the highways of Pennsylvania with these modern battle-cruisers driving recklessly down the road for which you are paying. Is it really a regulation of interstate commerce in the interest of public safety and is done in many another state. One of the reasons why part of this investment would have to be considered as wasted is because a good many other states won't tolerate this sort of thing and they can't sell this equipment so easily.

As to the question raised as to unemployment, let me say this: you probably have had the experience, or some of your neighbors and friends who did not have jobs went out to Detroit and brought cars back which necessitated the employment of possibly five times as many men to drive those cars in. Where is the end of this sort of thing, if you are going to allow bigger and bigger carriers to operate over the highways for which you pay? The final end of it will be that you and your wives and your friends and your children won't be able to use the roads for which you are paying.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a good bill with the exception of this particular abolition of Section 1033, I believe the number is, and also the Holland amendments about which you will doubtless hear later should be adopted. It is time for the people of Pennsylvania to stand up and assert themselves and see that these modern battle-cruisers are kept off the highways on Sunday. I therefore ask every member of the House to support these amendments.

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in support of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

One of the arguments advanced by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Curran, is that these carriers pay three hundred thousand dollars in taxes to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I wonder just exactly how much the railroads lose and how much the Commonwealth loses in taxes from the railroads because these truckers pay three hundred thousand dollars. For four or five months in the House and Senate we have been talking about unemployment and about lack of funds. Compared with the amount of money the railroads pay in taxes to this Commonwealth the three hundred thousand dollars which the truckers pay is just a drop in the bucket. If we are going to continue to let these trucks carry goods that the railroads by all right ought to carry, not only because they are equipped to handle motor cars, but in the interest of public safety, then we are going to drive from the Commonwealth one of the greatest revenue features we have. The railroads in the state are all equipped to handle this type of transportation. In the last ten years, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has equipped fifteen hundred freight cars to carry automobiles; the New York Central railroad has equipped five thousand freight cars, the Pennsylvania railroad has equipped two thousand five hundred cars to handle automobiles. Many of these cars in fact most of them, are now lying on sidings because their legitimate business is being stolen from them by these truckers. Some of the members who have spoken and who are interested in these particular amendments live in compartively level country in Pennsylvania. We who live in the high mountainous districts know just what these things mean. During this session of the Legislature I have traveled back and forth by car to my home in Latrobe and I see roads upon which even an automobile can hardly maintain traction. The trucks carrying other automobiles will swing around curves at a high rate of speed and it is a wonder they do not upset upon cars coming up the other side of the mountain. It has been our practice in traveling back forth over the highways when we see one of these things coming to pull off the road as far as possible and give it the right of way, because they are tractor and trailer trucks, namely two-piece vehicles which buckle in the middle. This year at Laurel Ridge one of these trucks upset and we almost crashed into it going down the hill at night. As a general rule, especially on days when the highways are crowded with pleasure cars, we must drive these things from the highways. We who live in the mountainous region have the experience that when we go up the mountain, it is difficult even with an old model "T" to keep behind one of them; we are really traveling at a speed of half, or a mile an hour.

As a matter of public safety, as a matter of increased revenue to this Commonwealth by additional taxes from the railroads when they increase their transportation, and as a matter of helping the railroad industry to recuperate from its present delapidated condition, I ask the members of this House to support the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support the amendments offered by Mr. Fleming.

I don't want to argue the carriers' side or the railroads' side, I am interssted in safety. One of the bills we passed in the 1937 session of the Legislature had to do with the regulation of motor vehicles generally, and together with that bill the then Governor inaugurated a safety campaign. I can briefly summarize the result of that safety campaign by saying it has put Pennsylvania in the forefront among the states of the nation in the increase of safety to pedestrians and motorists on the highways. It has furthur resulted in the lowering of insurance rates in Pennsylvania, bcause of the decrease of accidents on the highways. It has also resulted in the fact that persons on the highways have the knowledge that safety is being looked after by a watchful police force, that is doing a real job in policing the highways.

An integral part of that campaign was the question of keeping certain types of vehicles off the highways, but it was thought at that time that it would be unfair to invested capital to tell them they would have to take their equipment off immediately. It was thought best then to tell them that within two years they would have to take off their equipment in order that they would not invest more money, because after that period of time it would not be permitted on the highways of Pennsylvania. That law has been attacked in the Dauphin County Courts, and that Court has determined recently that the bill is constitutional, and incidentally is expected that that bill will be argued here in Harrisburg before the Supreme Court next month.

The James administration has said that the safety campaign inaugurated by the last administration was a good one, and none of the regulations has been changed because that campaign was a good campaign and brought good results.

I ask, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that we support the amendments offered by Mr. Fleming and keep this campaign going. If we listen to what some of the experts on road safety have to tell us, those men who have studied this question very carefully, they say that the campaign should be continued, that the regulation of the highways should be continued as it has gone forward for two years. I say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we should support these amendments and keep these highways as safe as they have been in the past and God give us the power to keep them safe in the future.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, let us not be confused by the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming. There have been a number of speakers who debated pro and con on these amendments, but until Mr. Denman got up to talk no one knew the real reason behind them. After hearing Mr. Denman I think the reason is very obvious why he feels these amendments ought to be inserted, and that is because we are here to legislate not only for the poor, common people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who go out to take a ride once in a while, but we are here to legislate so that the railroads can meet the competition of the independent truckers and go back into the business of hauling new cars. There is no question but that is the only reason for these amendments.

Mr. Trout and the other members of this Committee I believe would be willing to give this House, if they want to hear them, the figures on safety. Mr. Kane stated that he was in an accident and that is why he wants these amendments inserted. He stated that one of these trucks cost him eighty-six dollars worth of damage, and being a lawyer, if it wasn't his fault, he would know how to collect that eighty-six dollars. There has been a lot of talk, but I say to you Committees are appointed in this House to study bills or study one feature; we can't all study all features of all bills. This Committee has made a study of this bill. In 1936 they had a bill and we had a public hearing at which members were present and introduced figures on safety. Instead of the members of this House getting up on this floor and saying it is unsafe, why don't they give us some facts and figures. This Committee had those facts and figures before them and they are convinced that these trucks and trailers are safe, and I think after the Committee has gone to that much trouble this House should be bound by their recommendation. I therefore ask that these amendments be voted down.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia stated that there is a desire somewhere to legislate in the interest of the railroads. Well, Mr. Speaker, why not? Why not legislate in the interests of the railroads? I rather imagine if we would contribute to the railroads a free right of way, if we would maintain a free right of way for the railroads, they would be able to compete with the truckers in transportation. The state of Pennsylvania in its generosity, like other states, has been subsidizing the truck industry for the last twenty years.

The gentleman from Delaware talked about the poor investor who had all his money invested in a trucking venture, and then he told us about the company in his district with a million dollar payroll. The trouble is, members of the House, that these truckers or trucking concerns who are on the road have a privilege and they are endeavoring, and so far have succeeded in convincing the legislatures, that that privilege is a special interest, a vested interest. It is always to be remembered that freight, particularly freight in inter-state commerce, is on our highways as a privilege and not as a vested interest. I rather imagine that the fifteen hundred or three thousand truckers who might lose their jobs and who work on trucks, so long as they doze at the wheel, might as well lose them if three thousand men were employed upon the railroads. You can't pass any laws but what someone is thrown out of employment, but if we add to one thing as we lose on another, we lose nothing.

The question of safety should be decided on the basis of individual experience. Everyone who has tried to pass one of these traveling caravans when it started weaving on the tail end, can answer all the questions about safety, and I for one accept the challenge of the gentleman from Philadelphia when he says that the cat is out of the bag. Some people on this floor are interested in railroads. I admit that I am and I hope that there are other members of this Legislature who are equally interested in the railroads.

Mr. SEIF. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I do not rise to offer opposition to any of these amendments, but in order to keep the record straight.

I want to say as a member of the Motor Vehicle Committee I was not one of the members who asked that this bill be reported out with Section 1033 amended. It may have been my own fault, I am not blaming the Committee or any members of the Committee. I perhaps did not attend the meetings as religiously as I might have, but it was the unanimous opinion of the Committee that this section should be modified, and that was the unanimous opinion at the time these amendments were being deliberated.

I know there are any number of motorists having some connection with automobile clubs who do not desire to see these dreadnaughts, as Mr. Kane so aptly described them, on the highways. As stated by Mr. Cohen of Philadelphia, these men have had two years' warning that this act would become effective on January 1, 1940, therefore it seems to me we should not sympathize with these people when they have had their warning.

I know how I am going to vote, and I won't ask any of the members to oppose the amendments or vote for them. I merely want the record straight. I want to state that the Committee has done a very good job in every way, and I am not criticizing them. I merely want it known that is was the unanimous opinion of the Committee that this section should be deleted from the general act of assembly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. A question of personal privilege is not in order at this time.

Mr. KANE. Then, Mr. Speaker, I would ask leave to speak on these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was going to answer the allegation of the gentleman from Philadelphia to the effect that the reason I was interested in these amendments was because of the fact that I was involved in an accident with one of these trucks and it must have been my fault, otherwise I might have been able to collect.

Let me say to the members of the House that since the details of this accident tend to be interesting I will tell them to you. I was coming down to Harrisburg one evening for the session. It happened to be a very snowy day. I was driving a brand new car that I had just given to my wife. I came up alongside one of these motor carriers, about a hundred feet long and about thirty feet high, at least that is the way it looked to me. As I was about to pass the vehicle, it pulled over, without any rhyme or reason, to the middle of the road and shoved me and my passengers into one of the guard rails along the Susquehanna River, badly damaging the two left wheels and the two left fenders. The reason I didn't get his number was because there was plenty of snow. I don't know what all of the people that look out for these things were doing. He certainly was going plenty fast because I was going about forty-five miles an hour myself and he was going faster apparently than I could catch up with him. The car was smashed up badly and it was absolutely impossible for us to get the number of the vehicle to find out who was driving it and to whom it belonged or anything else. He made no endeavor to stop. He pulled off to the right side of the road so that he had an opportunity to look into the mirror, and apparently after satisfying himself that I was in no position to follow him, he pulled back into the road and sped away. Since the allegation has been made that it must have been my fault, let me say this to you, had I been able to get the number I most certainly could have collected my damages and I certainly would have made every effort to have that driver's license revoked.

Let me say to you that I am here to represent those people in my district who drive over country roads on holidays and Sundays. I do not handle any business of either the railroads or the trucking associations. I am not practicing law any longer. I am down here representing the fifty thousand people of McKean County who sent me here last session when Governor Earle was Governor. Governor Earle was the Governor and the Democratic majority put through that Motor Vehicle Code, one of the most satisfactory things in it, to my point of thinking, was the feature that took care of this particular problem. If you want to run out on your wives and your children and the numerous little drivers in your district on behalf of any big interests, I don't care whether it is a railroad or whether it is a trucking association, I don't think you will get any thanks from the people, and the first time your own wife gets her car smashed up, I think you will find you will be as strongly for these amendments as I am, and it won't be because of your ability or inability to collect.

In further defense of my position in the matter, let me say that I was for this feature two years ago before this accident had occurred. I am proud of the fact that the Democrats at that time put this feature into the law, and I will be prouder still if the Republican members show their spunk and keep it in there, regardless of the lobbyists who are endeavoring to take it out.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in opposition to the amendments offered to this bill by the gentleman from Allegheny.

I was actually amused, Mr. Speaker, to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria in which he raised the question as to whether or not we should legislate for the railroads as against other types of transportation. I could not help but recall, Mr. Speaker, the remarks the gentleman made yesterday, when he suggested that the opposite side of this House should go to Washington and make the acquaintance of Mr. Ickes and Mr. Hopkins. Apparently since that time the gentleman has decided to follow the advice he gave us. I presume he will be trotting to Washington to meet those gentlemen. I was amused by his remarks because he showed concern about the twenty-nine hundred men who will be losing their jobs in the event these amendments are adopted. When he is at Washington meeting these gentlemen, I presume he is going to make arrangements whereby he will make railroaders out of them, and of course after that is done there is nothing further to worry about. However, Mr. Speaker, when he faces concrete facts, he should face the fact that here are twenty-nine hundred men who are receiving a payroll in excess of two and one-half million dollars, which they are going to lose if these amendments are adopted. I doubt if those men will be employed by the railroads or in any other form of transportation. There are just going to be that many more on the relief rolls. How are we going to raise the money, in what form of taxation, in order to maintain and support them, in addition to the loss of revenue that has been mentioned? Can we afford to legislate men out of jobs to the profit of those very corporations, or the same type of corporations, that were condemned yesterday on the floor of this House?

I sympathize with the gentleman from McKean. I realize that it is very fine and very nice to be able to go along the highway and find no trucks or any other type of vehicle on the road, so that you can whizz right along enjoying the scenery, but I also realize that our highways are made for the general public. It may be inconvenient too, but certainly I do not believe we should pass any particular legislation that is going to deny to one part of our public the right to use our highways to the exclusive advantage of those who desire to be taking pleasure rides.

It is for these reasons, Mr. Speaker, that I rise in support of the bill as written and in opposition to the amendments.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this debate has been prolonged and I am going to be very brief but there are some few things possibly we have not touched upon.

I do not represent a trucking company or a trucking concern. I do not represent a railroad, nor am I in favor of passing legislation that will discriminate against any particular party, corporation or individual, but we must always bear in mind that every law we pass abridges the rights of some one, whether it be a corporation or an individual, so why isn't it possible to pass measures of this kind to let everyone live, not only the railroads, but those who have invested in and built up an individual business and conducted it safely?

I will admit it is a little inconvenient to pass a trailer on the highway. Yesterday, there was a soft ball game at our picnic. I was trying to watch that soft ball game but many others stood in front of me. I had to move around to get into a position where I could see the game. Just so, every one of us driving home on our highways today suffers many inconveniences, the road is not always clear for just you and me as individuals.

I want to present several more figures that might be interesting, which have not been touched on. About ninety different persons or concerns are carrying these cars today, and the investment amounts to over three million dollars. The payroll of these persons amounts to more than two and one-quarter million dollars. The gas tax that is paid into the coffers of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways amounts to approximately two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and they pay a tax when they are home amounting to about thirty-five thousand dollars. Besides that, the money they pay out for the maintenance of their own equipment in Pennsylvania amounts to over two million dollars.

It seems to me criminal to destory an industry so long as there is room enough for all here in this great Commonwealth. I think we would be doing a great wrong to many individuals, as well as the Truckers' Associations, who have built up this business. They ought to have the right to live just as well as the railroads ought to have the right to live.

I ask the membership of this House to vote "no" on these amendments. We ought to support the Committee that has rendered faithful service. I am not a member of the Motor Vehicle Committee either, but I believe that these men have tried to make a good job; they have given it careful study and have tried to listen to every group and to everything that was presented to them. Members, I ask you to vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Kane and Mr. Fleming.

Messrs. Freed, Kane and Rose asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. HOLLAND and KANE. Mr. Speaker, we desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 21, page 47, line 27, by striking out the word: "two" and inserting in lieu thereof: "a"

Amend Sec. 21, page 47, lines 27 and 28, by striking out the word: "sections" and inserting in lieu thereof "section"

Amend Sec. 21 (Sec. 830), page 49, lines 1 to 28, both inclusive by striking out: all of said lines

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't think anyone is going to accuse me of being for the railroads or for the utilities. However, the amendments I have offered are amendments which have been adopted in twenty-two states. There was a report made to this House of accidents occuring on Sundays due to motor trucks. I want to publicly announce and state that this report was made with the help of the Pennsylvania Motor Association, because the Pennsylvania Motor Association had on three different occasions gone over this report before it was given to the House. When they tried to put into this report accidents that the report stated had occurred due to the fact that trucks had obstructed the view of motorists, the Pennsylvania Motor Association objected to the inclusion, and this report only sets forth accidents where motor trucks were involved, and not accidents of motorists trying to pass these large trucks on the highways on Sundays.

I feel that Sunday at least should be a day of rest. There is no reason why these trucks should continue on Sunday and practically put off the highways the people of Pennsylvania who take their families out to see nature and to get some fresh air. If any of you has traveled between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg on a Sunday on Route 22, you many times will see lines of cars one and two miles long behind these large trucks going up hill, and then try to pass them when they are going downhill. I feel that the highways of Pennsylvania should be for the use of the people of Pennsylvania, they should be enjoyed by the people of Pennsylvania, and the only way we can permit Pennsylvanians to see Pennsylvania scenery is to make our highways safe so that on Sunday we who live in the congested districts can take our families and go out and see nature, see the scenery of Pennsylvania and appreciate the state in which we live, without endangering our lives by the many trucks which are coming here from other states.

All this amendment does is to take the heavy trucks off certain highways. They are permitted to proceed over routes designated by the Pennsylvania Motor Police. It is not a hardship on these trucks. I might add that Ohio, Michigan and New York now have passed similar legislation, and if we do not pass legislation all these trucks will be breaking their necks to use Pennsylvania highways on Sundays.

I am going to ask the members of this House to support this amendment because it is an amendment that the people of Pennsylvania demand as indicated in editorials in many newspapers throughout the State.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to be very brief, I feel that legislation of this kind is good and we should support it. I want to state only my personal observation: in one part of Pennsylvania during the summer season, the Pennsylvania Motor Police, as a matter of caution and safety, have assumed the right on Routes 209 and 611 to the Delaware Water Gap region on Sunday, where traffic is especially heavy, to stop heavily laden vehicles, put them on the side of the road, line them up and not permit any more than one to approximately every fifty pleasure vehicles to go over that narrow piece of road. I think we ought to back up the Motor Police in their effort to properly police the highways of Pennsylvania by giving them unquestioned authority so that their splendid police work cannot be questioned by over-zealous freight truckers.

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of these amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOLLAND. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if these amendments would keep milk trucks off the roads on Sundays and holidays.

Mr. HOLLAND. They will not, Mr. Speaker. They will keep no trucks off the highways. The only thing this amendment does is to specify certain routes that they can use, not the main routes that are used by the motorists. It will not take any trucks off the highways. It will merely make them use by-passes.

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say in considering amendments of this type we must be very careful that they do not put our milk trucks off the roads. We must realize that milk is a commodity which we must drive to market every day, regardless of whether it is Sunday or whether it is a holiday. If these amendments provide for this class of transportation, I have nothing more to offer, but we must be very careful that that is not legislated against.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support these amendments. As I do so I recall a certain evening in the House of Representatives in 1935. Those of you who were here then possibly will recall the wild scene of celebration after the House had passed a bill introduced by a former member, the Honorable Mr. Rinn. It seems to me that while we who passed that bill that night knew that the bill had been so amended that it wasn't worth anything, we who have driven on the highways have since been rather doubtful of our wisdom in completely emasculating that bill at that time, because we who have followed these long trucks with their trailers have seen the danger that arises, not so much to the driver of that particular vehicle, but the danger to the driver of the small passenger car in its almost useless attempt to try to pass the huge vehicle in front of it.

As I sit here today and listen to the debate I have in my mind's eye the picture of the new Speaker of the House who participated in that celebration, and I think those of us who were here in 1935 should take heed of the useless action we took that particular evening and should lend our vote and our voice to help enact into law a measure which in its provisions is entirely sensible and sane. It does not entirely remove these trucks and trailers from the highways but does provide a way for them to get from point to point. It does state the principle that the use of the highways must be subservient to their proper use by the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I ask the members of both parties, both the minority and the majority, to support this amendment and to carry it as the last amendment was carried.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a very advantageous place to talk from in regard to this bill, because this is certainly a non-partisan question when Representative Holland of Allegheny and I sponsored these amendments jointly.

I want to say to the members of the House that Representative Holland has carried on for many years his fight to limit the amount of truck traffic on the highways on Sundays. He has carefully drawn this amendment so that there is a provision in it for the designation of certain routes which may be used so that they can go on with their businesses.

I want to say to the agricultural members of the House if they desire to offer specific amendments excepting milk trucks from the provisions of this bill, I for one, as co-sponsor of these amendments, will be glad to go along with them in saying so in so many words.

I want to call to the attention of the members of the House that I was invited by Representatives from Adams County to see the apple blossoms that make it one of the beauty spots of the United States at this time of the year. Two Sundays ago I, with two other Representatives, accepted that invitation and went down to Adams County. We went down over the hills to see these beautiful apple blossoms. On every hill we had occasion to go over we found long lines of cars, and at the head of every one of those lines was a truck that either could not or would not make the grade without going into very low gear. The result of it was that hundreds and hundreds of people down there to enjoy their little Sunday holiday, after working all week, were compelled to travel at ten or fifteen miles an hour because every time the truck got over the hill it speeded as fast as it could go to make up for lost time, and then nobody could pass it. The result was that that whole beautiful region at Mt. Alto was totally worthless to the people of Pennsylvania. Yet we pay for it. I want to call your attention to the fact that the greater number of trucks that were causing this trouble did not carry Pennsylvania registration plates. It may be that they were engaged in inter-state commerce, which I do not feel we have the right to interfere with. Nevertheless, they are on our highways as a privilege. These amendments that have been offered are not intended to completely prohibit truck traffic, but they are intended to regulate it in a safe manner.

I recently have received telegrams from people up in my district, who had been egged on by associations of one kind or another, to send protests to their Representative. When I called those people up on the telephone or spoke to them in person and asked them whether or not they had any objection to their trucks being kept off the highways on Sundays, if the trucks of everybody else were likewise kept off, they said, "Absolutely not." The refineries, for example, who ship oil in these heavy trucks, were perfectly willing to let their drivers have a holiday, but they did not feel that their drivers should remain at home, that their trucks should be kept off the highway when other competitors would not agree to do the same thing.

When you pass a law of this kind you are doing two things. You are giving the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to enjoy the beautiful scenery of Pennsylvania without too much interference from the freight traffic, and secondly, you are going to give the drivers of those trucks at least one day off when they really can take a rest; one day they will be sure they will not be called out for duty, and that is conferring a considerable benefit on that class of people when you consider the enormous number that are involved in driving trucks.

I have been told that the truck drivers object to this amendment. If you consult them you will find they are for it, and you will find some shippers who are perfectly willing and very glad for this amendment. If they come to Pennsylvania and use our highways they should be equally considerate of the traveling public. I urge all the members of this House to vote for this amendment.

I want to say further that I as a co-sponsor of these amendments will be glad to vote for a good agricultural amendment, if you want to offer it, which will say in so many words that milk trucks are specifically exempt as a matter of public necessity. I thank you.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Holland and Mr. Kane.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 21 as amended by striking out the date

January 1, 1940 and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "No part of this section shall become effective until April 1, 1941."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, just what did my amendments accomplish? It seems that some one has taken my copy from my desk, and according to this amendment I am somewhat at sea as to how to vote on it.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, it says that "No part of this section shall become effective until April 1, 1941."

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, that is the amendment before the House that we are voting on?

The SPEAKER. That is the amendment offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Curran.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I realize that the hour is late and we have taken up too much time now. In one brief statement I would like to ask the members of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to urge the House to the same effect. We have just adopted one amendment. This amendment effectively offsets everything we have done here by vote. I think the Curran amendment is really out of order because it is exactly the opposite of what the House did. I ask the members of the House to sustain their previous position and vote down the amendment.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am going to be very brief. I am appreciative of the fact that the gentleman says he is at sea over the amendment. Perhaps I can explain the purpose back of the amendment very briefly by giving you a story, which will illustrate my point.

Back in the good old days out west a man who had been convicted of some offense was summoned before the judge for sentence and the judge told him that he was to be hanged, but before being hanged, he would follow the tradition of complying with his last request.

The old fellow looked at the judge and said, "Well, Judge, the only request I would like to make is, I would like to have a stiff-bosomed shirt, a shave and a haircut."

The Judge told him, "The barber was shot the night before, the stiff-bosomed shirt was not to be had," but the judge told him he would let him pick out the tree on which he would be hanged. The old fellow looked out the window and pointed out a tree that looked pretty good to him.

The Judge said, "Well, I will tell you, it will take about a year and three months for that tree to get tall enough for the purpose of hanging you."

That is all we are asking here. Seriously I ask the House to vote in favor of this amendment, and give these thirty-five hundred men and their families a chance to rehabilitate themselves. I honestly ask you to vote "aye" on the amendments.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I very much appreciated the story of Mr. Curran. It was very funny, I liked it, but I certainly think the industry has already had a two years' notice. I did not quite get the point of the story probably, but from the way I interpreted it, I would say I am against letting them pick out their own tree.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Curran.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CURRAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the amendment it runs until April 1941 instead of January 1, 1940?

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, it runs until April 1, 1941 instead of January 1, 1940, which will give the men a chance to rehabilitate themselves.

Mr. HUNTLEY. That is, after we have a new House in session here?

Mr. CURRAN. I cannot answer that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would be willing to concede them a little more time in order to give them probably the benefit of clergy before they die, at the same time I am not willing to let it go over until the next session of the General Assembly and have to fight it out all over again. That seems to be the habit of this motor outfit, to just put it over from one session until the other. They haven't shown good faith. They had the opportunity of preparing themselves for this emergency and they haven't taken advantage of it. Instead of coming in here and asking for a six months' extension they ask an extension of one year; they ask that it go over until another House convenes and then they will bring pressure to bear on that House.

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I would be very happy to explain to Mr. Huntley and the members of the House why I have selected April 1, 1941. As you know this House passed a bill changing the registration date on automobiles from December 31 until March 31. It is for that reason I selected the end of the registration year.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the explanation as to the date selected by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Curran, which sounds fairly logical, but it isn't the date we are objecting to, it is 1941, which means that this House will have voted for an amendment to abolish something, and will then vote again to postpone it until another session of the Legislature. We all know this is a stall put up by the industry for the purpose of preventing effective action by this House, when it isn't to their interest and the argument was well presented.

Let me say to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the way I heard that story was this. The fellow took advantage of the situation and picked out an elder bush in front of the court house, well knowing that it would never grow sufficiently strong to stand his weight. He therefore got off scot free by taking advantage of the judge, the jury, the district attorney and everybody concerned with enforcing the law. We ask you not to fall for a similar joke and agree to hang this outfit to an elder bush, but to retain your original position.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware amend the text of House Bill No. 1423, Printer's No. 727, or is he amending the text of this House Bill as it has previously been amended?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware is amending the text of House Bill No. 1423, Printer's No. 727, by putting in an amendment to section 830, as amended, by striking out the date January 1, 1940, and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "No part of this section shall become effective until April 1, 1941."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is he amending an amendment?

The SPEAKER. He is amending the bill as amended.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is it regular at the present time to amend an amendment after the amendment has been adopted? Was not his proper recourse to amend the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, if he wanted to accomplish his purpose?

The SPEAKER. As the Chair understands, the gentleman from Cambria is raising the question of whether the amendment should have been presented to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming. The Chair feels that the manner in which amendments must be presented, is that they are sent to the desk and the House decides on one amendment, then another amendment is offered. It would be extremely difficult if any other rule prevailed. The gentleman can offer his amendment, and the House can decide whether it wants to adopt it or not.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is section 830 in or out of the bill at the present time?

The SPEAKER. Section 830, as amended by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, was taken out of the bill. Then an amendment was offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland and the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane on which the House has just voted. That also was an amendment to Section 21.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, deleted the section. What it did was to retain the present law; what is in the law that was passed last session with regard to motor transportation. There is no reason that I can see why this amendment cannot be offered under the rules. There is every reason why the members of the House should not sustain this last amendment, because this last amendment is intended to fool you and nothing else. It is an endeavor to take advantage of a situation in which a number of members of the House have gone out. I therefore ask you to vote it down for that reason.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is Section 830 in or out of the bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that Section 830 is out of the bill.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I felt that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny had taken that section out of the bill, which amendment was adopted by the House a few moments ago.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the amendment to be to that effect.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

BILL AND AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with the amendments be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

There will be meetings of the Committees on:

Banking immediately in Room 324.

Counties in Room A.

Dairy Industries in Room 328.

Professional Licensure in Room 323.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 4:30 p. m. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 4:30 p. m.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lackawanna will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, yesterday in consideration of House Bill No. 1221, I voted in the affirmative. While the verification of the roll was being made, I was called from the House chamber and I have just learned that I have been recorded in the negative. I ask that the record be corrected so that I may be shown as having voted in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the journal.

Mr. HOCKE from the Committee on Counties reported as committed, House Bill No. 1526, (Senate Bill No. 677), entitled:

An Act authorizing counties of the third class to enter into agreements with certain hospitals for the care of contagious disease cases and authorizing such counties to make appropriations thereof.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD from the Committee on Dairy Industries reported as amended, House Bill No. 1202, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 417), entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceedings thereunder; and making appropriations;" by authorizing injunctions against persons operating without license; exempting certain dealers from the requirement to file bond; making certain reports mandatory; enlarging the powers and duties of the commission; encouraging and providing for certain contracts between producers and dealers under prescribed conditions and subject to the approval of the commission; eliminating the requirement for the approval by the Governor of certain orders; authorizing and providing for the equalization of the return or prices to be paid to producers in markets where producers' prices are based on utilization; and changing procedure and practice on, and the right of appeal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lackawanna will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, in the issue of the Scranton Times of Wednesday afternoon there is a story on the coal bill. Part of that story reads as follows:

> "Lackawanna county's two Republican representatives, Robert J. Cordier, Scranton, and Matthew T. Knoble, Clarks Summit, are arrayed on the side of the Glen Alden Coal Company. Cordier and Knoble, unless they change their minds at the last minute, will vote for the bill. The four Lackawanna county Democrats are planning to vote against the bill.
> "Representative Martin Kenehan, North Scranton Democrat, was authority for the statement last night that Cordier asked him to vote for the bill. Kenehan declared he was unimpressed by Cordier's argument that he (Kenehan) should vote for the bill because he is employed by the Hudson Coal Company."

Mr. Speaker, I have been a representative in these halls for four terms and this is the first time that I have risen to my feet to take exception to any news story that has been sent back to Lackawanna County insofar as my activities on the floor of this House are concerned.

Whether it was a misconception on the part of the reporter who wrote this story, or whether the words of Representative Kenehan were misconstrued, I wish to state definitely that I did not at any time attempt to influence the vote of Representative Kenehan either for or against this bill. I did discuss the provisions of the legislation with him; he represents a different district than I do, but in our discussion of the bill, we merely discussed the merits and possible demerits of the legislation and when we broke up I said to him, "You use your best judgment on the measure and I will use mine."

Mr. Speaker, as further evidence of the misconception as to the position of the members from Lackawanna County on this bill, I will say that the story, insofar as it states that the four Lackawanna Democrats would vote against the bill, is untrue, because Representative Munley has just risen and stated that he voted "aye" in a loud voice on this measure, so that the Lackawanna delegation was split three and three, two Republicans and one Democrat having voted for the bill, and three Democrats voted against it.

I respectively urge the gentleman who wrote this story, for whom I have a very great deal of respect in view of the fact that he may have misconstrued the words of Representative Kenehan, that he in fairness to me print my side of the story.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. KENEHAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman form Lackawanna will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. KENEHAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier, we simply discussed the bill and he at no time tried to influence me in voting in favor of or against the bill. Thank you.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chair just what the force of a resolution, passed by the House, is requesting data from any of the state departments.

The SPEAKER. It seems that the Chair should first know to what resolution the gentleman refers.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I refer to Resolution No. 31, Serial No. 55, Printer's No. 111, introduced by Dr. Sarraf and myself, requesting a report from the Department of Health regarding the tubercular situation in the state of Pennsylvania. This resolution was referred to the Committee on March 8, reported as committed on March 21, adopted March 28 and transmitted by the Chief Clerk on March 29.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman that in the broad sense, a request to a department of the executive branch of this government does not carry with it the force of a command, nor is it enforceable in any way. The Chair would also advise the gentleman from Washington that the resolution does not carry any date upon which the department is to report. The words are, "Resolved that the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania report to the House of Representatives the following information."

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that ordinarily such a resolution does receive a response from the department to which it is directed?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say that is the usual result of resolutions asking a department for information.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, would it not be implied that such a resolution concerning the tubercular hospitals in the state of Pennsylvania, and would not ordinary common sense lead one to believe that the resolution was to be answered and the report forthcoming during the session at which it was introduced?

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the ordinary tenor of a resolution would be to expect a reply within a reasonable time. However, the Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman from Washington might direct his question to the Department itself and not to the Chair.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would be pleased to do that but after this resolution was introduced and passed by the members of this House without, I believe one dissenting vote, I naturally did not regard it as a personal matter, and during all these weeks I have been expecting to receive that report. I do feel in all fairness, and I think the Speaker will agree with me, that we should be entitled to that report without undue delay. Had I known that, I personally would be pleased to do it, but if that holds good in this case, Mr. Speaker, I cannot see but that a resolution of this House of a similar nature is just a matter of lost motion. I do feel there should be a report, and if a resolution does not mean anything, it is just taking up a great deal of time and expense of this House to have it put through. I assure you that this resolution was presented in very good faith, in order that the position of the Department of Health could be placed before the members of this House, and I do feel it is very important that the members of this House should know the real facts. We have given facts which we feel are indisputable, but the floor leader, Mr. Woodside, three weeks ago last Monday night, gave figures and stated facts that were absolutely at variance with the statements we made in previous talks, which information came from the very best authorities in the state of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Washington, that he has never conceived there was any obligation on the part of the Speaker of the House to follow up a request for information as contained in a resolution. The Chair does not believe that that has ever been the custom of any Speaker of the House.

Usually what transpires is that the members of the House have either made inquiry as to their resolutions, or as the gentleman is doing today, from the floor of the House, called attention to the fact that no answer has been received.

The Chair very well remembers in 1937 the number of requests the Chair made when he was a member on the floor, asking for information, which dragged out through the session for a considerable space of time before any answer was forthcoming. Members who are interested in a question, by their industry and diligence, generally secure the results they want.

The Chair will be very pleased, as he has done on other occasions, to direct the Clerk to make inquiry, or will himself direct a letter to the Department asking that the matter be answered, or that some reply be given to the House.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, would it be unreasonable for me to ask the Chair to instruct the Chief Clerk to secure that report by, say Monday night, when we go into session?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not feel that such a direction could be given to the Chief Clerk. The Chair will be very glad to request the Chief Clerk to inquire of the Department as to the report in response to this resolution. It seems to the Chair if the gentleman from Washington desires to have the report by Monday night, a resolution should be introduced in the House requesting the report by that date.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, according to what the Chair has stated a resolution does not carry with it very much force. I might say the reason I suggested having the Chief Clerk secure the information for the members of the House was because the resolution, according to the History, was transmitted to the Department by the Chief Clerk. I believe that is the ordinary method of procedure.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has stated to the gentleman that he believes it is perfectly proper for the Chair to request the Chief Clerk to make inquiry as to the resolution. The Chair however feels that if the gentleman wants to ask that the report be made by a certain date, that is a question for the House and not for the Chair or the Chief Clerk to determine.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I just thought perhaps it would save the time of this House, and the expense of introducing a resolution that would have to be printed, if there were some way the Chair could endeaver to secure the report for us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already indicated that he will be pleased to make inquiry and endeavor to secure the report.

Mr. HINDMAN. That will be very satisfactory, Mr. Speaker, but we would like to have the report on the floor. The members of this House are entitled to it, and I will very much appreciate any effort the Chair might see fit to make in order to secure what we regard as a very important report by Monday night.

ADDRESS BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as was suggested by the gentleman who has just spoken, a few weeks ago I gave information which was received from Dr. Shaw. Practically all that information was information which was requested by the resolution, and perhaps that is the reason why Dr. Shaw did not respond to the resolution, thinking the House already had the information. I feel sure if the gentleman had contacted either myself or the Speaker, we would certainly have gotten in touch with Dr. Shaw and gotten the information he desires. I think he should have done that before taking up the time of the House with a discussion of the matter.

ADDRESS BY MR. HINDMAN

Mr. HINDMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in reply to the statement of Mr. Woodside, the floor leader of the majority party, I would say that we absolutely never thought of going to him for this report. He did give us certain figures some three weeks ago, I believe it was last Monday, but he did not give his authority for them. He is presuming that we knew where his figures came from, but he didn't quote any authority, he just stated he had these figures. I submit, relative to the figures we quoted, we gave our authority for them, and we have given our authority right along. If you will refer to the Legislative Journal those figures are there and they will stand there.

I very well remember that Mr. Woodside made some rebuttal statement in his talk the other night, which I wished to reply to, but the hour was so late and the Speaker felt it would be better to defer it to a later date. Mr. Woodside made some statements then with which I am not in accord. He started out by saying that we did not need any additional tubercular beds. He stated if additional beds were needed when the tubercular sanatorium at Butler was completed, they would be furnished, and he wound up before he finished his talk by stating that they were not needed. He also mentioned the fact that we were trying to secure the sympathy of the members of this House. Ladies and gentlemen, I am sure so far as I am concerned, and so far as any others who have taken a similar position on this issue are concerned, we have not tried to inject any maudlin sympathy which was not proper. I submit to the members of this House, if there is any group of people under the canopy of Heaven that is entitled to the right kind of honest and true sympathy, it certainly is the great army of tuberculosis sufferers we have in this state. I made the suggestion that if Mr. Woodside felt we were not correct in what we had stated, and I repeat the statement, in all fairness this House should have a hearing to determine whether we really do need additional beds for tuberculosis patients. I suggested that we have, say half a dozen, of the leading tuberculosis authorities of this State come before this House and tell us what our tuberculosis needs are. I repeat that here this afternoon, Mr. Speaker. I feel that is a very fair proposition. I would be more than pleased to be able to have this House hear the testimony of people who are real experts on that particular subject.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, when this session opened in January, it was very evident, I am sure to all the members of the House, that it was the Speaker's desire to have us cooperate with him in having the deliberations conducted in a gentlemanly and refined manner. I want to congratulate the Speaker on the success with which he has met, and I want to congratulate the members also. I want to publicly apologize to the Speaker of the House for having gotten out of line with him this afternoon. It was necessary for the Speaker to remind me that I was interferring with the orderly conduct of the legislature.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 8 p. m. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 8 p. m.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 8 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

Section 1002 Restrictions as to Speed

(a) Any person driving a vehicle on a highway shall drive the same at a careful and prudent speed not greater than nor less than is reasonable and proper having due regard to the traffic surface and width of the highway and of any other restrictions or conditions then and there existing and no person shall drive any vehicle upon a highway at such a speed as to endanger the life limb or property of any person nor at a speed greater than will permit him to bring the vehicle to a stop within the assured clear distance ahead . . .

(b) Subject to the provisions of subsection (a) of this section speeds in excess of the maximum limits hereinafter provided shall be unlawful

1 Ten (10) miles an hour speed limit

All vehicles when passing any interurban or street car taking on or discharging passengers at an intersection where a safety zone has been established or where traffic is controlled by a peace officer or a traffic signal

2 Fifteen (15) miles an hour speed limit . . . . .

All vehicles except those restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds when passing a school building during school recess or while children or going to or leaving school during opening or closing hours

3 Twenty (20) miles an hour speed limit

All vehicles except those restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds when approaching within two hundred (200) feet of a railway grade crossing where official signs erected by the proper authorities are displayed

All vehicles except those being operated on through highways and those restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds when approaching within fifty (50) feet and in traversing an intersection of highways within a business or residence district or public park area when the driver's view is obstructed except on highways controlled at intersections by peace officer or traffic signal A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed if during the last fifty (50) feet of his approach to such intersection he does not have a clear and uninterrupted view of such intersection and of the traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection and of the traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of two hundred (200) feet from such intersection

4 Twenty-five (25) or thirty-five (35) miles an hour speed limit All vehicles except those restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds within business or residence districts or public park areas where official signs erected by the proper authorities on the right-hand side of the highway facing the traffic to be controlled or on the left-hand side of one-way streets are displayed This limit shall be observed for a distance beyond said sign for not more than one-eighth (1/8) of a mile An additional sign shall be placed at intervals not greater than one-eighth (1/8) of a mile and any extension of such limited zone shall be marked by additional signs in like manner At the end of such limited zone there shall be an official sign similarly placed as to traffic indicating the end of the limited zone

5 Thirty-five (35) miles an hour speed limit All vehicles except those restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds while using auxiliary driving lamps as provided for in section eight hundred two (b) . . .

[5] 6 Fifty (50) miles an hour speed limit All vehicles except those otherwise restricted by this act to lower maximum speeds

(c) Subject to the provisions of subsection (a) and (b) of this section it shall be unlawful for the following kind types and classes of vehicles to be operated at a greater speed than hereinafter provided

[For determining the maximum speed of a combination of vehicles the lower speed provided for either of the vehicles in the combination shall govern]

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1274, as follows:

An Act providing for the fixing and taxing of additional costs in appeals taken to the Supreme and Superior Courts

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Whereas many cases at law are appealed for the purpose of delaying the cause of justice and for the purpose of causing additional expenses to the successful party in a litigation before the lower court and

Whereas regardless of the cause of said appeals the actual effect thereof is to prolong the case and to cause considerable expense to the person or persons entitled to recovery which recovery can only be sustained by the expenditure of a considerable sum of money by the appellee to maintain the decision rendered in his favor in the lower court with the result that many persons who are entirely right in the cause before the court are compelled by financial circumstances to compromise when there is no just reason for such compromise and

Whereas unnecessary appeals confuse our higher courts thereby delaying procurement of justice by the people therefore

Section 1 Whenever any litigant in any civil case tried or heard in any court of record within the Commonwealth has been awarded a verdict or recovered judgment and such verdict or judgment has been sustained by the Supreme or Superior Court on appeal such appellate court shall fix and cause to be taxed as part of the costs to be paid by the appellant a reasonable fee for the attorney for the appellee in defending and sustaining such verdict or judgment upon such appeal

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permithimself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this bill decreases the compensation of the Chief Clerk of the House?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will that effect the salary of our present Chief Clerk?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the bill becomes effective immediately upon its enactment.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, my inquiry was whether or not it will effect the salary of the present Chief Clerk?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion it will.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the amendment to this bill also establishes the office of Secretary of the Senate?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, Secretary to the House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Secretary to the House, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. And at what salary?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Five thousand dollars a year.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to take advantage of the lateness of the hour, but I surely wish to oppose the insertion of these amendments, or any action whatsoever upon this bill. The gentleman from Dauphin, I feel sure, is in error. The present salary of our Chief Clerk cannot be reduced during the tenure of his office. Due to long established legal principles the salary of an official cannot be reduced during his tenure, and under those circumstances a reduction of the salary of the Chief Clerk will not be effective until the present incumbent dies or the tenure of his office has terminated.

Secondly, I object to these amendments because they increase to the tune of five thousand dollars the cost of operating this House, obviate the reduction in personnel that was made in the 1937 session, and increase the budget of the House to the amount specified in the bill.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with the amendments be laid upon the table so that a vote need not be taken on this measure.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?
